OF KOHLER.

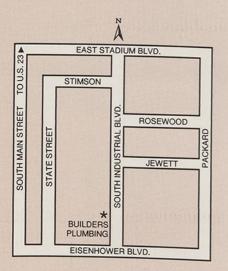

Well, look who's here. Your kindly Kohler® salesman is looking to bring you good news. And better news: Namely, his Revival™ faucet, gracefully fashioned in a unique classic style and priced (are you ready?) to be rather popular. Now, isn't that a feather in your cap? See the Yellow Pages for a Kohler Registered Showroom. For a complete product portfolio and idea book, send $8 to Kohler Co., Dept. REV, Kohler, WI 53044 or call 1–800–4–KOHLER, ext. 728.

Baby Central.

All aboard! Every year, thousands of expectant moms and dads find that St. Joe's in Ann Arbor is just the ticket for their "labor day" destination. We work hard every day to earn and keep our reputation as the place to go to have your baby. A reputation built on the high quality care of our doctors and nurses. We take pride in our low C-section rates and in our highly experienced staff who provide a range of pain management options. St. Joe's offers well-equipped, comfortable and homelike birthing rooms with Jacuzzi tubs or shower massages. Plus, we now accept SelectCare HMO and PPO (plus Care Choices HMO and lots of other insurances). We also now have a certified nurse midwife on staff.

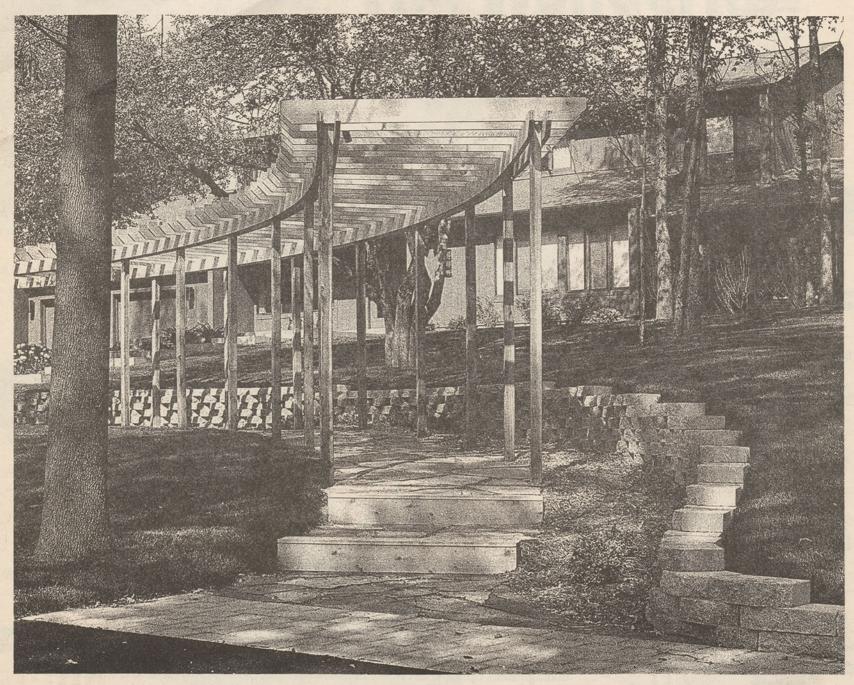

If you're pregnant or planning a new addition, see for yourself why St. Joe's has become Baby Central. (Sorry, we can't promise on-time arrivals.)

Growing Spaces

Serene and shaded walkways, inviting outside spaces, lush green grasses, gardens of living color . . . the growing places of your home. Places where children romp, friends gather and memories are made.

TerraFirma is the natural choice for every element of your home's outdoor living spaces, from decks to plantings to landscape lighting.

Our registered landscape architects and certified irrigation designers will plan and compose your living spaces to fit your home and your lifestyle. Construction of decks, retaining walls or patios will be completed by licensed builders or contractors for long-lasting results. And our conscientious maintenance crews will work hard to keep your landscape neat and trimmed.

No matter how large or small your growing space may be, you can count on TerraFirma for beautiful results. Call us today at (313)434-3811 for a consultation and cost estimate.

WHAT IF YOU OWNED YOUR OWN GROCERY STORE....

I'd fill it with fresh produce & breads, additive-free foods, some organics — the best quality foods | could find!

I'd offer foods in bulk so I could get just the amount I want — and save packaging resources. I'd offer many environmentally friendly products.

I'd offer lots of information & classes on food & nutrition and get involved in supporting local health and environment-related efforts.

People's Food Co-op is that kind of store.
We're owned by some 3000 people like you! Anyone can shop at the co-op, but

The great conservative wave that swept the nation in 1994 passed Ann Arbor by. Democrats stayed firmly in control of city council, as they have been since 1991. The balance of power, which seesawed between the parties for most of the 1980's, appears to have shifted decisively after a 1991 Democrat-controlled redistricting and a 1992 ballot initiative that moved city elections to November. Popular Republican mayor Ingrid Sheldon faces a stiff challenge from Fifth Ward Democratic council representative Chris Kolb in the November 1996 election.

So far, though, neither local party has shown much appetite for dealing with the fundamental force that is reshaping Ann Arbor's city government: a growing gap between stagnant revenues and the rising cost of providing the services Ann Arborites expect from City Hall. But most observers feel that the day of reckoning has finally arrived, and that 1996-1997 will be the year that council must decide whether to begin downsizing city government or to ask voters to raise their taxes just to maintain current service levels. With a Democratic-controlled council and a liberal Republican mayor, it might seem that a tax hike is likely to at least make the ballot. But these days, that is far from certain: even Democrats who would like to expand city government realize that their constituents already feel overburdened by property taxes.

That sensitivity to taxes—taught in years of council and millage elections—will probably always be part of the city's political landscape. The large land holdings of the University of Michigan are exempt from local taxes, which means higher taxes for everyone else. Citizens feel overtaxed—and because the city collects the entire property tax bill, it's the first place people think of when they fantasize about slashing government waste. In fact, eliminating city government entirely would reduce local property taxes by only about one-third. The rest of the taxes go to Washtenaw County and to various school authorities.

ELECTIONS

Ann Arbor holds city elections every fall on the Tuesday after the first Monday in November (1996 date: November 5). National, state, and county elections are normally held on the same day in even-numbered years. Township elections coincide with national presidential elections. School board elections are held annually on the second Monday in June (1997 date: June 9). For all elections, polls are open 7 a.m.—8 p.m.

Residents may register to vote at the city or township clerk's office, the district library, Secretary of State offices, and through volunteer deputy registers. To be eligible to vote, you must register your local address at least 30 days before an election. After registering, you will receive information by mail about where to vote. (For more information, see city and township clerk listings, on p. 25.)

Primary elections for city, township, county, state, and national offices are held in August preceding the November general vote. In primary elections, voters currently may vote for the candidates in one party only. Also, in even-numbered years both political parties hold nominating conventions after the August primary to nominate candidates for state education boards (e.g., the U-M board of regents), lieutenant governor (if it is a gubernatorial election year), state supreme court justices, secretary of state, and attorney general. Would-be precinct delegates to the nominating conventions can file a petition with the county clerk. For more information, call the county Democratic Party headquarters (998-0345) or the county Republican Party headquarters (971–4622)

ANN ARBOR CITY GOVERNMENT

WHO TO CALL

City Hall is located at 100 N. Fifth Ave., at Huron. The mailing address is P.O. Box 8647, AA 48107.

The city maintains an automated Citizen Information Line, with recorded directions to City Hall and recorded information about common functions of various city government departments. The number is 994–HELP (994–4357), and you will need a Touch-Tone phone. For a list of topics currently covered, along with their three-digit codes, see box, p. 23.

For general information, call the information desk, 994–2700. If you have a question about a specific city service, call the department that provides it. The main functions of each department are outlined below, and a brief index of services and phone numbers is on page 24. Complaints about city services or employees are handled by the city clerk's office (994–2725). If you want to see changes made in any city law, rule, or procedure, call your city council representatives (see p. 25).

People with disabilities who need assistance with city services can call 994–2700 (TDD-equipped). With advance notice, the city will provide braille or voice-recorded documents to the blind (this can take up to two weeks) and interpreters for the deaf at public meetings.

CITY COUNCIL AND MAYOR

For information about City Council and issues currently before it, call 994–2725. The council message line (994–3313) will relay your questions or comments to a specific council person. To learn who your representatives are, see the ward map and the list of current council members on p. 25.

City council adopts the city's annual budget and determines city laws and policies. It is made up of 11 members: two from each of the city's five wards, plus the mayor. Serving on council is considered a part-time job: council members receive just $8,800 per year for their work.

Council members serve staggered two-year terms, so one seat in each ward is up for grabs in a partisan election every fall. The last six years have seen council shift from a Republican majority to a 7–4 Democratic majority. But despite Ann Arborites' reputation for a high level of political involvement, council elections tend to generate little interest and low turnouts.

Regular city council meetings are held at 7:30 p.m. on the first and third Mondays of every month, in the council chambers on the second floor of City Hall. Additional special or working sessions usually take place on the second and fourth Mondays of the month. Citizens are welcome to attend both the meetings and the working sessions. Meetings are telecast live on the city's cable Channel 10 and repeated twice each week (see Media, p. 177).

The two party caucuses meet together at 7:30 p.m. the Sunday before scheduled council meetings, in the second-floor conference room above the fire station (across Fifth Ave. from City Hall). Caucus meetings are open to the public and provide a better forum than council meetings for citizens who want to talk directly with council members.

The public is welcome to speak to council, at the beginning of each council meeting, but only eight four-minute slots are available. You can sign up for one of these slots by calling the city clerk's office (994–2725) beginning at 8 a.m. the day of the meeting. Would-be speakers should call early: slots often fill by 8:10 a.m. Speakers must announce the subject of their address when they sign up. Also, without having to sign up in advance, members of the public may address council at the end of council meetings, usually around midnight. Public hearings, at which anyone can speak without advance notice for up to five minutes, are held during council meetings on many proposed council actions. The agendas for council meetings and notices of public hearings are published in the Ann Arbor News the Saturday before each meeting.

Mayor, third floor, City Hall. 994–2766.

Mayor, third floor, City Hall. 994–2766. The mayor, elected in a partisan election every two years, presides over and is a voting member of city council. Republican Ingrid Sheldon was elected in April 1993 (in the city's last April election) and reelected in November 1994. The mayor appoints council committees, has the power to veto most council actions, has certain police powers in the case of an emergency, and acts as ceremonial head of the city. The office of mayor is designated as a parttime position and pays $16,500 a year.

Sheldon, termed "a marryin' mayor" by one of her staff, has performed many weddings since assuming office. The cost is $25, and under state law the mayor is authorized to preside over ceremonies within the city limits only. Call Mayor Sheldon's office to make arrangements.

To become a member of any of about 50 city boards, committees, or commissions, request an application from the mayor's office. The city clerk's office maintains a list of all such groups that have openings.

CITY ADMINISTRATION

Ann Arbor's city government faces a perennial space crunch, with offices often spilling over into the mostly vacant City Center Building catercorner across Huron from City Hall.

City Administrator, third floor, City Hall. 994–2650. Ann Arbor's administrator, Neal Berlin, is responsible for seeing that the city bureaucracy carries out the policies established by council. He prepares an annual budget for adoption by council, and city department heads answer to him, either directly or through another department head.

Accounting Division, fifth floor, City Hall. 994–2730. This division of the Finance Department is headed by Karen Lancaster. It manages the city's money and provides citizens with information on bond issues and the city's general financial condition.

Assessor, fifth floor, City Hall. 994–2663. This division of the Finance Department, headed by Jim Rushton, keeps tax and ownership histories of Ann Arbor real estate. Property taxes are based on an assessed value determined by this office; by state law, the assessed value is supposed to equal one-half the current market value of the property. However, under Proposal A, passed by Michigan's voters in April 1994, assessment increases are limited to 5 percent or the rate of increase in the Consumer Price Index, whichever is lower. After sale or transfer of the property, assessments are adjusted to 50 percent of market value.

Every year, the city assessor reviews the assessed value of all residential and commercial properties in the city. If a home owner wants to contest an assessment, or cannot afford to pay the full tax, he or she can appeal to the council-appointed Board of Review. The six-member board forms two panels that hear appeals once a year for at least four days, starting on the third Monday in March. Residents may address the board in person; nonresident property owners, seniors, or homebound people may mail their appeals to the assessor's office. The board also has the power to increase the amount of an assessment being appealed, and does so occasionally.

Anyone who has recently purchased a home or paid off a mortgage should fill out a property transfer affidavit (available through the assessor's office) within 45 days. Failure to do this will result in a penalty of $5 per day over 45 days, up to a maximum of $200.

The assessor's office can assist seniors and low-income families in applying for a Home-stead Tax Credit when they file their state income tax returns.

Businesses that are opening or closing should contact the city assessor about personal property taxes. Despite the name, the personal property tax is levied only on businesses.

City Attorney, third floor, City Hall. 994–2670. Acting City Attorney Abigail Elias provides legal advice to city council and city officials, prepares legal documents, represents the city and its officials in lawsuits, and prosecutes violations of city ordinances. If you have a question about the legality of something you want to do—or about something your neighbor is doing—as it pertains to the city code, call the city attorney. (To lodge a complaint against someone you believe is violating the city code, call the police.)

City Clerk, second floor, City Hall. 994-2725. City Clerk Winnie Northcross and her staff provide a variety of services to the public and to city council. The office issues licenses for bicycles ($2.50 one-time fee) and dogs ($10 for up to two years); local handicapped parking (short-term, loading zones within city limits only, no charge-state handicapped permits are available from Secretary of State offices), however, the office encourages people to get the state handicapped permits instead; and going-out-of-business permits ($110 for 30 days, renewable twice). Applicants must submit serial numbers for a bike license; state license plate numbers and a doctor's statement certifying disability for a handicapped parking permit; a rabies certificate for a dog license. This office no longer issues peddler's licenses; contact the Building Department instead. Most other licenses and permits are issued by the city's Central Permit Desk (994-2674); see Planning and Building, p. 22.

Domestic partnership certificates also fall under the city clerk's jurisdiction. Certificates allow couples who cannot or choose not to marry a way to publicly express their commitment, but they create no legal rights or benefits. To register under the domestic partnership ordinance, just pick up an application at this office, sign it in the presence of two witnesses, and get it notarized (the notary can be one witness). The charge is $20 for city residents and $25 for those outside the city.

This office also maintains records of city council acts (including members' voting records), which can be inspected by the public. Copies can be made for 25¢ a page. People who wish to speak at a city council meeting can reserve a time slot by calling the city clerk on the day of the meeting (see City Council, above). The city code and charter are available for inspection and copying at this office. Copies of the charter cost $3 apiece.

Ann Arbor residents can register to vote at the city clerk's office, at a Michigan Secretary of State office, or at any branch of the public library. If you are disabled or homebound, you can call the clerk's office to request a mail-in registration form.

A division of the city clerk's office, the Public Information Office (994-1766) publishes the city's newsletter, For the People. It also handles complaints and questions about compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act. If a city-owned building is not in compliance with the ADA, and someone complains, the problem will be addressed immediately. If a complaint is lodged against a lot owned by the city, it will be turned over to the Building Department, which will attempt to act as a mediator to resolve the complaint. The city is not legally bound to force city residents to comply with the ADA. For general information about city government, call the information desk (994-2700).

Office of Cable Communications, 425 S. Main, suite LL 114. 994–1833. Under cable administrator Harry (Hap) Haasch, this office, a division of the city clerk's office, regulates cable television locally and oversees the city's Community Television Network cable-access channels. It deals primarily with consumer issues and complaints. The Cable Communications Commission—the policy-making body for CTN—meets the fourth Tuesday of every month. Due to CTN's recent move from the Central Fire Station to its Main Street office, a meeting location site has not yet been set; call for information. When openings are available, applications for cable commission membership can be picked up at the mayor's office. The city's cable provider, Continental Cablevision, can be reached at 973–2266, and the phone number for the Community Television Network is 769–7422; for full information, see Media, p. 177.

Risk Management, fifth floor, City Hall. 994–6693. This office is headed by the city's risk manager, Dan Cullen. Anyone who wishes to file an insurance claim against the city (for example, if you believe your car has sustained damage from an encounter with one of Ann Arbor's infamous potholes) should call this office. It also handles all employee benefits and all workers' compensation claims for city employees and is responsible for the city's liability and property insurance coverage. A safety officer from this office conducts safety training for city employees.

Treasurer, first floor, City Hall. 994–2833. This division of the Finance Department is headed by Brenda L. Smith. The office is responsible for collecting city revenues, which include property taxes, parking fines, water and sewer bills, and all invoices generated by city departments. Citizens can pay their bills at the cashier's window in the lobby, at the drive-up window located on the north side of City Hall, or by using the drop box located at the south entrance (near the police information desk). Parking Referees are available for those who wish to contest parking violation citations; see Parking and Transportation, p. 27. Call 994–9172 for hours and more information.

Property taxes are billed twice a year—in July and December. Property owners with approved homestead exemptions were taxed at a rate of $33.5296 per $1,000 assessed value in summer 1996. All non-homestead property owners were taxed at a rate of $38.4229 per $1,000 assessed value.

During the months of July and December, taxes may be paid at participating local Ann Arbor banks. Bills for summer property taxes not paid by the July 31 deadline increase by 1 percent if paid during August. The penalty climbs to 5 percent if the bill is paid during September or October. After October, unpaid summer taxes, plus penalties, are added to winter bills. Winter bills are due December 31; they go up 1 percent if paid in January and 2 percent if paid in February. The county assumes responsibility for collecting outstanding property taxes that are not paid by March 1.

POLICE AND FIRE

Police Department, first floor, City Hall. Emergency: call 911 anywhere in Washtenaw County. Ann Arbor residents will automatically be connected to the city's police and fire departments. The 911 phone number has multiple lines, so don't be reluctant to use it. It can be used in any situation, even nonemergency, which requires a car response. For situations that do not require a car response and other nonemergencies, call 994–2911. The complaint desk number is 994–2875; this is also the number to call to check on the status of towed vehicles.

Led by Chief Carl Ent, the Ann Arbor Police Department functions 24 hours a day, seven days a week. A community policing system assigns a pair of detectives, a uniformed district coordinator, and a civilian community service assistant to each of four districts of the city. These officers handle all incidents occurring in that district except domestic violence and youth-related calls. Community policing offices are located at the Traver Village shopping center, 2605 Plymouth (994–8107); 501 N. Maple (994–8365); 3022 Packard (971–8038); and Mason Hall room G-417 on the U-M campus (764–6113). The North Maple, Traver Village, and Packard offices are open Tues.—Thurs. 3–7 p.m.; Fri. 9 a.m.—1 p.m.; Sat. 8 a.m.-4 p.m. (Packard 9 a.m.-4 p.m.). The U-M office is operated jointly by the city and university police forces and serves area businesses as well as students. It's open Mon.-Fri. 8 a.m.-6 p.m. and Sat. 8 a.m.-4 p.m.

CURBSIDE COLLECTION TRASH & RECYCLABLES

The youth and family services unit (994–2710) handles all incidents involving domestic violence or children. An officer from this unit can also address youth groups or talk to concerned parents. Other police numbers: special investigations unit (994–1839); embezzlement and fraud unit (994–2661).

In addition to law enforcement, the Police Department serves as a catchall for services that the city's other departments do not provide. Lost and found is on the first floor of City Hall (994–2874). The department holds a police auction twice a year, or whenever the volume of found or confiscated goods becomes large. Auction dates are posted at City Hall and sometimes advertised in local media.

To find out how to take part in the Neighborhood Watch crime prevention program, call 994–8775. The Office of Disaster Preparedness (24-hour line, 761–2425) supplements police in the event of a disaster and notifies the public. For animal control, call 911 (emergency) or 994–2911.

Safety Town (994–2242 or 994–1973), which takes place at Wines Elementary School, is offered every year in late June and early July to teach incoming kindergarten children about pedestrian, playground, and bicycle safety.

The crime prevention officer (994–2979) will survey your home and point out possible security weaknesses free of charge. The same advice is provided to businesses. The crime prevention office also runs the department's sexual assault awareness program (994–8779), which sends speakers to schools, professional groups, and community groups.

Fire Department, 111 N. Fifth Ave. 994-2772 (for emergencies, call 911). Fire Chief: George Markus. The Ann Arbor Fire Department operates within Ann Arbor city limits. In cooperation with the public schools, fire prevention programs are conducted for children in grades three through six. The Fire Department owns a portable fire safety house that is used to educate adults and children on how to exit a smoke-filled home, school, or workplace. The house is equipped with plenty of safe, nontoxic smoke. Talks on fire safety are also conducted in the house. Fire station tours are available by appointment year-round. Tours can be scheduled for 11 a.m. and after 4 p.m. daily and anytime on the weekend (call 994-4976). The tour policy may change in fall of 1996; call for current information. The department also routinely provides fire inspections of commercial properties and all new buildings, ensures that fire lanes are maintained during special events (such as the notoriously crowded Art Fair), and investigates all fires of a suspicious nature.

Cats stuck in trees are on their own. But, advises one fireman, they'll eventually come down of their own accord if whatever caused their flight is removed. "I've never found a cat skeleton in a tree," he says.

GENERAL CITY SERVICES

Engineering Department, fourth floor, City Hall. 994-2744. Chief Engineer Sabah Yousif . and his staff design and oversee new city subdivisions, road construction and resurfacing projects, and environmental projects, including the city's now-closed landfill. Residents of an area of the city that lacks an adequate sewer or a paved street can request improvements from this office or from the Utilities Department. (Requests should be made in writing and mailed to the appropriate department at P.O. Box 8647, AA 48107.) All work must be approved by city council. Do not call this office to report potholes (call 99-HOLES) or streets and sidewalks needing repair (call the Transportation Division, 994-2818).

Forestry and Horticulture Division, 415 W. Washington St. 994–2769. City Forester Bill Lawrence and his crew from the Forestry Division of the Department of Parks and Recreation plant trees on lawn extensions and care for them at no charge. The Horticulture crew plants and maintains all public flower and shrub beds. Trees are planted in the fall and the spring each year. Home owners who want a tree larger than those normally supplied can have one planted on their lawn extension at an additional cost. Call by March for spring plantings, by August for fall plantings. The Forestry Division also inspects public and private trees for disease, cares for the public ones, and provides advice for the owners of private ones for a $25 fee. Tree clinics (no charge; call for location) are held once a month in May, June. and July in city parks. Foresters examine leaves, bark, or twigs brought to the clinics and provide information and advice. Specimens may also be brought to the Forestry Office for diagnosis.

Department of Parks and Recreation, sixth floor, City Hall. 994–2780. Under Parks Superintendent Ron Olson, this department runs the city parks, swimming pools, golf courses, and ice rinks as well as the skateboard ramp at Veterans Park, several community centers, and assorted other facilities. Brochures describing park facilities are published in early spring and early fall and mailed to all Ann Arbor households. For more information on city parks and recreational facilities and programs, see Recreation, p. 125.

Reservations for park shelters may be made in this office. Applications must be made a week in advance and be accompanied by a nonrefundable fee; call for current fee information. The city does not allow alcohol in any city park without a permit; if you intend to drink, request permission when you reserve the park shelter or picnic area.

Solid Waste Department, third floor, City Center Bldg., 220 E. Huron. 994–2807, 99–GREEN. Directed by John Newman, this department coordinates the weekly and special collection of trash and the seasonal collection of yard waste and Christmas trees. It also provides commercial recycling services and oversees curbside recycling. See map, p. 20, for weekly trash and recycling pickup dates in your neighborhood. Trash must be placed at the curb in 30-35-gallon maximum capacity cans or plastic bags that weigh up to 50 pounds each. Persons with a physical handicap can arrange to have garbage containers carried to the street at no charge. Yard waste is collected from April 1 through November 30. Use 30-35-gallon containers with a "compostable" sticker on them (available from this department) or 30-gallon paper bags. Brush and tree limbs up to 6 inches in diameter must be cut into 3-4-foot lengths and tied into bundles up to 18 inches in diameter or 50 pounds in weight. Plastic bags are not accepted for yard waste. During the fall, street leaf pickup is coordinated by the Transportation Division (see below). Large items, including furniture and appliances, are collected by appointment. Fees are $15 for most appliances ("white goods") and $30 for each 4 cubic yards of other debris. Call to arrange pickup. (Many large items may also be disposed of at Browning Ferris Industries' large landfill at the corner of Six Mile and Napier roads in Salem Township. The cost to dispose of such items as mattresses is $10. Take Pontiac Trail north to Six Mile and turn right; continue until you smell the landfill and turn right on Napier to reach the entrance.)

The Resource Recovery Center, 4120 Platt, 994–2723, accepts old appliances (fee: $15), bulk materials (fee: $25/cubic yard), and yard waste (no charge to residents). Municipally produced compost is sold at $1/bushel or $12/cubic yard. Limited amounts of wood mulch are available.

Recycling services for all Ann Arbor residents and most city businesses are coordinated by the Solid Waste Department (24-hour information line: 99–GREEN). General recycling guidelines are listed in the ad on p. 18. At this writing, recycling collection is currently contracted to Recycle Ann Arbor (call 662–6288 for service problems). A city-owned Materials Recovery Facility (MRF) opened in August 1995, operated by Resource Recovery Systems of Centerbrook, Connecticut. The MRF offers residents easier preparation of 30 types of recyclables. You can visit the MRF during monthly open houses and prearranged group tours.

Residents can now recycle most paper products in their tan recycling bins without any separation or bundling for newspapers, magazines, "junk mail," phone books, paper-back books, paper bags, and corrugated card-board. Windowed envelopes are acceptable, but please do not add any plastic materials, rice paper, or treated fax paper. Also, you can now recycle textiles (place them in labeled plastic bags) and boxboard, also called "gray-board" (cereal boxes, tissue boxes, toilet paper rolls, and the like—bundle or bag them separately from other papers).

Acceptable in the green "Containers" recycling bin are glass containers, metal cans, foil, pie plates, household ceramics, plastic bottles marked #1, #2, and #3, empty aerosol cans, milk cartons, and juice boxes. Household scrap metal up to one square foot in area and 20 pounds in weight is also acceptable.

Business recycling collection is available: call 994–2807 (city) for information. Twice a year, the Solid Waste Department sends a newsletter on recycling and solid waste collection to all city households.

Transportation Division, fourth floor, City Hall. 994-2818. This division of the Public Service Department, managed by John Avendt, provides a variety of services. It oversees onstreet parking and those few surface lots not managed under contract by National Garages (for a complete downtown parking guide map, see Parking and Transportation, p. 27) and maintains the city airport grounds. It also coordinates leaf pickup, scheduled twice for each neighborhood in the fall, and snow removal from most streets when necessary in the winter (sidewalk snow removal is the responsibility of the property owner). Leaves should be raked into the street for pickup during the fall only. Dates of leaf removal are listed in the Ann Arbor News and in For the People (the city's newsletter) and shown on local cable television. The rest of the year, yard waste is collected by the city's composting program (see Solid Waste Department, above).

For emergency street cleaning, such as for broken glass, call 994–1617 weekdays till 2:30 p.m. (after that call 994–2818) or 994–2911 (the Police Department) weekends.

Street and sidewalk maintenance. For pothole repair, call 99-HOLES. For fallen street signs or sidewalk repair, call 994-2818.

Streetlights and traffic signals. For inoperative streetlights or traffic signals, call 994–2818. Neighbors can petition to request additional streetlights and traffic signals. The city welcomes streetlight requests but fulfills only a limited number due to budget limitations; there is currently a waiting list. On-street parking modifications can also be requested by petition.

Utilities Department, fifth floor, City Hall. 994-2666. For after-hours emergencies, call 994-2840. This department, headed by Frank Porta, provides water, sewer, and storm water service to Ann Arbor and parts of the surrounding townships. It also offers emergency services (for water-main breaks, for instance) 24 hours a day. Residents of an area of the city that lacks an adequate sewer or a paved street can request improvements from this office or from the Engineering Department (994-2744). For all Ann Arbor buildings, water costs $1.60 per 100 cubic feet (about 750 gallons). Sanitary sewer service costs $1.97 per 100 cubic feet. Storm water service costs $11.20 per quarter per dwelling unit for single family and duplex residences. There is a 10 percent discount on your bill if you pay by the due date.

GOVERNMENT

994–2674. Department Head Larry Pickel (994–2712) and his staff enforce city building codes, inspect rental property, manage four city appeal boards, and issue permits and licenses. The Building Department is divided into six divisions: Central Permit Desk, Housing Inspection Bureau, Plan Review, Construction Inspection Division, Appeals, and Historic Preservation Coordinator.

and Historic Preservation Coordinator.
The Central Permit Desk (994–2674) issues permits related to construction activity. Other permits issued by this office include noise, sidewalk occupancy/barricade, parade, rallies, competitive events, street closings (including block parties), and permits to work in the public right-of-way. In addition, this desk conducts exams and issues licenses for workers in various skilled construction occupations, including appliance and sewer installers, and journey and master electricians. Licenses for peddlers and solicitors (including charitable organizations) are also administered by this division. Permits for construction are obtained by submitting an application form (available at this desk) and two drawings of the proposed work. Applications are reviewed for compliance with code and safety requirements. Building permit fees are based on the cost of the project. Homeowners must file an affidavit affirming they are doing the work themselves and meet with inspectors to demonstrate an understanding of the work to be done.

The Housing Inspection Bureau (994–2678) routinely inspects all rental properties on an approximate cycle of once every 30 months. Tenants may request inspections based on specific complaints or problems. Buildings not in compliance with the City's Housing Ordinance will not be certified and cannot legally be rented or occupied. Rental property owners must live within 30 miles of the city or have a local agent.

The Plan Review Division (994–2674) reviews all plans for any proposed construction activity. The city has adopted the BOCA National Codes as well as the National Electrical Code. This division also reviews plans for conformance to the State Barrier Free Design Rules and for Zoning (994-2697) compliance.

The Construction Inspection Division (994-2674) inspects all permitted construction within the city. Building permits are required for any new construction, alterations, additions, garages/carports, decks, fences, sheds, or any repairs estimated to cost more than $600. Permits are also required for the installation of all new electrical, plumbing, and heating/refrigeration work. Inspections are usually made within 24 hours of request. This division also performs grading and site compliance (994-2711) inspections and handles complaints related to drainage nuisances and grading/soil erosion.

The Appeals Board (994–2696) secretaries administer the four Boards of Appeal: Building, Housing, Sign, and Zoning. Property owners can file a substantiated claim for waiver from the code requirements with the Building Department. Boards are empowered to reject requests after discussion at a monthly public hearing.

The Historic Preservation Coordinator, Louisa Pieper, also works out of the Building Department (996–3008). The coordinator acts as a liaison between owners of historic buildings and the Historic District Commission. The commission administers 14 historic districts, including the Old West Side, the Old Fourth Ward, Washtenaw/Hill, Main Street, State Street, and a Landmark Historic District. It has jurisdiction over buildings that have been designated as historic sites and deliberates proposed changes to the exteriors of those buildings. Commission personnel also have a vast knowledge of the histories of city buildings and obligingly handle inquiries about them. The commission meets in city council chambers (second floor of City Hall) at 7:30 p.m. on the second Thursday of every month. The public is welcome, and the meetings are telecast live and replayed on cable Channel 10.

Planning Department, sixth floor, City Hall. 994–2800. The Planning Department, headed by Karen Popek Hart, acts as the administrative staff for the Planning Commission, a ninemember citizen body appointed by the mayor and city council. The commission makes recommendations to council on proposed site plans, zoning changes, and modifications of the city's master plan. All commission actions include at least one public hearing.

Council usually follows Planning Commission recommendations, but sometimes overrules it on controversial issues. The commission has final say on minor modifications for site plans and on special-exception uses (such as sorority houses in a residential zone) as defined by city zoning ordinances. The department makes demographic and census information available to the public and sells the city's basic planning documents for a small fee ($2-$10). In addition, planning staff is sometimes available to make presentations to local groups.

Individuals concerned about a development proposal are encouraged to call, stop by, or write to the Planning Department. You can also state your concerns or objections when the Planning Commission holds its public hearing on the issue. Strong debate is common at these hearings. Public hearings and action meetings are held the first and third Tuesdays of every month at 7 p.m. in council chambers (second floor). These meetings are telecast on cable Channel 10, and agendas are published in the Ann Arbor News (the Sunday before the meeting) and telecast over Channel 10 beginning the Thursday before the meeting. A working session is held the second Tuesday of every month at 7 p.m. in City Hall's fourthfloor conference room.

HUMAN SERVICES

Community Development Department, third floor, City Center Bldg., 220 E. Huron. 994-2912. Under director Eileen Ryan, this office provides funds for a number of community development and service projects. Low-income home owners, nonprofits, and landlords who rent to low-income families can apply for low-cost loans for home improvements at this office. Community development also handles city funding of public social services, including legal aid, emergency food programs, crisis intervention, dental services, child care scholarships, and services for seniors, the homeless, and the mentally ill. Contact the office for a list of currently funded programs. About half of the money for these programs comes from the city's general fund; currently, at least, the other half comes from federal block grants.

Housing Commission, 727 Miller Ave. (Miller Manor). 994-2828. Commissionowned housing is available to seniors, people with disabilities, and low-income families. The commission has recently moved some applicants into housing from its waiting lists, which in past years have entailed waiting times of up to a year. The commission accepts applications at times announced in the classified section of the Ann Arbor News and on the city's cable Channel 10. Rent is set at 30 percent of a tenant's income. Miller Manor, at 727 Miller Rd., has 105 apartments for seniors and persons with disabilities and Baker Commons, at 106 Packard, has about 64. Housing for families and people with disabilities is spread across the city, often in duplexes and townhouses with two to four bedrooms per unit. The commission runs about 340 units in all. This office also handles the Section 8 federal subsidy program, under which tenants pay 30 percent (or more, depending on the apartment and HUD's price guidelines) of their adjusted gross income for rent of privately owned apartments. Again, check the News classifieds for application dates.

Human Resources Department, Suite 340, City Center Bldg., 220 E. Huron. 994–2803. The Personnel Division takes applications for all city jobs. New city job openings are posted every Tuesday afternoon. (Cable Channel 10 also displays job announcements on the message generator during off-air time.) A 24-hour job line also has updated information about current job openings (994–8106). Advice on equal opportunity employment for adults and youths is also available. The Human Rights Division handles complaints about discrimination in employment, housing, and public accommodation and other violations of the city human rights ordinance. A separate seven-member Human Rights Commission, appointed by the mayor and city council, monitors problems with discrimination in Ann Arbor and makes recommendations to council and other bodies (such as the school board or the U-M) on ways to eliminate it.

Begging. "No person shall beg in any public or private place." Tickets are issued to those caught breaking this law, but patrollers suspect that offenders merely stop temporarily when police are in the area.

Boom boxes. In city parks, it is illegal to "use any device transmitting electronically amplified sound, including, but not limited to, radios [and] tape recorders."

Cars and pedestrians. Except where it is specifically prohibited, turning right on a red light is legal after stopping and yielding to pedestrians and oncoming vehicles. It is legal to turn left on a red light onto a one-way street under the same circumstances.

The Scio Township Hall on Zeeb Road.

It is illegal to drive past stopped school buses that are displaying two alternating flashing red lights. It is legal for pedestrians to cross the street on a red light or a "don't walk" signal as long as there is no danger or obstruction of traffic. It is illegal to get into or out of a vehicle that is moving. It is illegal to drive "in such a manner as to splash snow, rain, water, mud, dirt, or debris" onto pedestrians.

Domestic violence. Ann Arbor's domestic violence law requires police to arrest people suspected of spousal abuse if there is reasonable cause to believe the abuse took place, without requiring that the other spouse press charges and without waiting for a complaint. Both of the people involved are offered counseling.

Landlords and tenants. The city produces a booklet entitled Rights and Duties of Tenants. City law requires that landlords distribute it to their tenants; failure to do so is punishable by fines of up to $500. The booklet outlines city tenancy laws, reflecting in its composition the succession of Democratic and Republican administrations that have governed Ann Arbor in recent years: one section was written by "tenant advocates," and a rebuttal from "landlord advocates" was added later.

Landscaping. Home owners are prohibited from growing vegetation (such as hedges) higher than 36 inches if that vegetation is within 25 feet of an intersection. Trees within that distance must be trimmed to provide clear vision of the intersection. No weeds, grass, or "other vegetation" higher than 16 inches is allowed to cover a lawn, or the city will mow your lawn for you—and give you the bill. "Fences charged or connected with an electrical current" are prohibited.

Liquor. The city code states that "[no] person shall consume liquor on the public streets" or in any business not licensed for on-premises liquor consumption. Certain events with outdoor liquor sales are exempt. Alcohol is not allowed in any city park unless a permit is obtained in advance.

Marijuana. Under the provisions of a charter amendment passed by voters in April 1990, possession of small amounts of marijuana (one ounce is a rule-of-thumb limit in general use by the city government and police) is a civil infraction carrying a penalty of $25 for the first offense, $50 for the second offense, and not less than $100 for the third offense. State law makes possession or sale of any amount of the drug a criminal offense. The City of Ann Arbor can choose to follow either its own law or the state law, according to its judgment in any individual case, so the above fines don't always apply. On U-M property, the university's police force follows state law.

Pets. Dog owners must have their dogs under "reasonable control" (that is, leashed or confined) at all times. They are also required to clean up after their dogs on both public and private property. Owners of all pets must provide proper food, drink, and shelter from the weather for their animals, as well as the medical attention necessary to prevent the animals from suffering. Animals may not be left confined without adequate ventilation. This includes being left inside a car with the windows up.

Roller skates, sleds, coasting wagons, toy vehicles, or "similar devices" are not allowed on streets, except to cross. Bikes on the roads before sunrise or more than half an hour after sunset must have headlights and rear reflectors, and "every bicycle shall be equipped with at least one effective brake." City council also has banned skateboarding in city parking structures, in Liberty Plaza, and on certain downtown sidewalks. The U-M Diag is off-limits to skateboarders as well.

Post Offices and Secretary of State Offices

Ann Arbor's main post office is located at 2075 W. Stadium. 665–1100. Last pickup Monday through Saturday is at 6 p.m. The lobby is open 24 hours, and there's a machine (usually working) that not only weighs your parcels but also prints stamps in any denomination and accepts payment in anything from pennies to $20 bills.

Branch post offices are located on Liberty at Fifth Ave. in downtown Ann Arbor (665–1112); in the Nickels Arcade (300 Maynard, 665–1117); and at 3000 Green. (665–1118).

A tip: If you need zip code or mailing information, calling the main post office (665–1100) will often get you nothing more than a busy signal. Try one of the small post offices in the county's outlying towns: Dexter (426–4747), Chelsea (475–1441), Saline (429–7550), Whitmore Lake (449–2061), Willis (461–9700), or others.

Driver's licenses and auto registration are handled by the Michigan Secretary of State. Ann Arbor has two offices: 2121 W. Stadium in Boulevard Plaza (665–0627) and 2730 Carpenter (971–8705).

COURT SYSTEM

General information about the judicial system is available toll-free anywhere in Michigan through Tele-Court, (800) 968–5669, an information line funded by the State Judicial Institute and administered by the State Court Administrative Office. Via Touch-Tone or rotary phone, citizens can learn about the state's various courts, jury duty, victims' rights, wills, and many other issues.

U.S. Courts, 200 E. Liberty, in the Federal Building. 741–2380 (clerk of court). The U.S. District Court hears all civil and criminal cases involving federal law, and civil cases between citizens of different states in which the suit is more than $50,000. (Suits for less are handled in the state court system.) Most of the appointed federal district judges for southeastern Michigan serve in Detroit. Judge George La Plata is the designated judge for Ann Arbor. Magistrate Judge Steven Pepe also serves the District Court for Ann Arbor. The Federal Building also houses the U.S. Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals, which hears appeals of federal district court decisions. Judge Ralph B. Guy Jr. presides. Judge Charles W. Joiner is the senior district court judge.

Circuit Court, 101 E. Huron. 994–2550. The five-judge 22nd Circuit Court is the general jurisdiction trial court for Washtenaw County. Presiding judges are Melinda Morris (994–2551), Donald E. Shelton (994–2553), Patrick J. Conlin (994–2552), Kurtis T. Wilder (994–2554), and Karl V. Fink (994–2555). Circuit court judges are elected for six-year terms; Conlin and Shelton are up for reelection November 1996; Wilder in 1998; Fink and Morris in 2000.

The circuit court has a broad range of authority in criminal, civil, and domestic relations cases. It has jurisdiction over all criminal felonies in the county, all civil cases in which the amount in dispute exceeds $10,000, domestic relations cases, (including divorces), and equity jurisdiction matters. The court also hears appeals of cases from state district court. The 22nd Circuit Court is one of four pilot sites currently authorized by the Michigan Supreme Court to design and implement a unified court system that clears away jurisdictional boundaries between district, probate, and circuit courts.

Friend of the Court. General: 994–2466. Account information: 994–9261 (automated Touch-Tone line; have your case number ready). The Friend of the Court assists the circuit court in domestic relations cases; investigates and makes recommendations in contested child custody, visitation, and support cases; enforces support and visitation provisions ordered by the court; and mediates in child custody and visitation disputes. Child support payments may be made at First of America Banks in Ann Arbor, Dexter, Manchester, Saline, Whitmore Lake, and Ypsilanti.

Circuit Court Probation. 994–2530. A unit of the Michigan Department of Corrections, this office provides support services to the circuit court judges, including pre-sentencing investigations, supervision of people assigned to do community service, probation, delay of sentence, and electronic monitoring.

Probate Court. Estate and Mental Health Division, 101 E. Huron. 994-2474. Juvenile Court Division, 2270 Platt. 971-2240. The probate courts operate on the county level and, in general, hear cases concerning those who cannot care for themselves-the mentally ill, orphaned and dependent children, juvenile delinquents, and the estates of those who have died. The Estate and Mental Health Division, John Kirkendall presiding, settles the estates of those who have died, determines inheritance tax, appoints guardians for minors and legally incapacitated persons, and decides whether people are mentally ill and require hospitalization. This division also handles marriage ceremonies and change-of-name hearings and is a depository for wills. Judge Nancy Francis holds court in the Juvenile Court Division (971-2240), which hears cases concerning children under the age of 17. The court investigates cases to determine the measures necessary to protect and treat children in their own homes, and in group homes, foster homes, or restraint facilities. It also authorizes adoptions (971-2639) and hears juvenile driving-violation cases. Juvenile court also provides parenting classes, youth sex-offender treatment, sports and summer camps, and family programs. The operation of the Juvenile Detention Home and alternatives to detention are under the authority of the county Board of Commissioners (see p. 21).

District Courts, first floor, County Courthouse, 101 E. Huron. 994–2740. District Court No. 15, handling cases within the city of Ann Arbor, includes the Civil Division (994–2749); the Criminal Division (994–2747), which also covers drunk driving cases; the Probation Department (994–2751); and Traffic Violations (994–2745). For information on jury duty call 994–8247. Judges are elected to six-year terms. Judges Elizabeth Pollard Hines (office: 994–2757), Ann Mattson (994–2759), and Timothy P. Connors (994–2660) preside.

ANN ARBOR CITIZENS INFORMATION LINE 994-HELP

The city's new automated information line, 994-HELP (994-4357) provides recorded information about city government twenty-four hours a day. From a Touch Tone phone, dial 994-HELP. At the voice prompt, enter any of the three-digit codes listed below to hear a message about that city service.

Small-Claims Court (994-2749) is a section of the civil division of the district court. Suits are restricted to claims under $1,750, with a limit of $500 for car accident claims. Suits can be handled without a lawyer by filling out a claim form (25¢ each), reading the provided pamphlet, paying a fee ($17 for claims under $600 and $32 for larger claims, plus a certified mail fee of $5.50 to serve an individual, $3 to serve a business), and appearing on the scheduled court date. A wait of about one month for a court date is common. Landlord-tenant disputes over security deposits and other money matters can sometimes be tried without lawyers, depending on the details of the case. There is a $32-$84 fee, and disputes filed by Wednesday are generally heard the following

Washtenaw County Government

The general information line for Washtenaw County is 994–2400. TDD relay service for the hearing impaired: 994–1733. The county's mailing address is P.O. Box 8645, AA 48107.

County offices are scattered throughout Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti. Downtown Ann Arbor locations include the County Courthouse at 101 E. Huron, the County Administration Building at 220 N. Main, and the Courthouse Annex at 110 N. Fourth Ave. The Sheriff's Department is in the Service Center at 2201 Hogback and all Human Services groups are located in Ypsilanti, at 555 Towner.

This is a guide to the structure of county government. Specific county services are also listed in Community Services (p. 107), Health Care (p. 89), and Recreation (p. 125).

Washtenaw County, one of the first counties in Michigan, was established in 1822 and fully organized by 1827. An agent of the state government, the county government carries out responsibilities of the state. But it also has independent executive and, in a few cases, legislative powers.

The county has overlapping jurisdiction with the governments of the cities and townships within it. For instance, Ann Arbor has its own city charter and its own police force. Although the county Sheriff's Department provides law enforcement for the entire county, it usually is active only in areas that do not have their own police forces. The county does, however, prosecute all crimes that fall under state law, such as murder or arson. County government also carries out state law by issuing marriage licenses, recording births and deaths, and conducting the circuit courts, which operate under state laws. The county funds departments that provide services to all citizens, such as the Human Services Group and the Department of Social Services.

Board of Commissioners, 220 N. Main. Commission information: 996–3055. Agenda information tape: 994–2401. The chief policy-making body of county government, the board has 15 members, elected to two-year terms. (For a list of commissioners, see Elected Officials, p. 21.) Their duties include the adoption of countywide ordinances; oversight of county operations and facilities; adoption of the annual budget for county government, including all county departments; apportionment of property taxes for the operation of county government; and establishment of and appointments to county boards, committees, and commissions. Commission working sessions are held the first and third Thursdays of the month at 6:30 p.m.; board meetings are first and third Wednesdays at 6:45 p.m., preceded by a ways and means committee meeting at 6:30 p.m. In summer, all meetings are held the first week of the month only. If holidays interfere with this schedule, call 996-3055 for new meeting times.

County Administrator, 220 N. Main. 994–6451. Appointed by the board of commissioners, administrator Bob Guenzel is responsible for the overall management of county departments, agencies, and offices. This includes the financial duties formerly handled by the controller. The county administrator also assists the board with policy making and acts as a liaison with other units of government.

County Clerk/Register of Deeds, 101 E. Huron. 994–1638. This combined office is headed by an elected official, currently Peggy Haines. She will seek reelection November 1996. She and her staff maintain official county records (births, deaths, marriages, divorces, military discharges, business names, concealed weapons permits); provide administrative services in the issuance of passports; provide administrative assistance to the county and serve as clerk of circuit court; monitor the conduct of elections; and maintain all county property records.

Marriage licenses are $20 ($30 for out-of-state residents). A health certificate (available from local physicians and clinics), a valid driver's license or state ID, a certified birth certificate, and a divorce certificate (if one of the partners has been divorced within the last year) are among the necessary documents; call 994–6592 for a recording listing current license requirements.

County Law Library, 101 E. Huron, basement. This small library houses a collection of state and federal cases and statutes. It is open to judges, lawyers, and persons doing business with the courts. Patrons should know their way around a law library because there is no librarian. Open during courthouse hours (generally 9 a.m.–5 p.m.).

County Treasurer, 101 E. Huron. 994–2520. The custodian of county funds, treasurer Lawrence A. Gass (up for reelection November 1996) receives county revenues (taxes and fees), invests funds, collects delinquent property taxes, collects inheritance taxes, keeps records of tax histories, and sells tax liens against real estate on which taxes have gone unpaid for at least three years. For dog license information outside the city of Ann Arbor, call this office.

Drain Commissioner, 110 N. Fourth Ave., Suite 202. 994–2525. The elected Drain Commissioner Janis Bobrin (up for reelection November 1996), handles problems such as pollution and storm-water management and develops water and land use strategies for flood and erosion control. The drain commissioner has jurisdiction over many urban and most outlying storm drains and waterways within the county and is responsible for preventing or abating storm-drain pollution, providing information on water quality to the public, and responding to pollution emergencies.

Emergency Management, 2201 Hogback Rd. Business: 971–1152. Emergency: 911. This office, managed by Marc Breckenridge, coordinates the dissemination of vital information during emergencies, including severe weather, fires, floods, and spills of hazardous materials, and responds to large-scale disasters in the county. When necessary, the office works cooperatively with the city's Disaster Preparedness Office (761–2425) to provide mutual aid and resources. Emergency Management also serves as an advisory source to the Emergency Broadcast System, the county apex of which is WAAM Radio, 1600 AM. County residents should tune to WAAM for information during an emergency.

Environment and Infrastructure Services, 110 N. Fourth Ave., Suite 200. 994–6361. Environmental Health: 971–4542. Building Inspection: 971–1441. Consumer Protection: 971–6054. This office, managed by Rebecca A. Head, provides public health and safety services. Environmental Health inspects public buildings and facilities outside the city of Ann Arbor for water supply and sewer disposal, does radon and other indoor air testing, and runs the Home Toxics Reduction Program for hazardous household waste (971–7356). Building Inspection performs electrical, mechanical, and plumbing inspections and provides soil erosion control.

Human Resources, 220 N. Main. County job openings are posted in the first-floor lobby of this building, and applications are available too. New postings go up every Monday. This is an excellent place to find temporary summer jobs at such places as county recreation facilities. The job line (994–2409) is a recorded list of available jobs.

Planning Department, 110 N. Fourth Ave., fourth floor. 994-2435. Planning Director Mark McFadden and his staff provide services to both the county administrator and the Washtenaw County Metropolitan Planning Commission. The department offers professional planning advice to the administrator and to county departments and agencies, and serves as the staff for the planning commissioners (who are appointed by the board of commissioners for three-year terms). With the planning commissioners, the department develops master plans for county land use and undertakes surveys of the economic, social, environmental, and physical development of the county. The office is also an official U.S. Census repository and provides census information (at a small fee) to citizens, organizations, businesses, and developers.

The county's Historic District Commission (994–2435) is also housed in this office. The seven-member commission is headed by administrative coordinator Eve Wuttke and is charged with preserving sites of historic importance in Washtenaw County. It often takes calls inquiring into the history of sites outside the city of Ann Arbor. The commission also maintains the state-designated historic sites within the county.

Prosecuting Attorney, 101 E. Huron. 994–2380. Prosecuting attorney Brian L. Mackie and his assistants are responsible for the prosecution of criminal cases in the county that fall under state law. The prosecutor, an elected official, is the chief law enforcement officer for the county. Mackie will run for reelection in November 1996. The prosecutor must authorize, in writing, any criminal prosecution. The prosecutor also represents all children in divorce cases, enforces child support, and handles juvenile court administrative matters. Call 994–2385 for questions about child support. Staff of the Victim Witness Assistance Program (996–3026) inform victims of their rights and about the status of their cases.

Public Defender, 101 E. Huron. 994–2444. Reporting to the board of commissioners, Public Defender Lloyd Powell and his staff provide legal counsel to indigent and partially indigent people facing charges in criminal or civil cases, including felonies, juvenile cases, and civil Friend of the Court child support and contempt proceedings. The public defender is appointed by the courts and does not take outside cases.

Public Works, 110 N. Fourth Ave. 994–2398. The Division of Public Works in the Office of Environmental and Infrastructure Services, supervised by Daniel Myers, manages county programs involving solid waste disposal. It also assists local units of government in meeting future water and waste-water treatment needs throughout the county, oversees the county's recycling program, and provides information on recycling and composting.

Road Commission, 555 N. Zeeb, P.O. Box 1528, AA 48106. 761–1500. Although the streets in many new suburban developments are privately owned, most paved and dirt roads in outlying areas of the county are still maintained by road commission personnel and their managing director, Robert L. Polens.

Sheriff, 2201 Hogback Rd. 971–8400. For all emergencies, call 911. Jail information: 971–8426. Sheriff Ron Schebil, an elected official, enforces all criminal, civil, and traffic laws of the county and conducts investigations of unusual, violent, or accidental deaths. Schebil will seek reelection in November 1996. The sheriff executes the orders of the courts, arrests and detains accused offenders, manages the county jail facilities, and coordinates various law enforcement activities of the county and the state. The sheriff provides support and coordination to local police departments, which may duplicate some of the sheriff's duties. In outlying areas of the county, the Sheriff's Department responds to calls for assistance and provides uniformed road patrols.

TOWNSHIP GOVERNMENTS

The townships surrounding Ann Arbor have all grown explosively in recent years. At times they have squabbled with the city over the linked issues of development, annexation, and utilities. The various townships maintain different levels of services, leaving Washtenaw County to provide the ones they don't offer. Significant portions of three neighboring townships are included in the Ann Arbor Public School District:

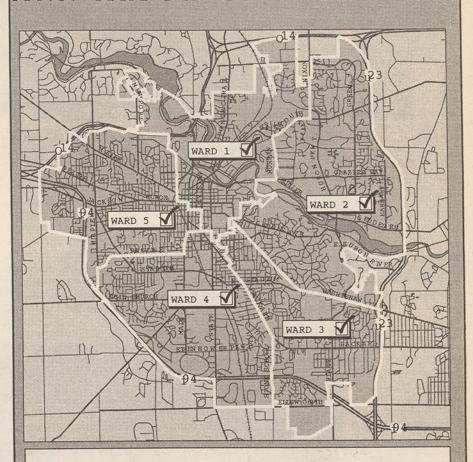

Ann Arbor Township, offices at 3792 Pontiac Tr. 663–3418. Police and fire: call 911. The township employs a full-time police officer, contracted through the county Sheriff's Department. To reach this officer on nonemergency matters, call the township offices at 663–3418. Other services: Assessor, 663–1699; Building Inspector, 663–1855; Rubbish/Recyclables Collection, 663–3418; Treasurer, 663–1699; and Utilities, 663–1855.

Lodi Township, offices at 3755 Pleasant Lake Rd. 665–7583, 665–3212 (fax). Police and fire: call 911. For nonemergency police calls, call the county sheriff, 971–8400. Township officials: Supervisor, 665–9082 (Erwin Frederick); Clerk, 665–3094 (Elaine E. Masters); Treasurer 662–8012 (Walter W. Lindemann).

Pittsfield Township, offices at 6201 W. Michigan. 944–4440. Police and fire: call 911. The nonemergency police and fire number is 944–4911 (public safety). Other services: Assessor, 944–1430; Building Dept., 944–1740; Clerk, 944–1637; Planning Commission, 944–0470; Recreation Dept. (the township maintains several parks), 996–3056; Treasurer, 944–3140; Utilities, 944–1325 (for water and sewer emergencies after hours, call 944–4440); and Supervisor, 944–1148.

Scio Township, offices at 827 N. Zeeb Rd. 665–2123. Police and fire: call 911. The non-emergency number for the Fire Department is 665–6001. The county sheriff's office number is 971–8400; the Scio sheriff's substation is 994–8109. The Township Hall houses Assessor's, Clerk's, and Treasurer's offices; the Development Authority and Planning Commission; and Utilities and Zoning offices. All can be reached at 665–2123. Township residents may deposit recyclables at the 24-hour drop-off station behind the township offices.

ANN ARBOR CITY COUNCIL

City Council members are elected to two-year terms in staggered elections: one council person from each ward runs yearly. To learn the names of your current council representatives, find your neighborhood on the above map, or call 994–2885. All council members whose terms expire in November 1996, including the mayor, are running for reelection.

If you cannot reach council members at the phone numbers listed below, the council message line (994–3313) can relay your concerns.

Ann Arbor leases all of its parking structures and its three largest parking lots (Ashley at William, the Public Library lot, and Huron-Ashley) to the Downtown Development Authority. The DDA, in turn, has a management and rehabilitation contract with a private company, National Garages. National Garages provides attended operation for all of the lots and structures it manages. This not only allows parkers to avoid expired meters and the tickets that go with them, but it also allows downtown merchants to validate their customers' parking coupons. Approximately 100 stores, restaurants, and theaters currently do this.

Parking close to the U-M's Central Campus is very scarce. Visitors to the U-M and shoppers on South University need extra time and patience to find a convenient space. But the big William–Fourth Ave. and Ann-Ashley structures downtown are rarely filled, and they're only about ten minutes' walk from campus.

Public transportation in Ann Arbor is funded through a dedicated millage for the Ann Arbor Transportation Authority (AATA).

In addition to an extensive bus line system, the millage funds a wide variety of late-night, senior, and handicapped transportation alternatives.

CITY PARKING

PARKING LOTS AND STRUCTURES

See map on p. 29.

Three major surface lots and six city parking structures are managed by National Garages (761–7235). The structure at Washington and First is exclusively for holders of monthly parking permits during the day, but is open to the public after 5 p.m. and on weekends. The Ann Arbor Parking Operations Office, 994–2707, continues to supervise all smaller metered lots.

City lots and structures are designated by white signs with a large green P inside a green circle. About half the city-owned spaces are generally occupied all day by monthly parking permit holders (see below).

City council continues to set parking rates, and no increases have been scheduled. Attended and metered structures cost 50¢ an hour or 25¢ a half-hour. Lot parking costs 60¢ an hour. Hours of operation are posted at each facility. Typical hours are 7 a.m.—3 a.m.

CITY PARKING METERS

The city's 1,513 metered curbside spaces in the downtown-campus area cost 60¢ an hour. Most on-street meters need to be fed between 8 a.m. and 6 p.m. Monday through Saturday. Pay attention to the maximum time allowed by the meter (the longest time you are allowed to park there). Returning to feed the meter for time beyond that limit may result in a ticket.

For a small fee and a deposit, metered parking spaces can be reserved for private occasions such as weddings. Call 994–2707. Businesses can also temporarily reserve spaces for construction access or other needs.

PARKING VIOLATIONS

The fine for an expired meter is $3 if paid within one hour, $5 if paid within two weeks. Beyond two weeks, the cost jumps to $15, and it can go as high as $25 if the ticket is ignored. (Tickets issued at U-M meters cost more; see below.) Other penalties, including additional fines and auto impoundment, are invoked if a driver has four or more unpaid tickets in default. Fines for most other parking violations are $15 if paid within two weeks. The fine is $75 for parking in a handicapped parking zone. Violating city snow-removal parking decrees brings a fine of $30 or more.

The Parking Violations Bureau, on the first floor of City Hall, is open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays. Pay parking tickets by mail or drop them off at the drive-through window (9 a.m.-4 p.m.) on the north side of City Hall. To pay expired-meter fines within the one-hour time limit during nonbusiness hours, go to the first floor of City Hall (open 24 hours), where there is a time stamp and a drop box. Visa and MasterCard are now accepted for payment of parking tickets and city towing fees. Payment can be made by phone. Have your credit card

AATA

A ride on the Ride

Bus 1, Escort 0

At 8:45 a.m., the day was bright and still cool. Just a quick spin into town in my eight-year-old Escort and I'd find my special parking spot three short blocks from work. That was the plan, at least, until that same, previously trustworthy little red Escort decided it had had enough. It stopped dead on Packard Road.

A tow truck hauled me to the Shell station at the corner of Washtenaw and Huron Parkway, where a mechanic offered to perform open-heart surgery at a discouraging price. I knew I had to get to work eventually. A call to my son home from college was an exercise in futility. (Did you know college students are nocturnal?)

Relief, fortunately, was as close as the AATA sign just across the street. My shoe strap broke loose as I crossed the street. Flapping, I joined a gentleman at the stop just as the Number 4 arrived.

The driver held my dollar as I took my seat behind her. Seventy-five cents would have bought me the ride, but I didn't have any change. Her hand over the fare box, the driver asked the gentleman boarding behind me, "Got change?" At his "Nope" she let him drop his token into the box. I warmed, realizing she'd tried to get change for me.

This wasn't so bad. The huge, sparkling clean windows gave a bright airy feel to the bus, far from the dank, gum-strewn coach of my youth. There was no need to watch traffic, so I could instead enjoy the sights. We pulled into a funny loop-the-loop bus stop behind the new Huron Valley Girl Scouts office on Manchester, then proceeded past the stately Hoover mansion, empress of Washtenaw, the newly shined faces of fraternity row, and then a turn up Observatory past the stone gatehouse of Forest Hill Cemetery. I mused at Observatory's ivy-covered dorms, unchanged since my mother-in-law lived there fifty years ago. Then back onto Huron, where, rounding the derriere of the Rackham Building, we approached that lovely strip of Victorians-turned-offices between Thayer and State.

A bus ride is perfect for indulging in people watching. One passenger only lifted her eyes from her book when distracted by the guffaws of the conversation behind her. Across the aisle was a wiry Hispanic fellow carrying a pool cue case. We were Asian, Italian, Greek, black, and white and ranged in age from a newborn to semi-skinhead teens to elderly women, yet everyone seemed to share a relaxed, comfortable demeanor.

We turned left on State (I can't do that in my Escort), then turned again onto Washington. "Why is she going out of the way?" I fretted, becoming restless. "Doesn't she know I need to get to work?" But the meandering neighborhood routing allows an AATA bus to pass within a quarter mile of 93 percent of Ann Arbor's households. My brisk stroll to the office from the bus stop just north of the Ann Arbor Theater was about as far as I would have walked from my prime parking spot.

By the time I got to work I'd nearly forgotten the broken old car, having enjoyed the city tour. Even if your personal wheels are running perfectly, the Ride is an easy way to gain a fresh perspective.

number and your violation number handy and wait one to two days after receiving the ticket to make sure the data has been entered into the system.

Tickets can be appealed to the Parking Violations Referee, in person or by mail, by claiming unusual circumstances and providing an explanation. The referee will investigate the claim and issue a ruling. About 30 percent of all appealed tickets are waived or reduced by the referee, but don't expect to have an expired-meter fine dismissed because a meeting or class let out late! Determined challengers can appeal decisions to district court.

PARKING PERILS

Ann Arbor enforces its parking laws aggressively, so it pays to be aware of a few perils of the local system. Backing cars into the spaces in lots or structures is not allowed. It is illegal to park at a meter longer than the number of hours the meter is set to measure. In the central business district, parking is not allowed between 3 a.m. and 6 a.m., to allow for street cleaning. Straddling two street parking spaces or parking on the dividing line in a parking lot can earn a ticket. You may also be ticketed if you park more than 12 inches from the curb, or if you park fewer than four feet from a curb cut. As noted above, the city regularly tows and impounds cars whose drivers have four or more parking tickets in default. Cars that appear to be abandoned may be tagged with a towing sticker: if they aren't moved within 48 hours, they may be towed and impounded.

HANDICAPPED PARKING

Handicapped parking spaces in public and private lots are set aside for use only by vehicles with handicapped permits or license plates. These spaces are usually marked with the symbol of a person in a wheelchair. As of May 1, 1996, meter fees must be paid even by those with handicapped status. A secondary sticker is required to avoid paying meters. Documentation of inability to pay is required.

The Michigan Secretary of State (offices at 2121 W. Stadium and 2730 Carpenter) issues handicapped permits and license plates for the permanently disabled. An application must be completed by the handicapped individual's physician. Applications are available at either of the Secretary of State offices.

The city issues a temporary handicapped sticker of its own. It's available at the city clerk's office on the second floor of City Hall and requires a physician's statement certifying disability. The sticker is valid only within the city limits and is not recognized by the U-M, even in its hospital lots. City personnel advise acquiring the state permit instead.

PARKING PERMITS

Parking permits allow all-day parking in specific lots and structures in the city system, although they do not guarantee the availability of parking spaces. National Garages now manages the parking permits for all available city spaces with the exception of the lot at First and William (see below). Permits for National Garages—managed spaces cost $60 a month ($65 for nonresidents). All permit parkers also need a key-card, for which a refundable $15 deposit is charged. Permits are issued on a first-come, first-served basis, and availability of spaces changes daily. National Garages advises individuals to call for space availability before applying. Applications and initial payment for these spaces must be made at the National Garages office (761–7235) on the first floor of the Ann-Ashley parking structure, 220 N. Ashley, between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. or by appointment.

The cost of a permit in the city-managed lot at First and William is only $40 a month ($45 for nonresidents). Call the city's Parking Operations Office (994–2707) for permit availability, which is limited. Permits for this lot must be purchased at Parking Operations Headquarters, 415 W. Washington (second floor), during the first and last weeks of the month (Mon.–Fri. 7 a.m.–3:30 p.m.).

U-M PARKING

U-M Parking Services, 508 Thompson. 764-8291. University parking facilities are identified by marquee signs posted at the entrance of each lot and structure. They indicate the location number, parking tier (see below), permits required, and enforcement hours. If visitor parking is permitted, this will be indicated also. The U-M has metered visitor spaces spread throughout all the campuses. The U-M meter rate is 50¢ an hour. On central campus, a good place to search for short-term parking is at the metered visitor lot adjacent to the Thompson Street parking structure. There are also 2,000 cashier-controlled visitor spaces in the Taubman (Medical Campus) and Fletcher (Central Campus) parking structures. Hourly fees at the Taubman structure total $4.50 per day; at Fletcher $5 per day. No reservations are accepted for these facilities.

University police patrol the parking system and issue parking citations, payable to the City of Ann Arbor. Under contract with the university, the city handles all appeals and payment for university parking citations forwarding collections to the U-M. Tickets issued at U-M meters are $5 if paid within one hour, $7 if paid within two weeks. The fee increases to $15 after 14 days. Parking citations issued if you park without a permit in university faculty/staff parking areas are $17. The fee increases to $25 after 14 days. Handicapped space violations are $100.

Effective September 1, 1996, the University will implement a new color-coded parking system. Users may choose from among five tiers of parking access: gold, blue, yellow, orange, and green, ranging from all access (gold: $862) to least access (green: free). Tiers are priced according to parking proximity to campus core areas and user convenience. Two styles of permits are offered: hang tag or static cling; either style allows easy transfer of the permit from one vehicle to another. Eligibility for permits is determined by University job classification. Eligible employees may pay for parking permits by payroll deduction, cash, check, or credit card (Visa/MasterCard). Employees who make full payment at the time of purchase receive a 5 percent discount.

Green permits are available any time for registered students, staff, and temporaries. Green areas are located on North Campus (at Glazier Way and Huron Parkway) and south of Central Campus (at Kipke and on South State). Free bus transportation is provided by University Transportation Services or the AATA. Presentation of a valid U-M identification card is required to ride free from the South State lot.

The U-M student parking permit fee is $203-$474 per year, depending on lot location (students will mostly be eligible only for yellow and orange stickers). The permits go on sale September 5, 1996, from 6 to 9 p.m. at the Parking Services office located at 508 Thompson. Permits are issued on a first-come, first-served basis. Students must furnish proof of their enrollment.

AIRPORTS AND AIRPORT TRANSPORTATION

Ann Arbor Airport, State and Ellsworth roads. 994-2841. Ann Arbor Airport is the ninth-busiest airport in Michigan, with over 100,000 takeoffs and landings annually. Operating 24 hours, the airport handles business, corporate, and private flights and provides air ambulance service, flight instruction, fixedwing air charter service, and helicopter charter service. Repairs, service, fuel, and hangar rentals are available. A 24-hour courtesy phone in the terminal building lobby connects directly to area hotels, cab services, and aviation services. The airport is located south of the city, near the Briarwood business district. Access to downtown Ann Arbor is available by bus, taxi, limousine, or prearranged car

Detroit Metropolitan Wayne County Airport (DTW). (313) 942–3550. "Metro" is a major airport (over 29 million passengers in 1995) offering regional, national, and international flights. It's a hub for Northwest Airlines and is serviced by 13 other regularly scheduled domestic airlines and a number of charters and air taxis. International flights are handled by KLM and British Airways, as well as Northwest's international service. For specific flight information, call the individual airlines or a travel agent.

Metro is located off I-94 at the Merriman exit, approximately 25 miles east of Ann Arbor. The Merriman Rd.-Metro Airport exit lets out onto Rogell, which circles Metro's facilities. The International Terminal is the first one on the right (turn right at the traffic light). The International Terminal handles few international departures, although most international arrivals are processed there. Just past that turnoff, Rogell splits into upper and lower levels. The upper roadway goes to departure/drop-off areas and the lower goes to arrival/pickup areas. The first building on both levels is the modern, concrete Davey Terminal (north terminal), occupied by Northwest and KLM. Just beyond that is the Marriott Hotel, and at the south end of the Rogell loop is the old, turquoise L. C. Smith Terminal (south terminal), which houses all other domestic airlines servicing Metro.

Metro Airport provides 11,500 parking spaces. For up-to-the-minute traffic and parking conditions, Metro offers a 24-hour, toll-free parking hotline: (800) 642–1978. It is advisable to call, especially during busy holiday seasons. Metro also provides radio parking information at 920 on the AM dial, heard well from I-94. Over 250,000 cars park at Metro each month.

To save money and hassle, be sure you are parking in the type of lot appropriate for your trip. Because it charges hourly rates and is located closest to the terminal buildings, short-term parking is convenient for brief visits, such as dropping off or picking up passengers; it is extremely expensive for long-term or overnight parking. There are a few metered spaces along the curb; they collect a punishing 25¢ for five minutes but are great for really quick stops. The most economical flat-rate parking at Metro can be found in the Green and Yellow long-term lots off Rogell (follow the signs), at $6 per day. All parking lots at Metro provide free shuttle service to the terminal buildings.

A popular option is the parking deck, because it is covered and offers hourly rates for up to six hours and a flat rate of $10 per day. Pedestrian bridges to the terminal buildings are glass-enclosed, temperature-controlled, and equipped with moving walkways. Luggage cart rental is available inside the deck ($1.50), so you can wheel your luggage all the way into the terminal and return the cart at an inside rack. Signs within and around the deck now direct you to parking areas close to the terminal that serve your particular airline.

Valet parking for an $18 daily flat rate is available off inbound Rogell just past the traffic light at the entrance to the Yellow lot. Ten percent discounts are available for corporations that register with the valet service in advance: call (313) 942–4865. Handicapped parking at Metro is available with wheelchair-equipped vans that meet you at your car upon arrival and at the terminal upon return. Call to arrange service: (313) 941–6855.

There are four private parking lots with over 13,000 parking spaces on Middlebelt and Wickham, north of I-94, with quick 24-hour shuttle service to Metro terminals (vans circulate through the lots more or less continuously). Cost is between $5.20 and $6.20 per day, including taxes. Contact Park and Go, (313) 729–3999; Airlines Parking, (313) 728–6066; U.S. Park, (313) 946–9360; or Express Parking, (313) 326–4530. Express offers an AAA discount. A free parking lot brochure is available from Metro's Community Relations office: (313) 942–3558.

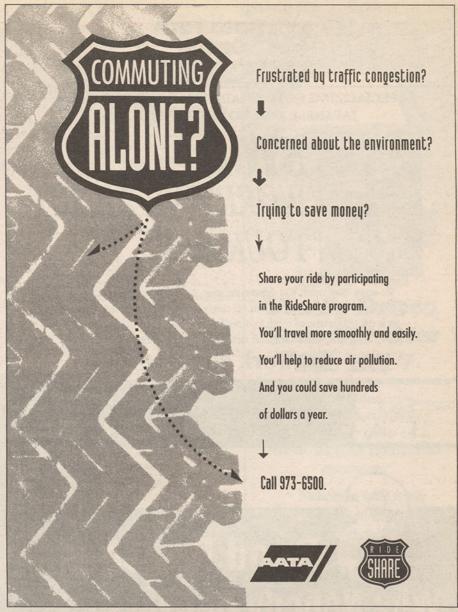

Transportation to Metro from Ann Arbor is provided by the Commuter Transportation Company, (800) 488-7433 or 763-8587 (U-M Michigan Union Ticket Office). Dark blue vans and large white buses with an airplane insignia on the side provide service seven days a week between Metro Airport and all area hotels and motels. Reservations are required for pickup from hotels and must be made one day or, at the very latest, three hours in advance. With reservations, transportation from Ann Arbor to Metro is available until 8:50 p.m. At least one van leaves from the U-M Michigan Union every hour on the quarter-hour from 5:15 a.m. to 7:15 p.m. (After 7:15 p.m., the Union stop is made only by prior reservation.) From Metro, vans leave both the north and south terminals (lower level) once every hour from 7 a.m. to midnight. No reservations are required for travel from the airport to Ann Arbor. The one-way trip takes about an hour and 15 minutes. Tickets can be purchased at the U-M Michigan Union Ticket Office (basement level) for $14 one-way or $26 round-trip (this office does not accept credit cards). At most area hotels, or at Metro, tickets are $15 oneway or $27 round-trip.

Door-to-door transportation to Metro is provided by Transit Passenger Services, 769–2135. Service is available by reservation only, between 7 a.m. and 9:30 p.m. The rate for a whole van for as many people as can fit is $35, making this a deal for families or students traveling in groups. All three local limousine companies (see below) offer service to and from Metro Airport at costs that vary depending on the type of vehicle and the company hired.

For a more elegant ride, Acme Limo (665–8283) provides town car service to the airport for $35. With 24 hours notice, Acme will deliver up to four riders to Metro. Service is available 24 hours a day.

BICYCLE TRANSPORTATION

It's possible to reach almost any part of the city on the marked network of street, sidewalk, and park bike lanes and paths. (See map on p. 127.) The city has bike lockers at three locations: City Hall, the Amtrak Depot, and the Fourth and Washington parking structure. Lockers offer bike commuters a low-cost way ($45 for the whole year) to keep their bikes safe and dry while at work. Call the city's Bicycle Program at 971–5471 for bike locker rental information. The city's Bicycle Master Plan, adopted in 1992, outlines goals to further enhance bicycle travel and safety through lowcost construction and maintenance of bicycle facilities, safety education programs, and improved enforcement of current bicycle laws. Contact the assistant city bicycle coordinator, Curt Dombrowski (971-5471), with questions or suggestions.

Bicycle registration is required in Ann Arbor. The lifetime fee is $2.50, and you can register at the city clerk's office (City Hall) or at bicycle shops around town. Report stolen bicycles to the Ann Arbor Police Department (994–2875). Bicyclists must give pedestrians the right of way and follow the same laws as motorized vehicles when riding on the street, including coming to complete stops at all stop signs and using a headlight after dark. Cyclists can be and are ticketed for ignoring these rules. The Department of Parks and Recreation's Bicycle Program (971-5471) offers bicycle safety courses, effective cycling classes, and maintenance clinics. Call for more information. Bicycle rental is available at Gallup Park (662-9319).

The Student Bike Shop at 607 S. Forest (662-6986) offers bike rentals for time periods from two hours to one month. A cash deposit

BUSES

Ann Arbor Bus Depot, 116 W. Huron. 662-5511. Open Mon.-Sat. 7:45 a.m.-6:45 p.m. Closed Sundays and holidays (buses do operate on those days, but tickets must be purchased in advance). Greyhound Bus Lines operates out of this terminal, providing service throughout Michigan and the U.S. Call for a schedule of arrivals and departures. The bus depot accepts all major credit cards, but not personal checks. (One-way and round-trip fares to Detroit are $7 and $14; Chicago fares are $27 and $54.)

Ann Arbor Transportation Authority (AATA), Blake Transit Center, 331 S. Fourth Ave. 996-0400. Open Mon.-Fri. 7:30 a.m.-9:30 p.m.; Sat. noon-6:15 p.m. (opens at 8 a.m. during the winter). AATA Headquarters, 2700 S. Industrial Hwy. (See AATA map, p. 31; call 973-6500). Open weekdays 8 a.m.-5 p.m. The city's primary means of public transit, AATA buses run along 13 Ann Arbor routes, eight routes within Ypsilanti, several shuttles, and three routes between the two cities, carrying over four million passengers a year. An AATA local route is within a quarter mile of 93 percent of all Ann Arbor residents. The fare is 75¢ (dollar bills are accepted, but no change is given), and transfers, good for 45 minutes, are free (request transfers when boarding). Children under five ride free. A bag of ten tokens costs $6.50 and an unlimited-ride monthly pass costs $25. A student semester pass (grades K-12) is $50. Tokens and passes are available at the Blake Transit Center, AATA headquarters, and at some area businesses and banks. Half-fare ID cards are available to handicapped persons, seniors ages 60-64, students (grades K-12), and low-income persons. Seniors age 65 or older can ride free with a Good As Gold AATA ID card. Service hours for most routes are 6:45 a.m.-10:15 p.m. weekdays and 8 a.m.-6:15 p.m. weekends. There is no bus service on major holidays. For information on routes, schedules, and discount fares, call 996-0400 (24

M-Card users in the U-M Medical Campus area are currently involved in a pilot program enabling them to pay AATA fares using their debit card. AATA plans to make the service available on all routes by early 1997 and will issue a similar "smart card" that will be available to all riders.

Chelsea-Dexter-Ann Arbor Express (AATA). 996–0400. Small buses run between Chelsea, Dexter, and Ann Arbor. The fare is $1.75 between Ann Arbor and Chelsea and $1 for all other trips. Transfers to AATA local routes are free. AATA half-fare cards are honored. Hours: Mon.-Fri. 6:50 a.m.-7 p.m. hourly; Sat. 8:45 a.m.-5:20 p.m. (two inbound and two outbound trips). On Saturdays the route ends at the Dexter Library and does not continue on to Chelsea. No Sunday service.

Football Ride (AATA). 996-0400. The AATA provides service between area hotels and Michigan Stadium on home football Saturdays. Call for more information. Some AATA routes are detoured on football Saturdays: routes 4, 6, 7, 8, 13, 14, and 15.

University of Michigan Bus System. 764-3427. The University reorganized its bus service in April 1996, aiming to eliminate some redundancy and provide more frequent service. All route service is free for faculty, staff, and students-no pass is required to ride. The main bus stop for all routes is on Central Campus, at the large curb cuts on Geddes Ave. outside or across from the Exhibit Museum. The new Commuter route runs at ten-minute intervals, serving all commuter parking. Starting at the Crisler Arena parking lot, the route travels north through the Athletic Campus, and on to Central Campus, the Medical Center, and the Engineering Complex on North Campus. Southbound, the route starts from the Glazier Way commuter lot, passing most of the same stops. Hours of service on this route are Mon.-Fri. 6:40 a.m.-7:00 p.m. Commuter route buses do not operate during holiday periods. Bursley-Baits buses run Sept.-Apr. and connect the Bursley and Baits housing facilities with the Medical Center and the main bus stop on Central Campus. Northwood buses connect the Northwood housing facilities with the Medical Center and the main bus stop on Central Campus while also providing service to various North Campus lots. Both the Bursley-Baits route and the Northwood route run at ten- to 20-minute intervals between 7 a.m. and midnight. The North Campus route is a combination of the Bursley-Baits and Northwood routes and provides evening, weekend, and holiday service to North Campus. On weekdays, this route begins shortly after midnight and runs until 2 a.m. During weekends and holiday periods, service is provided generally at 20-minute intervals from 7 a.m. until 2 a.m. (3 a.m. Fri. & Sat.). During university holiday periods, except Christmas recess, the North Campus weekend schedule is in effect. For Christmas recess service information, call U-M Transportation Services at 764-3427. Route schedules are available on all buses and at most campus information centers.

DRIVE-AWAYS

For a low-cost trip, try a drive-away company. When Mr. and Mrs. Snowbird go to Florida or Arizona for the winter, they fly. Rather than rent a car when they get there, they hire a drive-away company to transport their own car. The company contracts with private individuals to drive that car. Result: Sam or Sally Student gets a trip to Florida for the cost of gas. California, Florida, Arizona, and Seattle are popular destinations. Though return drive-aways can be arranged, this is usually a one-way arrangement. A security deposit (about $200) is required, and you must be 21 and provide names and addresses of references. Try A-1 Auto Travel-Transport Co. Inc. (313-527-8400) or check the Yellow Pages for other listings under "Automobile Transporters."

LIMOUSINES

The slimousine companies are located in Ann Arbor: Arbor Limousine Service (663–5959), Executive Limousine (971–9240), and Golden Limousine (668–8282). Vans, town cars, and stretch limos are available at an average cost of $40–$75 per hour. Flat rate for service to Metro Airport. Limo services suggest looking at the car before renting since quality varies in this unregulated industry.

For other private transportation services, see the Yellow Pages.

TAXIS

Four local taxi companies offer 24-hour service to Metro Airport ($26-$35 from downtown Ann Arbor), or service to any destination (New York City may be the record). The maximum meter rate allowed by the city is $1.45 to start, $1.35 per mile, and $18 per hour for waiting time. Ann Arbor Taxi Service (741-9000), Blue Cab (213-2222), Veterans Cab (662-4477), and Yellow Cab (663-3355) all charge $1.45 to start and $1.35 per mile.

TRAIN SERVICE

Amtrak, 325 Depot. 994-4906 (depot), (800)

872-7245 (tickets and reservations). Rail service to Detroit, Birmingham, and Pontiac and bus service to the Toledo Amtrak station connect to rail points east. Rail service to Jackson, Kalamazoo, and Chicago connects to points west. Three trains depart daily in each direction (the Chicago trains currently leave at 7:55 a.m. 11:10 a.m., & 6:20 p.m.). Smoking is prohibited on all trains. Reservations are now required on this route. Fares to Ethicago vary but currently are $35 one-way and $54 round-trip. Buses to Toledo depart at 8:10 & 9:10 p.m. for the overnight train east. Amtrak accepts all major credit cards and personal checks with a major credit card and driver's license. Metered and longterm parking is available at the adjacent Amtrak lot. Depot hours: daily 7 a.m.-midnight.

SPECIAL SERVICES

LATE-NIGHT TRANSPORTATION

Emergency Escort Service (U-M). 763–1131. Provides rides, in emergency situations only (e.g., transport to the hospital), between 2 a.m. and 7 a.m. daily for university students, faculty, and staff. There is no charge. In critical, life-threatening situations 911 should be used.

Medical Campus Night Ride Home (U-M). 936–7890 (hospital security). Faculty, staff, and students on the Medical Campus can call and request a free cab ride home, or to the Glazier Way or Fuller/Mitchell commuter lots, between 2 a.m. and 6 a.m. daily. Users of this service must show U-M Medical Center ID.

Night Ride (AATA/Yellow Cab). 663–3888. This is a shared-ride program that uses either a lift-equipped van or cabs. Service is available within the city limits only. Response time is anywhere from five to 45 minutes (20 minutes average), and it is a good idea to allow about an hour for travel time. Fare is $2 per person, regardless of destination. Reservations (all trips must be requested by phone) may be made anytime during the day for service that evening. Hours: 11 p.m.-6 a.m. daily.

Nite Owl (U-M). 763–6453. 14-passenger buses with "Nite Owl" marquees provide this service for U-M students, faculty, and staff. The service has two routes. The north route serves the Medical Campus and the Hill St.–area residence halls. The south route serves Oxford Housing, Central Campus residence halls, and the Athletic Campus. The transfer point is the back of the undergraduate Shapiro Library on South University. Buses run every 30 minutes and are equipped for disabled passengers. Hours: daily (except holidays) 7 p.m.–2 a.m. September through April, when school is officially in session.

Safewalk (U-M). 936–1000. The U-M's nighttime safety walking service provides two-person teams (either a male-female or two-woman team) to accompany people walking within a 20-minute radius of Central Campus. Safewalk is located in the first-floor lobby of the undergraduate Shapiro Library. People can call or stop by for service. Hours: (fall and winter) Sun.—Thurs. dusk—2:30 a.m.; Fri. & Sat. dusk—11:30 p.m.; (spring and summer) Sun.—Thurs. 9–11:30 p.m. To serve the North

The shift to attended parking lots and structures has cut the parking-meter population.

Campus area, Northwalk (763-WALK) provides a safety walking service to people within a 20-minute radius of Bursley Hall, except for the Northwood Family Housing area. Hours: (Sept.-Apr. only) Sun.-Thurs. dusk-2:30 a.m.; Fri. & Sat. dusk-11:30 p.m.

RIDE SHARING

Ride Board (U-M). Located in the basement of the Michigan Union. People seeking or offering long-distance rides can sign up, in person only, to find other drivers and riders.

Ridesharing (AATA). 973–6500. A free service to help commuters who work in Washtenaw County get into van pools and car pools. AATA's TransPlan offers planning assistance to employers and their commuting employees who are looking for alternative methods of travel to and from work.

SERVICES FOR THE HANDICAPPED, DISABLED, OR SENIORS

Ann Arbor Transportation Authority (AATA). 973–6500. Nearly all AATA buses are equipped with a wheelchair lift or ramp and can accommodate one wheelchair user. Users are welcome to call a day in advance to ensure that an accessible bus will be operating on the needed route at the needed time.

A-Ride (AATA/Yellow Cab). 973-6500 (general info and AATA ID cards), 973-1611

(reservations). A-Ride operates primarily within the Ann Arbor city limits, although limited service is also available for persons in Pittsfield Township. Users must have a special AATA ID card. Medical certification of disability is required to obtain the card. Door-to-door shared-ride service is provided in lift-equipped vans or cabs. The fare is $1.50; coupons (ten for $15) can be bought from the AATA. Reservations can be made up to two weeks in advance of the trip. Hours: 6 a.m.-11 p.m. daily for taxis; van service hours are Mon.-Fri. 7 a.m.-10:30 p.m.; Sat. & Sun. 8 a.m.-6 p.m. ARide cardholders can ride AATA fixed route buses free.

Good As Gold Card (AATA/Yellow Cab). 973–6500. The Good As Gold ID card is available from the AATA to persons age 65 and older. Good As Gold is a shared-ride cab service operated by Yellow Cab. Fare is $1.50 anywhere within the city limits. There is a 50¢ charge for each additional passenger and the number of passengers per car is limited to three. Hours: 6 a.m.–11 p.m. daily. Good As Gold cardholders can ride AATA buses free. Persons ages 60–64 can ride AATA buses for 35¢ with an AATA half-fare ID card. Both cards are available at Blake Transit Center on Fourth Ave. between William and Liberty between 8:30 a.m. and 5:30 p.m. weekdays.

Health Van (Huron Valley Ambulance). 971-3015. Provides nonemergency transportation for seniors and those in wheelchairs, using radioequipped vans with mechanical ramps. Trained technicians provide door-to-door service. Reservations are suggested as soon as date of trip is known, since service is on a first-come, firstserved basis. Book well in advance if possible. The base rate is $30 each way within Washtenaw and western Wayne counties. $1.50 per mile beyond their basic area. Hours: Mon.-Fri. 6:30 a.m.- 6:30 p.m.; evening and weekend service by arrangement.

Michigan Family Independence Agency— Washtenaw County, 22 Center, Ypsilanti. 481–8398. Volunteers transport disabled or handicapped clients to medical appointments free of charge. Advance reservations and caseworker referrals required.

Neighborhood Senior Services, Senior Health Building (Mission Health Corporation), 5361 McAuley (P.O. Box 995, AA 48106). 712–7775. This advocacy organization provides transportation and accompaniment for seniors to or from the doctor, the bank, or the grocery. Hours are flexible, but travel must be arranged between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m. Mon. through Fri. Cost-sharing contributions are encouraged, but no fees are charged.

Senior Ride (AATA). 996–0400. Provides group trips for seniors living in senior housing complexes to grocery stores and local events. Call 973–6500 for more information.

University Special Transportation (U-M-Ann Arbor ParaTransit), U-M Haven Hall, G-625. 973–3000 (screening), 763–6453 (appointments). UST provides accessible transportation to U-M students, faculty, and staff through a combination of lift-equipped transit coaches, small buses, and cabs. Service is available 363 days a year, 24 hours a day, to and from campus destinations. For eligibility information, call 973–3000 Mon.-Fri. 8 a.m.-4 p.m.

CRIME MAP

This map compiles data from monthly Ann Arbor Observer crime maps between June 1995 and May 1996. Unlike the monthly map, these maps do not indicate the locations of individual crimes. Instead, colors denote ranges of crime totals for the year for each of the city's 52 neighborhoods. See key below each map for ranges. Totals include attempts.

The densely packed student neighborhoods near the U-M campus routinely record the highest overall crime totals in the city. But as the maps show, not all criminal activity is centered there.

Crime has been much in the news over the last year. But comparing our figures with national and state crime rates gives at least some comfort: Ann Arbor still records considerably fewer violent crimes than most American cities.

^{*}Comparison with state and national rates uses statistics from 1994, the most recent year available.

Try to define the essence of Ann Arbor by talking to the residents, and you'll get many answers. One loves the close neighborhoods of the Old West Side, where home owners still sit on the porch and chat with families out for a walk. Another finds the cultural riches of the U-M irresistible. Still another says it's the international flavor of her neighborhood that she loves.

There's no denying that our town offers a little bit of everything and probably has a neighborhood to make anyone feel comfortable. That's not the question. How to find the perfect niche to settle into and how to afford it-now there's the challenge. What began as a grassy plain registered by John Allen and Elisha Rumsey in May of 1824 is now the center of a rapidly developing metropolis. The city limits have nearly reached residential capacity, with few open areas or even lots still available. The smallest patches are being developed into creatively planned condominium pockets.

So the city did what might be expected: it burst its bounds. The growth in the neighboring townships has been phenomenal. Pittsfield Township to the south has seen over 400 building permits granted in one calendar year. Ann Arbor Township to the north is experiencing more gradual, but similar growth. Scio and Lodi to the west are aggressively trying to control their growth in order to retain their rural flavor, but they may be losing the battle.

New options for housing outside the city are a mixed blessing. They allow central city residents the chance for a little more space when they are ready, freeing up a few older homes for first-time or retiring buyers. At the same time, those Jacuzzi-bathed, mediacentered homes being built on the outskirts of the city are flattening the value of homes which held that state-of-the-art distinction just ten or fifteen years ago. While starter home prices in the city are rising rapidly, pricing on more expensive homes shows a more gradual increase. One house that sold in 1977 at under $30,000 was listed again this year for $119,000, quadrupling in value. A larger home selling for $75,000 in 1977 now can be had for $175,000, an increase of only a little more than double. Housing values have begun to level in the past year but the upward trend is still quite strong, producing a 31 percent increase since 1990 in the average price of an Ann Arbor home sold, with two-thirds of that coming since 1993. As of July 12, 1996, the average selling price was $156,655, with slightly over half as many homes available this year as in 1993.

east of the Plymouth and Nixon intersection was the Bolgos family's farm and dairy. Today it's a well-manicured mixture of subdivisions, condominiums, and apartment complexes. Plymouth Road itself is lined with offices, shopping centers, and research facilities.

The Northbury condominiums lie east of Nixon Road just north of Clague Middle School and Logan Elementary. There are many children in the complex (their parents are often business professionals and U-M faculty and staff), as well as retired people. To the north lies the huge Windemere Park luxury apartment complex

The Chapel Hill area east of Green Road is a diverse community of townhouse condominiums and single-family homes. With its neat lawns and recent renovation work, Chapel Hill prides itself on its upkeep. The turnover rate for residents is fairly high, reflecting the large percentage of U-M students, staff, and foreign visitors. About half of Chapel Hill residents are seniors. The playground and open areas of adjacent Sugarbush Park are popular with Chapel Hill families, typically professional working couples

The Orchard Hills, Maplewood, and Bromley single-family subdivisions make up the Orchard Hills/Maplewood neighborhood. Bromley's houses are slightly smaller, Maplewood's somewhat newer.

Orchard Hills/Maplewood is fairly stable, with many younger families with children at home and an extremely high home ownership rate. The family orientation makes for a very social atmosphere, with numerous block parties, cookouts, and even parades. The Orchard Hills Athletic Club on Yorktown has a pool that is a social hub for area members. The family atmosphere continues in the Bromley subdivision, which also has its own swim club, Dolfins Pool. Its 231 homes are built around Bromley Park and are adjacent to the Thurston School Nature Center. It also boasts an extremely active home owners' association.

Prices for houses in the three subdivisions range from $145,000 to $200,000 and up. Both neighborhoods are located in Ann Arbor's Second Ward, Children attend Logan and Thurston elementary. Clague is the middle school, and the high school is Huron.

3: Traver/Willowtree

The Traver/Willowtree area is dominated by apartments, including Willowtree, Willowtree Tower, and Parc Pointe on Plymouth Road; Parkway Meadows (which includes both senior and low-income buildings) near Nixon; and Traver Ridge, off Traver Road. The terrain is hilly; many of the complexes abut a stream now mostly funneled into underground pipes. The Traver Lakes development includes single-family homes and some condos. Traver Vistas, north of Placid Way, is made up of single-family homes. North of Dhu Varren Road, the Foxfire development is rapidly approaching its planned total of 361 homes.

The neighborhood has many open areas and ponds throughout; residents frequently walk or jog through what is still a peaceful area, and residents seem pleased with the convenience of Traver Village shopping center on Plymouth Road. Traver Ridge, Traver Lakes, and Traver Vistas dwellers all belong to an association that shares the clubhouse, pool, and tennis courts at the Traver Lakes condos.

Single-family colonials in Traver Lakes and Traver Vistas cost from $165,000 to $185,000. Foxfire homes sell for $195,000 to $250,000. Traver/Willowtree is located in the First Ward. Schools are Logan and Northside elementaries, Clague Middle School, and Huron High.

4: LESLIE PARK/ARROWWOOD

The Leslie Park/Arrowwood neighborhood lies between Pontiac Trail to the west and Leslie Park and the Leslie Park Golf Course to

For many years, the area's chief housing source has been the 350-unit Arrowwood Hills Cooperative, a low-income townhouse complex built in the late 1960's. Now, as the city extends its water and sewer lines into the northern part of this neighborhood, along Dhu Varren Road, it's gaining new developments like the 35-home Orchard Place subdivision off Pontiac Trail, and Dhu Varren on the Park, off Dhu Varren east of Pontiac Trail.

With a wide racial and ethnic mix, Arrowwood has a diverse but cohesive atmosphere; members participate in many shared programs and have cooperative garden plots. Cash-poor U-M graduate students often join the co-op's long waiting list. Arrowwood children are bused to King, Logan, or Thurston elementary schools; all others attend Northside Elementary. Clague is the middle school, and the high school is Huron. This neighborhood is located in the First Ward.

5: HURON HIGHLANDS

Huron Highlands is located on a high ridge overlooking the Huron River valley and the downtown skyline between US-23/M-14 and Pontiac Trail.

Single-family ranches built in the late 1960's are priced at $105,000 and up; despite their nearly identical appearance, their welltreed, quiet setting keeps them in great demand among first-time home buyers. There are also a few more substantial contemporary homes dotted throughout this neighborhood, which sell for as much as $245,000. There are few renters, and families predominate.

Despite its proximity to the downtown area, Huron Highlands is a quiet, stable neighborhood. Residents tend to be either professional younger families or retired people who greatly value their seclusion. Children attend Northside Elementary, Clague Middle School, and Huron High. Huron Highlands, like Leslie Park/Arrowwood on the other side of Pontiac Trail, is located in the city's First Ward.

6: NORTHSIDE

This area immediately north of the Huron River flourished in the 1830's but soon became a quiet backwater as the growth of the U-M focused development south of the river. Today, apartments and small, moderately priced ($95,000 and up) ranches share the neighborhood with some of the city's oldest surviving

Many of the older houses are now rented, and there are also newer apartments, including the Shoreview complex on Kellogg and the Crossings of Michigan townhouses on Longshore Drive. There is a moderate student presence in this pleasantly diverse area. One of the few stably integrated neighborhoods in Ann Arbor, Northside is located completely within Ward One. Schools are Northside Elementary, Clague Middle School, and Huron High.

7: BROADWAY/RIVERSIDE

This neighborhood just north of the Huron River adjacent to Northside includes the spot where several Indian trails once met at a ford on the Huron River. That same clustering effect is visible today where Broadway, Plymouth Road, Maiden Lane, Wall and Moore streets, Swift Street, and Pontiac Trail all converge near the Broadway bridge. Known as Lower Town in Ann Arbor's early days, the neighborhood contains the city's oldest commercial structure, the 1832 Anson Brown Building at Swift and Broadway.

Broadway Hill distinctly separates the Broadway and Riverside areas. Located north of the crest, the Broadway area combines rental housing with older single-family houses on large, well-kept lots on and near Cedar "Certainly the most attractive aspect is the cost—the units [at Parkway Meadows] are considerably more affordable than, say, nearby U-M family housing.

"There are a large number of younger families with children, a fair number of them people starting families while going to school. Many of them are immigrants, something we've appreciated. Our children have had the opportunity to make friendships with our Lebanese, Russian, and Jordanian neighbors, among others—a chance they wouldn't have had in any of the Ann Arbor neighborhoods where we grew up.

"The first couple years we lived here, frankly, the neighborhood was not too safe. But the management made a real effort to remove some people who had caused problems and that's really changed."

HOUSING

Bend Drive, a lovely thoroughfare which offers spectacular views of the Huron River valley. There has been a recent increase in the rehabilitation of older homes, and more families with young children have moved into the area. Single-family homes vary from small ranches that start at about $100,000 to large, stately homes in the Cedar Bend area that have sold for as much as $420,000.

Apartments and condos line the valley to the south. Young professionals and U-M graduate and medical students, plus a small concentration of retirees, predominate in the Riverside complexes, which include the Island Drive and Medical Center Court apartments off Maiden Lane. Riverside, with its transient population, has much less community activism than the Broadway area.

The high-rise Riverside Park Place condominiums are located at 1050 Wall Street along Riverside Park—the 1875 site of the Alber & Co. Blacksmith and Wagon Shop. The Riverhouse condos face Island Park a little downriver. Broadway/Riverside residents vote in the First Ward. Schools are Northside Elementary, Clague Middle School, and Huron High.

8: NORTH CAMPUS

The area south of Plymouth Road and west of Huron Parkway is dominated by the U-M's North Campus, a mixture of classroom and research buildings, residence halls, and apartments and townhouses for married students.

The Huron River Plaza apartments and high-rise Huron Towers on Fuller Road augment the U-M's Baits and Bursley dorms and U-M married housing on Cram Circle and McIntyre to create a densely settled neighborhood dominated by students. Almost all of the residents in the North Campus neighborhood are renters. But the family housing gives this a very different flavor than the older student areas near campus.

Most of the few houses in the North Campus neighborhood were custom built in the 1950's along Fuller Road and Glazier Way. They sell for anywhere from $200,000 to $600,000 or even more.

Most North Campus children are bused to Angell, Logan, and Northside elementaries. Clague and Tappan are the middle schools. The high school is Huron. North Campus east of Murfin Avenue is located in the Second Ward; residents living west of Murfin Avenue vote in the First Ward.

9: NORTHWOOD V/ VINTAGE VALLEY

Northwood V is a large complex of townhouses for married U-M students. Half the residents come from other countries, and nearly all have young families. Vintage Valley is a subdivision made up of expensive custom-built homes; prices average about $300,000. The newer Woodlands subdivision, located near Vintage Valley in the hilly, wooded area just north of Glazier Way, is even more expensive: custom-built houses there range from $450,000 to $500,000. The Oslund semidetached condominiums are located on the north side of Glazier Way at Huron Parkway.

Both areas are primarily family oriented with children living in Northwood V being bused to Northside Elementary; other neighborhood children attend King. Clague is the middle school, and Huron is the high school. Northwood V/Vintage Valley is located in the Second Ward.

10: GLACIER HIGHLANDS/ GREENBRIER

This neighborhood of mostly colonials, with some ranches and tri-levels selling for $100,000-$260,000, presents moderately winding streets bordered by the manicured lawns of the 15- to 20-year-old single-family homes. The Earhart Knolls homes, off Glazier just west of Earhart, can cost $300,000 or more. Farther north, off Green Road, is the 501-unit Greenbrier apartment complex and the Greenbrier subdivision. The colonials, Cape Cods, and tri-levels that line the subdivision's wooded streets cost from $195,000 to $225,000.

Residents here vote in Ward Two. Children attend King Elementary, Clague Middle School, and Huron High.

11 & 12: EARHART/CONCORDIA & GEDDES LAKE

South of Glazier Way on Ann Arbor's far eastern side are the heavily wooded Earhart, Earhart West, and Watershed subdivisions and the Geddes Lake co-op townhouses. These neighborhoods range from contemporary custom-built homes on big lots in natural settings to neatly landscaped townhouses and condominiums. The heavy ground cover shelters a surprising amount of wildlife.

Earhart/Concordia's household income is one of the highest in Ann Arbor, reflected in the area's home prices—$250,000-$525,000 for homes ranging in age from new to 20 years old. The Geddes Lake units, across Huron Parkway from Huron High and due west of Waldenwood, sell for $65,000-$100,000.

East of Earhart Road, in a wooded, hilly, natural setting, are the Earhart Village condominiums. They were built about 20 years ago in varying floor plans. A clubhouse and pool provide a focal point for residents, many of whom are prominent figures in the city and at the U-M. The area is home also to three luxury condominium complexes—the Heritage Ridge single-unit condos, at Geddes and Huron Parkway; Ridgemaar Square, just off Earhart Road; and Oakridge, a three-story building on the southeast corner of Huron Parkway and Glazier Way.

The Watershed subdivision, south of Glazier just west of Watershed Drive, features recently built single-family houses (which start at about $300,000) and condos. Adjacent Earhart West houses are about ten years old and slightly larger, the majority costing from $300,000 to $400,000.

Both areas are located within Ward Two. Schools are King Elementary, Clague Middle School, and Huron High.

13: GEDDES/ARBORETUM

Once known for its oak and hickory forests, and now known for its huge, university- and city-owned park, the Geddes/Arboretum area south of the Huron River is made up of large and stately older homes built in the 1920's and 1930's, along with some modern custom-built houses toward the river, a few fraternity and sorority houses, and some apartment buildings near the university. The majority of the neighbors are longtime residents, with some recently relocated younger families. Geddes/Arboretum is home to many prominent U-M professors.

Houses are priced anywhere from $250,000 to $750,000 or more for the recently built contemporary homes on Riverview. This is one of the half-dozen most affluent neighborhoods in the city, even after figuring in the moderating influence of student housing for the nearby U-M Central Campus. Geddes falls within the Second Ward. Schools are Angell Elementary, Tappan Middle School, and Huron High.

14: ANN ARBOR HILLS AREA

This neighborhood includes the whole area west of US-23 and north of Washtenaw up to Geddes Avenue and Huron River Drive.

My Neighborhood

"When we moved here, my husband and I were one of the youngest couples to actually own their own home in this area. The majority of the homes were owned by the older generation. Some parents decided to purchase houses other places. Others passed away. The properties were sold; some of them became rental. Then there's thirty- to forty-year residents still here.

"The man you see sitting out across the street has been there over half a century, close to sixty years, I would think. And on the other corner, the Seeleys—oh, gosh—I don't know how long they've been there. And directly across the street is an apartment house. I did know the original owners, who have since passed away and the house sold. Now it's a multiple-family dwelling. And on the other corner is one of the owners of Zingerman's."

The Prudential Value Range Marketing is a revolutionary, yet proven way to market your house that gives you more options. The results are nothing short of remarkable. Wherever this program has been introduced, houses have been selling at least twice as fast as the market average. And many VRM-listed houses sell for more than the owner expected. Why? Because Value Range Marketing attracts more qualified buyers, and creates more competition for your house.

Here's how it works. Instead of listing your house at a fixed price, you use The VRM Wheel to select a value range in which you "will entertain offers." This VRM listing sends a powerful message to qualified buyers. It gives them a comfortable basis to open negotiations sooner. To find out more about this revolutionary program that can help your house move fast, call today.

HOUSING

Winding, heavily wooded streets characterize the western portion, located just north and east of Washtenaw Avenue west of its split with Stadium Boulevard. Situated here are the Ann Arbor Hills, Tuomy Hills, and Woodhaven Hills subdivisions. Homes range in price from $250,000 to $700,000. The architecture is varied, and many of the houses sit in isolated splendor on one-third to full acre lots. New single-family houses expand Woodhaven Hills farther east on Overridge toward Huron Parkway. With units costing $295,000 and up, Huron Chase is a pricey 50-unit condominium development just off the parkway itself.

The area east of Huron Parkway includes large, older, single-family homes along Chalmers and Woodland roads, and the small Thornoaks subdivision, consisting of smaller, custom-built homes constructed in the 1950's and 1960's. Houses in Thornoaks are priced from $190,000 to $300,000. A good deal of new construction is likely to take place east of Chalmers in the next few years, now that a boundary dispute that tied up two major parcels behind Arborland has been resolved.

Ann Arbor Hills is the city's wealthiest neighborhood. It also is home to many people over age 60, the second-highest percentage in Ann Arbor. Residents vote in the Second Ward. Schools are Angell, Burns Park, and King elementaries, Tappan and Clague middle schools, and Huron High.

15 & 16: IVES WOODS & BURNS PARK

An older, established neighborhood, Ives

Woods has one of the highest median household incomes in Ann Arbor. Homes nestled within this neighborhood's tree-lined streets sell for $250,000-$600,000. Schools are Burns Park Elementary, Tappan Middle School, and Pioneer High.

Just west of Ives Woods, slightly more modest homes mark the boundary of the Burns Park neighborhood. This neighborhood centers around the park itself, which began in 1890 as the home of the Washtenaw County Agricultural and Horticultural Society's fairgrounds. Moderately expensive single-family homes favored by academics are found in the eastern half, with student rental property dominating the area west of Packard and north of Granger. (On both sides of Packard, though, the proportion of student housing drops off sharply as you leave the campus area.) The North Burns Park area, north of Wells to Hill St., also has a high student presence. Larger fraternity, sorority, and cooperative houses and apartment buildings blend surprisingly well with older houses occupied by longtime residents and families.

Houses in the Burns Park area sell for $110,000 to well over $350,000. Ives Woods lies completely in Ward Three. Burns Park residents vote predominately in Ward Three, but those west of Packard (and a few campus neighborhoods east of Packard) vote in Ward Four. Schools are Burns Park Elementary, Tappan Middle School, and Pioneer High.

17 & 18: SOUTH UNIVERSITY & CENTRAL AND MEDICAL CAMPUSES

A wide range of housing can be found in these student-dominated neighborhoods bordering the U-M's Central and Medical campuses. Generally, these are older neighborhoods, dating back to the late 1800's and early 1900's. In the 1960's, apartment buildings replaced many of the older houses before zoning re-

"Most of our good friends are in our neighborhood. Either we met them through church and coincidentally they live in the neighborhood or they're Mack families. We really like the elementary school. Parents and families are highly involved in it. The teachers are great.

"It's a nice welcoming neighborhood without being a nosy, in-your-face neighborhood. It's cohesive when it needs to be. Whenever there's been a park issue the neighbors have banded together in working with the city to clean the park, to treat the homeless and the shelter residents who hang out at the park with some dignity but still make it accessible to families.

"The kids love living in the park. It's wonderfully peaceful in the winter with all the city lights sparkling. We come over and go sledding at night. It's just hard to believe you're downtown."

strictions effectively ended new construction near campus.

The majority of all households in South University are comprised of unrelated adultsthis is the classic student ghetto. Central Campus/Medical Campus is also a popular student area. The southern half of the South University area is located within Ward Three; the northern half is in Ward Two. The Central and Medical campus areas vote in Ward One.

19 & 20: OLD FOURTH WARD & NORTH CENTRAL

The Old Fourth Ward and North Central areas sit side by side on the southern slopes of the Huron River valley-the Old Fourth Ward to the east, between Glen and Division streets, and North Central running from there west to the Ann Arbor Railroad tracks just west of

To newcomers, North Central is an exciting urban neighborhood, its quaint old homes just a few minutes' walk from the Farmers' Market, Zingerman's, and downtown. Longtime residents, who remember when it was poor, polluted, and racially segregated, are amazed at its newfound cachet. For years, this was one of the few areas in town where black Ann Arborites could buy homes, and it still houses a racially and economically diverse population, including city workers and retirees, U-M faculty and staff, professionals, and an increasing number of young families. Older houses sell here in the $110,000-$120,000 range, while a scattering of new and rehabbed condos sell for $150,000 and up.

Homes in the Old Fourth Ward vary greatly. The Old Fourth Ward Historic District, which extends across Division into the North Central area, includes a number of nineteenthcentury mansions along North Division and many superb Victorian houses in the Kingsley area. These are interspersed with the squat, brick apartment buildings that replaced many older houses in the 1960's. Today, most of the households in the Old Fourth Ward are occupied by renters, mostly U-M students. Children are bused to Haisley Elementary and attend Slauson Middle School and Pioneer High. Both the Old Fourth Ward and the North Central areas are located within the First Ward.

21 & 22: DOWNTOWN & SOUTH CENTRAL

The first house in Ann Arbor, built in 1824 by one of the city's founders, Elisha Rumsey, stood at the corner of Huron and First streets. As the downtown grew, it-and almost all other housing in the present downtown area-was demolished for commercial construction. It's only in the last decade that rehabbers have begun to rescue a few of the long-vacant upstairs apartments in many downtown commercial buildings. More recently, there has been a significant growth in owner-occupied housing, with construction of the Sloan Plaza condos on Huron, conversion of the Tower Plaza apartments to condos, and the handful of condos on top of One North Main. Depending on size and altitude, units may sell anywhere from $35,000 to $350,000. Downtown is also home to quite a few U-M students, living in old houses within a few blocks of the State St. edge of campus. This neighborhood has the highest number of single-person households in the city.

South Central is largely student housing. The northeast corner of the downtown area is located in Ward One; the remainder of downtown votes in Ward Five. The majority of the South Central area is located within Ward Four, but small portions vote in wards One and Five.

23: ALLMENDINGER

This neighborhood is bounded on the east and west by Main and Seventh streets, and on the north and south by Pauline and Stadium. Although a few houses date to the 1920's and 1930's, most were built after World War II. Single-family bungalows, small ranches, and a few story-and-a-halfs in the area range from $120,000 to $165,000. Home ownership is the norm here, and families are fairly common. Allmendinger Park, on Pauline, is a center of activity throughout the year with its softball diamonds, a playground, tennis and basketball courts, and picnic facilities. Its huge groves of lilacs on the perimeter are a special treat in May.

The area is located within the Fourth Ward. Schools are Mack Elementary, Slauson Middle School, and Pioneer High.

24: OLD WEST SIDE

This neighborhood, much written about in city histories, has the distinction of being placed on the National Register of Historic Places, not just for its architecture, but for its overall historic character. A few of its houses are over 125 years old and can be seen in photographs taken in the mid-1800's. Most, though, are small Victorians with one or two finely crafted details. Many residents have painstakingly restored their homes and show them off in an annual homes tour. With its modest yet beautifully individual homes and its tree-lined streets, the Old West Side offers a much sought-after small-town quality.

Part of the charm and character of the Old West Side is the mix of people—students, professionals, families, faculty, and retirees—who live comfortably here in the German-built Victorians, and in some newer two-story colonial and custom-built houses and scattered apartment buildings. Prices run anywhere from $90,000 to $250,000.

The Old West Side, like many Ann Arbor neighborhoods, is seeing an increase in the number of affluent young professional families. The small student presence is concentrated around First Street in small apartment buildings. Owner and rental households are evenly split (the 204-unit Nob Hill apartment complex is unobtrusively integrated into the neighborhood's southern edge).

The Old West Side lies entirely within the boundaries of the Fifth Ward. Schools are Eberwhite and Mack elementaries, Slauson Middle School, and Pioneer High.

25: WEST PARK/MILLER

This neighborhood is dominated by one of the city's best-known parks, West Park, established in 1910. The park's recently renovated band shell draws crowds of Ann Arborites to concerts and festivals throughout the summer. At manholes in the park, you can hear the gurgle of a tributary of Allen's Creek as it flows through a storm sewer on its way east to join the main stream near the Ann Arbor Railroad. Better than half of the households are renters; the remainder own small frame houses that sell for around $95,000–$160,000.

Thanks in part to the presence of Miller Manor, the city-owned apartment building for senior and disabled citizens that towers over the northern edge of West Park, and the Lurie Terrace senior apartment complex on its south side, this area has a good blend of families and residents over 60.

Until the city passed a fair housing ordinance in the 1960's, most of Ann Arbor's

My Neighborhood

"Culver, where I live, down the hill north of Sunset, is very private. There's no through traffic, and no one even knows the street is there. The neighborhood is heavily Democratic and you can see it in the relaxed look of all the lawns. Nobody edges here, and there's lots of vegetation in the summer. When I look out my window, I feel like I'm in a tree house and actually some of these Sixties flat-roofed houses look like tree houses.

"There are some real perks to living here. In the winter the city salt trucks hit the steep hills on Spring, Orkney, and Culver as soon as they're done with Main Street, and the water pressure is great year-round. Back when Ann Arbor had Fourth of July fireworks at the airport, lots of people would come to Hunt Park with blankets and sparklers and watch the silent fireworks off in the distance.

"I love being able to walk downtown, and my son likes to bike to the Hop-In at Maple and Miller. It's also nice to have Knight's Market [on the corner of Miller and Spring] on the way home from work. It's another place most people don't know about so there are never any lines and you can pop right in and out."

26: MACK SCHOOL/SUNSET

Houses come in all sizes and shapes in this immensely varied neighborhood: big nineteenthand early twentieth-century houses, modest ranches, and even prefab steel Lustron homes can be found in the area south of Sunset and east of Newport. Prices start at $110,000. Secluded, custom-built contemporary houses north of Sunset sell for $160,000-$210,000.

The neighborhood is marked by some impressive hills: Hunt Park at Spring Street and Sunset offers a splendid view of the downtown area. Another notable landmark is the city's water treatment plant, high on a hill on the south side of Sunset near Newport Road, which pumps water from the Huron River at Barton Pond to Ann Arbor residents. This is the city's highest point.

Mack School/Sunset is comprised mostly of owner-occupied households. It is located in wards One and Five. Schools are Mack and Wines elementaries, Forsythe and Slauson middle schools, and Pioneer High.

27: NEWPORT

On the city's far northwest side, the spacious Newport area offers custom-built single-family colonials, ranches, and condominiums in an almost rural setting bounded by the Huron River on the north and east. Developed on former farmlands, these affluent subdivisions are dominated by family-minded professionals and business executives.

The nearer edge of the Newport area consists of some lovely old farmhouses and moves into a string of 1950's ranches selling for around $120,000. The Newport West Condominiums are off Newport just north of M-14 and adjacent to Bird Hills Park. Farther down Newport Road just north of Bird Road is the new Newport Hills subdivision, which includes 73 single-family dwellings. Still farther down Newport Road, near the Huron River, is the posh River Ridge subdivision. One-of-akind homes, set back off winding streets, sell for $240,000 to over $400,000. Large custombuilt homes along Blueberry Lane and west of Newport are comparably priced.

Renters are rare to nonexistent in Newport. This neighborhood lies within the First Ward. Schools are Wines Elementary, Forsythe Middle School, and Pioneer High.

28 & 29: GARDEN HOMES/ CRESCENT & HAISLEY/ VETERANS PARK

These neighborhoods in the Miller, Jackson, and Stadium/Maple area are dominated by moderately priced ranches, Cape Cods, and small colonials. Some are less than ten years old; others have been around for half a century.

Garden Homes' bi-level and ranch houses are in the $100,000-$140,000 price range. The Martin Acres subdivision, within the Hatcher-Saunders Crescent loop, has ranches and tri-levels for $115,000-$140,000. Residents vote in the Fifth Ward. Schools are Wines Elementary, Forsythe Middle School, and Pioneer Haisley area ranches, like those in Garden Homes, cost between $110,000 and $130,000.

Cape Cods which line Duncan, Alice, and Bruce range from $115,000 to $125,000.

The Haisley neighborhood votes in the Fifth Ward. Schools are Haisley and Mack elementaries, Slauson and Forsythe middle schools, and Pioneer High.

30 & 31: VIRGINIA PARK & WINEWOOD/THALER

Between Jackson and Liberty from Crest Avenue west to Stadium, homes go from old to relatively new in a fairly steady progression. The transformation recapitulates the west side's gradual expansion away from the downtown core. Virginia Park is the eastern and older section, running from Crest to Glendale; Winewood/Thaler continues west from there to Stadium, where its western edge is lined with small commercial buildings.

The Virginia Park area has many two-family duplexes, particularly on Bemidji Street. There are also older single-family homes and Cape Cods in this area, priced from $100,000 to $160,000.

The 75-unit Charlton and 120-unit Westwood apartment complexes are in this neighborhood, and many of the smaller houses in the neighborhood are also rentals. Starter homes, ranches and Cape Cods, along with a small number of duplexes, sell for $95,000-$140,000.

Both Virginia Park and Winewood/Thaler fall in the Fifth Ward. Schools are Eberwhite Elementary, Slauson Middle School, and Pioneer High.

its

Named for Eber White, an early farmer in the area who helped fugitive slaves escape to Canada, Eberwhite Woods is one of the loveliest neighborhoods on the west side of town. It's made up of several small subdivisions, along with older apartment complexes in the Pauline-Arbordale-Northwood area.

Most of the houses in this area were built between 1915 and 1935. Rolling, tree-lined streets are showcases for a variety of two-story traditionals. The smaller houses, which are rarely available, are priced around $140,000; larger ones sell for up to $200,000.

Dover Parkside, a subdivision along Dartmoor Street, was built in the 1960's by George Airey, who also developed subdivisions in the Dicken neighborhood. Houses generally sell in the $160,000-$230,000 range—though a recently built home on Dartmoor carries a $315,000 price tag. Just west of Dover Parkside, south of Liberty and east of Stadium, are the new Ridgewood condominiums.

This neighborhood lies completely within Ward Five. Schools are Eberwhite Elementary, Slauson Middle School, and Pioneer High.

33 & 34: Pauline/Stadium & Dicken

This area was farmed up until the early part of this century. Today, it is dotted with heavily landscaped subdivisions and a sprinkling of wooded areas near Pioneer High School and Greenview Park.

Most of the houses in the Pauline/Stadium neighborhood were built in the 1950's and 1960's. Several homes in this area were built by local high school construction classes. They are comparably priced with other new construction, and always sell well. Ranches sell for $115,000-$140,000 and colonials in the Meadowbrook Avenue area cost $160,000-$185,000. There are two good-sized rental complexes in this neighborhood—the Stadium and Wyndham Hill apartments.

Schools for the Pauline/Stadium neighborhood are Eberwhite Elementary, Slauson Middle School, and Pioneer High.

My Neighborhood

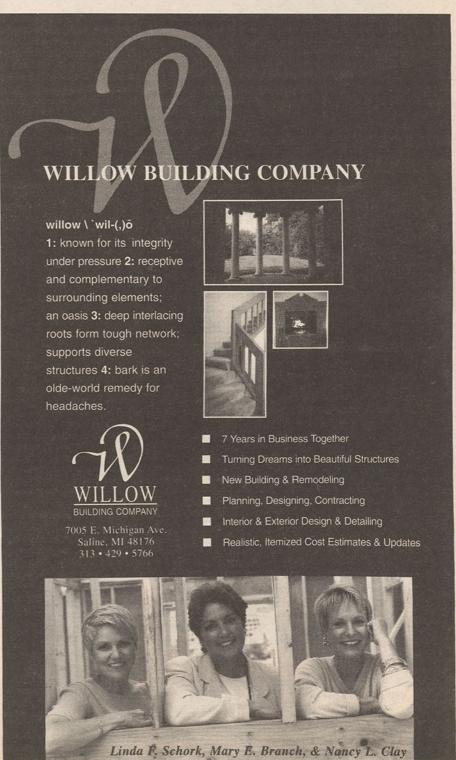

"This neighborhood was built in the Fifties and though it's changed a lot—most of the houses are potato-peel beige now instead of pastels—some of the better aspects of those days have managed to survive. You can still see parents walking their kids to school and other kids biking by. There are as many pedestrians as there are cars, and the sidewalks are close enough so that you can actually see your neighbors' faces and recognize them.

"People here delight in living small, and love to show you what they've done with 990 square feet and a full basement. This neighborhood really identifies as a neighborhood, with a newsletter that's even called 'The Neighborhood,' regular meetings, an annual picnic and yard sale, and friendly people happy to share their perennials."

REALTOR® 662-1867 662-8600 MATTERS How Not to Choose a Realtor®

In previous columns I've offered suggestions on "How to Choose a Realtor. $\[mathbb{R}\]$ " Now some thoughts on how not to choose an agent.

"I know someone who sells real estate" – a family friend, or the spouse of a co-worker. My advice: Don't rush in. You should evaluate each agent with the same objectivity. Ask yourself if you would feel comfortable dropping the person if things don't work out. Would social politics interfere?

"I found mine in the Yellow Pages." Be careful. Most realty companies are one-person firms that are not really set up to sell homes. Instead, they manage rentals, oversee investment properties, or handle office or industrial space. If you ask these firms, "Can you sell my house?" they're likely to say, "Yes, of course!" That's because they might passively earn a commission, simply by listing the home for sale. Later you might learn that they haven't sold a house in years or that an agent isn't available weekends or evenings, when buyers are most free to look at homes.

"I'll have six agents working for me!" Or so you'll think if you call the agents for six houses that interest you. However, if you call on many agents, you end up at the bottom of each person's priority list. You get much better service if, after checking out several agents, you work exclusively with one person.

If you need help buying or selling a home or other property, give me a call. Perhaps I can serve you or refer you to trusted colleague.

Across Stadium to the southwest is the family-oriented Dicken/Vernon Downs area, mostly owner occupied. Houses vary from 25year-old ranches like those on Norfolk and Suffolk to the spacious ranches and two-story colonials in the Barnard Heights subdivision near Dicken School. The smaller ranches, many constructed by builder George Airey, start at about $120,000; prices in the area range up to $165,000. Both neighborhoods are in the Fourth Ward. Schools are Dicken and Lawton elementaries, Slauson Middle School, and Pioneer High.

35: SOUTH MAPLE

Located on the city's far west side, just east of I-94, this area is dominated by condominiums and apartment complexes concentrated in a dense cluster around the intersection of Pauline and Maple. The sprawling Walden Hills condominium complex, just north of Pauline and east of Maple, has units starting at $49,000. Across the road, the contemporary Walden Village condominiums on Pauline Court are set back behind a berm that makes the units barely visible from the road. Also off Pauline are the Park Place and adjacent Hillcrest apartments. Across South Maple, from the east, are the 167-unit Surrey Park apartments, the Pine Lake Village Cooperative, and the South Maple public housing project. Country Village, west of I-94 near the High Point Center, is a recent development that has added 22 single-family homes to the area.

This area is in the Fifth Ward. Elementary schoolchildren in the Pine Lake Village co-op are bused to Lawton School. Otherwise, schools are Dicken Elementary, Slauson Middle School, and Pioneer High.

36: LAKEWOOD

On the city's far west side, bounded by I-94, Liberty Road, and Wagner Road, the Lakewood neighborhood has a rare blend of residents-both professionals and blue-collar

Older colonials and newer custom-built trilevels and ranches (some built in the 1920's), border the wooded areas near First and Second Sister lakes; they sell in the $100,000-$250,000 range. Smaller ranches that went up in the 1940's, 1950's, and 1960's start at $100,000. The recently constructed 180-unit Liberty Pointe condominiums are just west of I-94 on Liberty. Homes in the Liberty Glen subdivision range from $175,000 to $235,000.

Lakewood is home to a number of U-M faculty and staff as well as retired people. Families are common. Lakewood is located within Ward Five. Schools are Dicken Elementary, Slauson Middle School, and Pioneer

37: LANSDOWNE

The Lansdowne subdivision sits on slightly rolling terrain on either side of Seventh Street south of Scio Church Road. Its meticulously kept lawns and large, modern homes make it Ann Arbor's model of a classic suburb. Some newer streets still have the characteristic openness of a new suburb, but others are now lined with mature trees.

Lansdowne's families tend to be older than their neighbors in the nearby Churchill Downs and Meadowbrook subdivisions. Houses are generally about 25 years old, although some date back to the mid-1960's and a few are newer. They vary from ranches, colonials, and tri-levels to traditionals, with prices ranging from $185,000 to $300,000 or more.

The Churchill Downs subdivision west of Lansdowne is made up of slightly newer and less expensive single-family ranch, colonial, and tri-level houses in the $140,000-$180,000

The Meadowbrook Village apartments and Meadowbrook subdivision, built in the mid-1980's, are located on the west side of Ann Arbor-Saline Road just north of I-94. The houses are single-family bi-levels and ranches priced from $130,000 to $150,000. Occupants range from retirees to young families. The Meadowbrook apartments feature unusual floor plans designed for unrelated people who live together: in two-bedroom units, both bedrooms have adjoining baths, and they sit at opposite ends of the apartment with common living areas between.

Home owners dominate the neighborhood, and many families have children at home. Lansdowne residents vote in the Fourth Ward. Schools are Lawton Elementary, Slauson Middle School, and Pioneer High.

38 & 39: HIDDEN VALLEY & BOARDWALK

These neighborhoods, just north and east of Briarwood, have only a smattering of houses off Main Street, on Valhalla near Scio Church, and on Golfview past Ann Arbor-Saline Road. Housing is dominated by the 324-unit Hidden Valley apartment complex on South Street and, off South Main, the 108-unit Burlington Woods complex (which includes apartments and townhouses) and the luxurious 208-unit Harbor House apartments.

Both the Hidden Valley and Boardwalk neighborhoods are located within the Fourth Ward. Schools are Pattengill and Bryant elementaries, Tappan Middle School, and Pioneer

40 & 51: CRANBROOK & BRIARWOOD

These neighboring areas were once dense woods and open fields. Since Briarwood's completion in 1973, they have been transformed into a profusion of commercial, office, and residential developments.

As recently as ten years ago, Cranbrook Tower for seniors was the only housing in this area. But four more large residential projects followed, adding well over 1,000 apartments to the neighborhood, including the luxurious Signature Villas and Briar Cove apartments, the 139-unit Brookhaven Manor luxury senior development, and the roughly 300 apartments and townhouses in Woodland Meadows, located at the corner of Main Street. The 140-unit Oakbrook Condominiums between Ann Arbor-Saline Road and Main Street added detached units to the mix.

Both the Cranbrook and the Briarwood neighborhoods are located within Ward Four. Schools are Pattengill and Bryant elementaries, Slauson and Tappan middle schools, and Pioneer High.

41: WOODBURY GARDENS/ ROSEWOOD/JEWETT

Moderately priced houses built in the 1940's and 1950's are mixed here with modern apartments. The Woodbury Gardens complex features a clubhouse, one-, two-, and three-bedroom apartments, and townhouses. The complex takes its name from the U-M Botanical Gardens, which were located in the Stadium-Iroquois area from 1915 until their move to Dixboro Road in 1959.

This area's western border along South Industrial is home to numerous small commercial and industrial businesses that spill over into the western ends of Rosewood and Jewett streets. The city's newest charter school, Central Academy, will open on Industrial in September 1996, joining the private alternative Clonlara on Kensington. School Elementary, the neighborhood now boasts quite a dense pocket of alternative educational offerings. Along the eastern ends of the tree-lined streets there are single-family ranches and small Cape Cods that sell for $80,000-$115,000.

The neighborhood falls within the Fourth Ward. Schools are Bryant, Pattengill, and Burns Park elementaries (the latter for Iroquois Place residents only), Tappan Middle School, and Pioneer High.

42: GEORGETOWN/PINE VALLEY

These two subdivisions stretch southwest from Packard Road across Eisenhower Parkway all the way to I-94. Single-family houses in these areas are a mix of tri-levels, ranches, colonials, and Cane Cods.

The ranch houses in the Pine Valley neighborhood northeast of the Georgetown shopping center are priced from $150,000 to $185,000. Georgetown's homes, to the southwest, are somewhat larger and sell for $155,000-$200,000. The 164-unit Pine Valley apartments and townhouses and the 168-unit Spruce Knob apartments are also located in this neighborhood.

Schools are Pattengill and Bryant elementaries, Tappan Middle School, and Pioneer High.

Both Georgetown and Pine Valley subdivisions have winding, tree-lined streets. Georgetown has the advantage of a semiprivate golf course, a private pool, and a tennis court. Functioning as Georgetown's social hub, the country club heightens the neighborhood's strong sense of cohesiveness; many residents feel that Georgetown is one of the most sociable neighborhoods in Ann Arbor. This area lies in the Fourth Ward.

43 & 44: PATTENGILL/ST. FRANCIS & KIMBERLY HILLS

Southeast of the Packard-Stadium area, on what was once prime farmland, are a number of neighborhoods built shortly after World War II and on into the 1950's, 1960's, and later.

The Pattengill/St. Francis neighborhood is fairly evenly divided between home owners and renters in the large Arbor Hills and the Ann Arbor Woods apartments. The older and smaller bi-level and ranch houses in Ann Arbor Woods start at $130,000, with newer homes selling for as much as $300,000. The Nature Cove condominiums are located off St. Francis Stre5t.

Kimberly Hills is less than one quarter rental housing. New and old houses of varying architecture occupy tree-lined streets. Older homes are in the $150,000-$225,000 price range. This area is home also to a 134-unit upscale apartment complex, the Ponds at Georgetown, on Packard across from the Georgetown shopping center. To the east is Hearthstone, a 65-unit subdivision still under development off Gladstone; homes there run from about $200,000 to $280,000. Farther east, the new Woods of Ann Arbor, a 28-unit luxury condo, sold quickly.

Both neighborhoods are located within the Third Ward. Schools are Bryant and Pattengill elementaries, Tappan Middle School, and Pioneer High (children living on Manchester and Colony attend Allen Elementary and Huron High).

This neighborhood is bounded by Packard on the south, Platt Road and Huron Parkway on the east, Washtenaw to the north, and Manchester to the west. It is the home of Buhr Park, with its much-used swimming pool and ice rink, and Cobblestone Farm.

Houses range from tiny, brick-trimmed frame ranches built after World War II on Easy St. and environs ($90,000-$125,000) to large colonials and tri-levels built in the 1960's that can sell for as much as $160,000.

46: FORESTBROOKE/ PITTSFIELD VILLAGE

This heavily settled neighborhood is bordered by Huron Parkway and Platt on the west and Packard on the south. The northern Washtenaw Avenue border is packed with commercial businesses, with US-23 marking the eastern edge.

The two-, three-, and four-bedroom town-houses along and off Pittsfield Boulevard were built in 1943 as a self-contained new rural village. McKinley Properties took over the 422-unit complex in 1986, fixed up the aging units, simplified its name from Pittsfield Village to the Village, and sold off the units to individual owners as "market rate co-ops."

West of Pittsfield on the streets between

Platt and Parkwood is the Darlington subdivision. Small starter homes (Cape Cods, ranches, colonials), some of them 50 years old, sell in the $60,000-$115,000 range. Forestbrooke, built in the 1960's east of Pittsfield, has a mixture of ranches, colonials, Cape Cods, and tri-levels going for $90,000-$135,000. The many children in the area enjoy a neighborhood pool and swim club.

This neighborhood lies in the Third Ward. Schools are Pittsfield Elementary, Scarlett Middle School, and Huron High.

47 & 48: BROWN PARK & SCARLETT/MITCHELL

Young families find this area on the far southeast side of town, just north of I-94, appealing: the prices are right, and shopping and schools are nearby. The area is also home to the city's only mobile home community, tiny Sunnyside Park. Small three-bedroom ranches in both areas, built in the 1950's and 1960's, range in price from $75,000 to $115,000. A few twostory colonials in the Scarlett/Mitchell area, built in the 1960's, cost between $80,000 and

The Brown Park area includes the 281-unit Mill Creek Townhouses on Birch Hollow east of Stone School Road, and the 112-unit Homestead Commons apartments off Eisenhower near Packard Road. However, Scarlett/Mitchell's home ownership is rising fast as buyers snap up bargain-priced homes ($118,000-$140,000) in the 210-home Turnberry subdivision on Packard Road just west

In the Scarlett/Mitchell area, the Colonial Square Cooperative, on Wolverine and Williamsburg off Platt Road, offers rental townhouse units that are shared by both professionals and blue-collar workers. Colonial Square has a higher initial member buy-in fee than most other co-ops in town, but it also has the lowest rents. With one-bedroom units renting for just over $200, it's no surprise that this close-knit co-op has a long waiting list.

Both neighborhoods sport large numbers of families and a moderate contingent of children.

Scarlett/Mitchell and Brown Park are both located within Ward Three. Schools are Mitchell Elementary, Scarlett Middle School, and Huron and Pioneer high schools.

49: BRYANT

The Bryant neighborhood, just off Ellsworth and Stone School roads, is built on open and slightly rolling terrain, with young trees taking hold on many of the streets. The neighborhood is almost entirely made up of the Arbor Oaks subdivision along Champagne off Stone School Road and the Forest Hills and University Townhouses co-ops that sit north of Ellsworth Road between Stone School and Platt roads. All three developments were built in the late 1960's and early 1970's as federally supported low-cost housing. Arbor Oaks houses are small two- and three-bedroom ranches, most without basements, that sell for $49,000-$73,000, making them the least expensive single-family homes in the city.

The Bryant neighborhood lies in the Third Ward. Schools are Bryant and Pattengill elementaries (Braeburn Circle children are bused to Allen Elementary), Tappan Middle School, and Pioneer High.

50: RESEARCH PARK/ PHEASANT RUN

The Research Park/Pheasant Run neighborhood lies across Stone School Road from the Bryant neighborhood. It is an intensely research- and commercial-oriented area, with a single residential complex. The 472-unit Pheasant Run apartments, just south of I-94, house 100 percent of the neighborhood's residents. Schools are Bryant and Pattengill elementaries, Tappan Middle School, and Pioneer High. Research Park/Pheasant Run is located in the Fourth Ward.

52: ABBOT SCHOOL

This neighborhood lies on the far west side of town in the V-shaped area formed where M-14 and I-94 converge; Maple Road is its eastern edge. It includes the north end of the Stadium/Maple commercial strip, older homes south of Dexter Road, and the Hollywood Park subdivision to the north.

In Hollywood Park, off Maple along Hollywood and Sequoia Parkway, most of the houses are single-family two-story colonials, Cape Cods, ranches, and tri-levels, costing between $115,000 and $150,000. Farther west, out Dexter Road, houses come in a variety of ages and styles and sell for $75,000-$150,000. South of Dexter Road just east of I-94 is the recently completed 168-unit Arbor Landings apartment complex. The Kelly Green condominiums are on Miller Road between Maple and M-14.

This neighborhood lies within the Fifth Ward. Schools are Abbot Elementary, Forsythe Middle School, and Pioneer High.

THE SUBURBS

Faced with Ann Arbor's high property taxes and scarcity of vacant land, it's a no-brainer for many would-be home buyers to look to the surrounding townships. As a result, pastoral farmlands are being transformed swiftly into single family homes and condominiums. Township planners struggle to satisfy long-time residents who fear the loss of their peaceful, rural community while responding to landowners' desire to make a buck meeting the demand for more housing outside the city. Each township has taken a slightly different approach, but all face the same questions of how to support more and more people on the rustic infrastructure of a decade or more ago.

ANN ARBOR TOWNSHIP/ BARTON HILLS

Barton Hills is legally a village, but its streets and shared facilities are owned by a private home owners' association. As a result, access to Barton Hills is restricted to residents and their guests: large signs at the village entrance on Whitmore Lake Road announce "no thoroughfare." Membership in the exclusive Barton Hills Country Club is limited only by ability to pay. A social membership, without golf privileges requires a short wait, while those seeking full residential membership may wait up to 18 months.

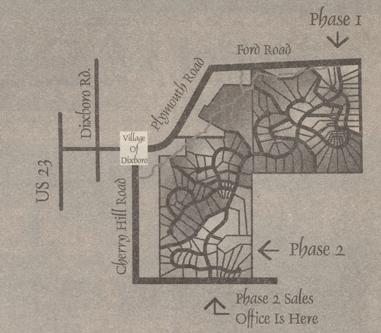

Most of the village's first homes, often of English Tudor or cottage style, were constructed during the 1930's. Architect-designed showpieces followed in the 1950's and 1960's. A few parcels are still available for homes even today.

RUSSELL AND ASSOCIATES

Welcome To Glennborough

Glennborough is a remarkable development of wooded and walkout sites on Ann Arbor's northeast side. The Developer Richard Adams Russell, Inc., has gone to great lengths to protect the natural wetlands, streams and trees so that this beautiful area maintains it's original character for the homeowners.

GLENNBOROUGH

The building sites in Glennborough range between one and five acres with many of those sites lending themselves to homes with walkout basements. There are preservation and conservation areas throughout Glennborough intended to keep the natural beauty of the land and give a sense of privacy and self seclusion for our homeowners while still living in an area with other families. Come drive through Glennborough.

See if it might be the perfect place for you and your family to build your new home.

community in the Ann Arbor area, Barton Hills could lose that distinction to some of the newer developments on the east and south side of the township. Off Geddes Road, private drives wind away to the carefully isolated riverfront retreats of the wealthy. The elegant Towsley Farms and Geddes Glen developments offer homes in the $500,000-$900,000 range. Farther north, off Gale Road, is the retreat-like Matthaei Farm community, with custom-built homes starting at $350,000. At the southeast corner of Cherry Hill and Plymouth construction is underway on the first phase of the 340-acre Glennborough Development. The first 14 homesites of one to five acres will host homes in the $400,000-$1 million range.

To the north, Dhu Varren Road is developing swiftly. On the south side of the street, Dhu Varren on the Park is offering sites for 60 homes starting at $197,000. Building sites are also available for $89,000 and up.

Northeast of the city, expensive homes are thinly scattered on large, semirural lots. That low-density development seems to suit existing residents just fine, but it's by no means clear that they can indefinitely resist pressures for more intense settlement, given their proximity to freeway access and the burgeoning western Wayne County suburbs of Detroit. Already home to two huge office parks on Plymouth Road west of Dixboro—the Ann Arbor Technology Park and Domino's Farms, the sprawling, Frank Lloyd Wright-influenced headquarters of Domino's Pizza-Ann Arbor Township recently added the U-M's Northeast Medical Complex at Earhart and Plymouth. Development of expensive single-family homes remains very active in this area.

The 100-home Tanglewood community is located near the split between Plymouth and Ford roads. Recently built multi-story contemporary dwellings sell in the $250,000-$450,000 range. The nearby hamlet of Dixboro has a small core of historic homes; they rarely come on the market, but one that did in 1993 sold for around $110,000. Smaller and newer Cape Cods on Dixboro's side streets sell for about $115,000. At the southwest corner of Dixboro and Plymouth roads, the final homes of Phase II of the Fleming Creek subdivision sell for $190,000 and up.

South of Dixboro and the tech park are three major residential developments. Laurel Gardens is a luxury condo development with semi-detached one- and two-story units in several different sizes. Farther south, near the intersection of Dixboro and Geddes roads, are the Arbors condominium project and the large Village Green luxury apartment complex.

Schools for this area are Logan and King elementaries, Clague Middle School, and Huron High.

WEBSTER TOWNSHIP/ NORTHFIELD TOWNSHIP

Despite their close proximity to downtown Ann Arbor, the portions of Northfield and southern Webster townships north and west of Barton Hills have long resisted development. But as the northern reaches of the city fill in, back roads here are increasingly dotted with large new homes. Older housing here for the most part is limited to farmhouses. Only a small number of these are in the Ann Arbor school district, and they tend to turn over quickly when they do become available.

Schools for the northern townships are Wines Elementary, Forsythe Middle School, and Pioneer High.

My Neiahborhood

"It's the last affordable housing in Ann Arbor! I've lived here for fifteen years, and it's been a real good neighborhood for the kids to grow up in. It's a place where people still know their neighbor . . . It's not students, it's working class people, plumbers, electricians—not a lot of people who work for the university, more people who work in the auto factories or own their own business.

"It's a great little neighborhood—everything you could possibly want is right there. There's a great park, and Buster's if you run out of groceries. There's Community Pharmacy, a wonderful little pharmacy, Packard Clinic, a little doctor's office. Age of Aquarium is gone, so you can't take your kids and walk through the pet store anymore. Car shop, laundromat, restaurant. Were you there when they [Achilles] had that wonderful sign up? 'Italian-American-Greek-German-Korean!' "

HOUSING

PITTSFIELD AND LODI TOWNSHIPS

Of all of Ann Arbor's neighbors, Pittsfield Township, to the south, seems most ready to face the growth spurt head-on. Pittsfield's beautiful, newly dedicated township offices on Michigan, just west of Platt, are clearly built to accommodate growth. The sign in front announcing "This building is mortgage free and debt free" suggests the township has been looking ahead for a while now.

South of I-94, State has been sprouting office buildings for some time while the Ann Arbor-Saline Road-I-94 intersection has become a major retail area. South of I-94 off Oak Valley Drive, a meandering road connecting Scio Church and Ellsworth roads, lie the Oak Meadows and Weatherstone condominiums and the sizable colonial homes of the Briar Hill subdivision, which run from $200,000 to $425,000. South of Ann Arbor-Saline Road and east of Maple, the Hills of Lake Forest fill in one more section of the map with homes offered for $190,000 and up. The Valley Ranch apartments farther east on Oak Valley are now joined by Valley Ranch Condominiums.

South on Lohr, past Ellsworth, is the enormous new Stonebridge golf course and housing development. Plans call for 711 detached condominiums and single-family homes in this one-square-mile area. Many of the sites back up to the golf course. Construction started in 1991 and is scheduled to continue through 1998. Arbor Creek and Boulder Ridge are off Waters Road west of Ann Arbor–Saline Road, and more major projects are in the works between Ann Arbor and Saline. The 1994 extension of Oak Valley Drive all the way up to Scio Church has opened up western Pittsfield and eastern Lodi townships to the bulldozers as well.

Large areas of Pittsfield and Lodi townships are served by the Saline school district, but much of the new growth is putting strains on the Ann Arbor schools. Redistricting for school year 1996–1997 shifts many children. Those students living in western Pittsfield (west of US-23) and Lodi townships who attend Ann Arbor schools are assigned to Lawton, Dicken, and Bryant elementaries, Slauson and Tappan middle schools, and Pioneer High.

East of Platt, Pittsfield Township is rapidly filling in with mostly modestly priced housing and apartment complexes. This area has become a sort of bedroom community for an increasingly hard-to-afford Ann Arbor, as well as Ypsilanti and points east. Saline Meadows, on Michigan Avenue east of US-23, is a recently finished 148-lot manufactured home community for home owners on a tight budget. Homes sell for $35,000–$50,000 and lots rent for $265–$285 a month. The older 122-lot Coachville trailer park is located on Carpenter Road just south of Packard with homes from $8,000 to $13,000 and lots renting for $247. Both parks have a fairly high turnover rate, making lots available on a regular basis.

The Silverleaf subdivision near Golfside and Ellsworth roads is composed mostly of small ranches, with a few large new houses mixed in. Prices range from $130,000 to $180,000. Homes along Golfside Road overlook the Washtenaw Country Club golf course. The new University Palisades subdivision off Ellsworth between Carpenter and Golfside roads offers ranches, colonials, and split-colonials, priced from about $180,000 to $210,000.

The Carpenter School neighborhood, between Washtenaw Avenue and Packard Road east of Carpenter Road, was one of the first parts of this area to be built up after World War II. The homes are mostly small frame structures and ranches that sell for $90,000-$125,000. Farther south and east are

"We have several children so we were looking for an area fairly close to the schools. We bought the lot because the size allowed us to build the home we wanted to build and gave us the space and the city amenities. We have a dirt road and the grading isn't the greatest. If it wasn't for the taxes that go with it, I wouldn't mind paving and putting in curbs and gutters. But if you want the country atmosphere, that's what you give up.

"I'd like more kids in the neighborhood, but people here are a bit older so there's fewer kids. Our oldest is a teenager but our youngest is eighteen months.

"If you like some privacy and yet some neighbors to talk to—we socialize but not a whole bunch—it's there. It's close country atmosphere . . . which is nice."

Scio's southern half is less thickly settled. Small- to mid-sized developments such as SommerSet with twelve site condos and Hunter's Crossing, with twenty homes, are quickly filling in the area around Zeeb and Park. The Uplands of Scio Ridge, off Wagner Road north of Scio Church Road, includes homes from $230,000 to about $325,000; lots are also available. Two more major projects, Saginaw Hills, on Liberty Road west of Wagner Road, and the Polo Fields, off Park Road near Zeeb, join Country Pines Estates, Arbor Pointe, and the Woods of Park Road. Farther out, Scio's still-numerous dirt roads are dotted with individual country houses, large and small. Those areas soon will be served by a new shopping strip facing onto Zeeb behind Wendy's. A Busch's supermarket and a drug-store will be the anchor tenants.

Seventeen acres in the Park-Zeeb area will soon be home to a local co-housing community. Based on a community concept, the group expects to move from a two-year planning stage to groundbreaking in spring of 1997. Plans call for a cluster of individually owned, condo-like units around a common house with shared dining, laundry, day care, meeting,

My Neighborhood

"Coming from New York, having a backyard of an acre was like heaven, and, at that time, the prices of the lots were reasonable. When we drove around and started talking to people, there were lots of families with young children. It was close to work and very accessible to the highway, so you could just jump around anywhere. Everyone seemed to know each other and we'd have monthly dinners. Now we've gotten too big to do that, but still there's a group of us that get together all the time. It's neat because we all have different aged kids, my kids being the younger ones in the group. We have friends with kids getting married—we have our first wedding next year. And that's really neat.

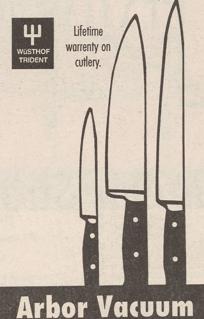

"Word of mouth in this neighborhood is everything. That's how we get our workmen, how we chose our school.

"You always want more space . . . but you know your neighbors, you like the yard, relaxing on the deck at night-[moving is] just not worth it."

Kurt and Laurie Schultz, with daughters Lindsay (in dress), Rachael, and baby Sarah.

My Neighborhood

"We certainly wanted to be in the Ann Arbor area but not necessarily downtown. Ann Arbor schools were important. Looking in outlying areas, we could see a lot of attractive features in Scio Township. Lower taxes—we enjoyed that. You see what we've got here: a very rural setting, really relaxing. It's hard to be away from the house. Minutes from downtown but we come home and there's deer in the yard, eating the hostas.

"We have block parties, all the babies get baby showers, we baby-sit for each other. Everybody's into family and children—it's really nice. Before Chris [their newborn] came, we talked about getting a smaller house, but the kids [sixteen and nineteen] are like, 'No. We'd have to give up our friends.'

"It was scary when we first built. We were one of the first in the subdivision of over one hundred homes. It was difficult to see what it was going to be, but we couldn't have wished for things to turn out as well as they have."

Matt and Pam Kuzel, with sons Greg, Chris, and Jeff. Ten-year residents Scio Township

CONDOMINIUMS

The distinction between single-family homes and condominiums has blurred with the growth of detached unit developments. Many of the newer single-family subdivisions in Pittsfield Township have common management and association fees. We list features, prices, and monthly association fees at major condominium complexes (over 20 units) in the Ann Arbor school district. Many smaller complexes have no management staff; when no phone number is listed, contact your realty agent to learn if any units are for sale. Monthly fee information is listed where available. Prices are either estimates by local realty agents or developers' list prices, both as of late July 1996. To locate a complex on the map, use the number at the end of each listing.

GEDDES LAKE

Wildlife, Wildlife, Wildlife

Early morning. A great blue heron wades the shoreline, while a mallard and his mate lead their ducklings across the dock and plop into the water. A pair of swans glides across a lake dappled with the reflections of pink and orange clouds. A flight of cedar waxwings alights in a pine tree just yards away. From your balcony you gaze at the wildlife at Geddes Lake and feel at one with nature.

Although conveniently close to schools, shopping, parks, and expressways in one of Ann Arbor's most desirable residential areas, Geddes Lake Townhouses offer residents an oasis from urban life.

Wildlife abounds, creating a tranquil environment for people home after a hard day's

Nestled among rolling hills, woods and water, Geddes Lake offers all the advantages of a well-planned townhouse community plus the benefits of home ownership in a thriving market-rate cooperative. Discover the peaceful nature of Geddes Lake Townhouses today.

Conveniently located on Ann Arbor's desirable northeast side. Off Huron Parkway between Plymouth Road and Geddes Road.

CHILD CARE PROGRAMS

The child care centers in this listing have been approved and licensed by Michigan Consumer and Industry Services. Eleven centers have also been accredited by the National Association for the Education of Young Children (NAEYC)—see listings. In addition to the centers listed here, Ann Arbor also has approximately 360 smaller licensed day care homes, most caring for six or fewer children. Contact the Child Care Network or the Day Care Homes Association of Washtenaw County (see below) for listings.

All of the public elementary schools in Ann Arbor offer before-school and/or after-school care for children in grades K-5; for information and locations, contact individual schools. Those private schools offering extended care before or after school are noted in the list above with this symbol: ①. For people ages 5-26 with developmental and physical disabilities there is an after-school program, the Just Us Club, at High Point Center, 1735 Wagner. Call Cherie Pinchem at 994-8111, ext. 1699, between 2 and 6 p.m.

The child care section has three parts. The first section lists community resources to help parents locate appropriate child care facilities. The second section lists child care centers offering full-time care. The third section lists centers offering only part-time care (including co-op nurseries).

Costs quoted for full-time care centers are for a 3-year-old child attending the center for full days, Monday through Friday. This figure represents the average cost of care at most Ann Arbor centers. Costs for younger children are usually higher; costs for older children are usually lower. Part-time centers and co-op prices are less standardized, reflecting each center's specific program. All centers take applications at any time, unless otherwise noted.

To locate a child care center on the map on p. 71, use the number and coordinates at the end of each listing. For example, the note 51, G6 at the end of the listing for Ann Arbor Hills Child Development Center means that the center is represented by the number 51 on the map and can be found at the intersection of column G and row 6.

B.A. indicates that all teachers at the center hold at least a B.A. in child development or a related field.

Drop-in indicates that drop-in child care is available.

(b) indicates centers that offer care before and/or after school hours for an additional charge over the standard weekly rate.

NAEYC indicates accreditation by the National Association for the Education of Young Children.

TT indicates that children must be toilet trained before enrollment in the program.

COMMUNITY CHILD CARE RESOURCES

Child Care Network, NEW Center, 1100 N. Main, Suite 201. 761–6040. This nonprofit organization provides information on child care centers, family day care homes, drop-in centers, parent education, child care alternatives, and types of financial assistance. Your Child Deserves Quality Care

Dear Prospective Parent:

Nearly six years ago when we decided to start a family one of our main concerns was who would be caring for our children during our work days away from home. Would we be able to find a safe place with loving but firm caregivers who our children would enjoy being with? Would there be a diverse staff who had a sense of humor but knew when limits had to be placed? A stable "team" who we could work with together as an "extended family" to provide quality care for the most precious thing in the world to us - our children.

Well, for almost six years now, we have had one or both of our children enrolled at Cradles and Cribs Day Care and Tots Learning Center, Inc. We believe this to be the best Day Care in the area. Kathy Bachman and her staff create for our children a loving, individualized "home away from home" and have provided us with the necessary "peace of mind" so many working parents are searching for. She and her staff (which include her daughter/director) have worked hard to set and maintain the high standards this day care offers. They have always remained open to suggestions and available to discuss concerns. Their constant awareness and feedback to us about our children at their various developmental stages has been outstanding

We also commend their commitment to parental involvement. They have welcomed parental participation on any day, with special programs and events to make the children's experience there a broad and fulfilling one. Our children have always looked forward to heading off to "Kathy's" - which made at least one morning transition a little easier!

We have recommended this facility to many of our friends and acquaintances who were looking for excellent, secure caregivers in a respectful, open and fun-loving environment. We would now like to recommend Cradles and Cribs Day Care and Tots Learning Center to you!

Sincerely, Juin Danielson Alliesson

Introduce your Teen to a different school of thought.

There exists a school of thought that says an education should prepare students for life, not simply the next grade. That there are more important values than those in a math book. More coaching than on a playing field. That's the kind of thinking found at Father Gabriel Richard High School, providing not only religious instruction, but some of the finest academic instruction in this area. To learn more, call 662-0496.

Five main organizations sponsor extensive sports programs for kids: Ann Arbor Public Schools Community Education and Recreation (Rec & Ed), 2765 Boardwalk Dr., 994-2300; the Ann Arbor YMCA, 350 S. Fifth Ave., 663-0536; the City of Ann Arbor Parks and Recreation, sixth floor, City Hall, 994-2780; the Jewish Community Center (JCC), 2935 Birch Hollow, 971-0990; and Washtenaw County Parks and Recreation, 2960 Washtenaw, 971-6337.

Washtenaw County Parks and Recreation maintains two facilities, the County Recreation Building, 2960 Washtenaw, and the Rolling Hills County Park at 7669 Stoney Creek (484-7669). The recreation building houses a wide variety of indoor fitness facilities and is home to badminton, floor hockey, and volleyball, as well as an indoor track. Rolling Hills offers a range of activities from a water slide ($3-$4) during the summer months to ice skating, cross-country skiing, and tobogganing during the winter months. Entry fees vary according to the day of the week but range from $2 to $6 per car, buses higher. Annual passes are $18 (county residents), $36 (nonresidents). Rolling Hills rents skis ($4-$5 per two hours) and toboggans ($1.50-$2 per hour); personal toboggans are prohibited. No skate rental.

Most fees for Rec & Ed programs were not available at press time. Those included are for residents of the Ann Arbor school district. Fees for classes at the Ann Arbor YMCA are

ANN ARBORITES

Fr. William Stevenson

Tending a flock of 4,000

After a decade as chaplain of St. Mary's, the Roman Catholic Parish at the University of Michigan, Father William Stevenson has begun to note a cyclic pattern. January brings freshmen who announce they can't tolerate their roommates one more day. In February, some students are in a panic that they're flunking out. In March or April, he sees many students trying to deal with their parents' divorces. "If the parents have stayed together for the sake of the children," he reflects, "it usually takes from September to April for them to realize [that]."

"Father Will," forty-nine, is a tall man with a brisk, purposeful stride. His ready smile endears him to the some 4,000 U-M students he ministers to each year. Though raised in East Lansing, he likes to say he got his "start" in Ann Arbor. His parents, each working on doctorates, met while playing bridge at a restaurant in Nickels Arcade. Married while still at the U-M, they taught at Michigan State for thirty years.

William Stevenson is the oldest of six boys. He felt a religious calling early, and, as was normal procedure in those pre-Vatican II times, he entered the seminary after the eighth grade. He remained affiliated with the Franciscan Order through high school, college, novitiate, and a year of theology. But the turmoil of the 1960's caused him to question himself and his faith. In 1970 he left the seminary and did graduate and post-graduate work at Indiana University. For eight years he taught German, Latin, and English at a small liberal arts college in Cincinnati. But while happy in the classroom, he couldn't quite shake the idea of religious life. In 1980 he returned to the seminary and was ordained for the Diocese of Lansing in 1982. He was assigned to St. Mary's as pastor in

A parish priest is also an administrator, and Stevenson's work includes participating in weekly staff meetings, cultivating alumni, and being a careful steward of the parish's limited financial resources. But Stevenson's true passion is working with students. He sees students throughout the year struggling with "faith difficulties-just intellectual curiosity about how to explain their faith." It's a key issue for college students, he notes, because "this is the first time they are away from home without the example and support of their parents or the social peer pressures of parochial high school, or maybe a close-knit neighborhood parish. They're on their own, thrown into a melting pot like this with so much diversity, so many people with such different ideas. So they go through a period of really questioning their faith; and if you can be there for them at some level or another, it's very rewarding."

Yet it's also saddening because, inevitably, the students he works with graduate and leave. "During their time of four or six years at U-M, students become a part of our parish life; I become attached," he wrote in a recent parish letter. "At graduation day, of course, they are ecstatic to leave Ann Arbor and begin life as a nonstudent, and I must feign joy and congratulations but grieve because likely we shall not meet again in this world.

"Here we sow, but to reap belongs to the kingdom."

OVERVIEW

Ann Arbor's health care giants are changing fast. The University of Michigan Health System is one of the country's largest and most prestigious academic medical centers, but after a decade of steady growth, it's downsizing. Mission Health, the parent of St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, is also cutting staff, as both hospitals seek to become more competitive in the newly cost-conscious health care marketplace.

They have a long way to go; Ann Arbor has the highest hospital costs in the country, according to the Alliance for Health, a nonprofit health planning agency. Dual acute care hospitals, cancer centers, outpatient campuses, satellite clinic networks, and helicopter shuttles provide residents with unparalleled health care access and some of the Midwest's best medical specialists, but at a steep price. HMO premiums here are the highest in the state, and an alliance of local companies has demanded a 40 percent cost cut.

Doctors in private practice mostly use St. Joe's expansive medical campus just east of Ann Arbor.

Ahhh – the sun, the beach, suntan oil and . .

sand under your contact lenses!

Wouldn't it be nice to reduce your need for glasses and contact lenses?

Ophthalmologists at the University of Michigan W.K. Kellogg Eye Center can help you with your decision.

Whether it is radial keratotomy or the excimer laser procedure with the latest generation of excimer laser technology — the Chiron TECHNOLAS Keracor 116 — you can be confident that our cornea specialists will help you choose the procedure that is right for you.

The Kellogg Eye Center is the only site in Michigan where the TECHNOLAS laser investigational protocols are being carried out. If your vision qualifies for the procedure, you can be assured that your excimer laser surgery will be performed under the strictest standards of excellence.

Refractive procedures — by world-class ophthalmologists recognized in the 1996-1997 edition of the Best Doctors in America — right in your own backyard.

A new way to see the world doesn't get much easier than that.

Many in primary care have formed one large group, Integrated Health Associates, and local specialists are also joining forces. The disappearance of the independent medical practitioner has been sudden, and the imminent arrival of flat fee "capitation" payment systems has raised fears that patient care could be shortchanged. Although the general quality of care in Washtenaw County is excellent, residents here are vulnerable to the same problems that trouble the rest of the country: limited insurance availability to the working poor, frequent claim denials, and often impersonal care.

Military veterans, at least, can look forward to enhanced care in the future. The Department of Veterans Affairs Medical Center (the "VA" hospital) is undergoing major construction and expansion, slated for completion in 1999.

Emergency phone numbers are listed on p. 188.

How to get there: "St. Joe's" is located at 5301 E. Huron River Drive (AA 48106) between Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti. AATA bus routes #3 (Huron River Drive) and #6 (South Industrial-Ellsworth) both serve the hospital and complex.

From US-23, take exit 37, Washtenaw eastbound (toward Ypsilanti). Turn left onto either Golfside or Hewitt and proceed straight ahead to the Mission Health complex entrance. From I-94, take US-23 north and continue as described.

If you're coming from central Ann Arbor, north-bound Golfside and Hewitt cross Ellsworth and Packard as well as Washtenaw. Both Golfside and Hewitt lead directly to entrances to the Mission Health complex.

From northeast Ann Arbor, Geddes Road eastbound from Huron Parkway crosses Dixboro just east of US-23. Turn right onto southbound Dixboro, which dead-ends at E. Huron River Drive. Turn left

Description: Mission Health Corporation is a comprehensive health care system that encompasses inpatient services, an outpatient care network, home care, senior services, business health services, hospice care, and managed health care. Mission Health units include St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Saline Community Hospital, and hospitals in Southfield and Howell, as well as outpatient facilities and specialty centers in Washtenaw, Livingston, and western Wayne counties. The Mission Health Corporation is the result of a joint operating agreement be-tween Catherine McAuley Health System of Ann Arbor and Providence Hospital and Medical Centers, based in Southfield.

Mission Health's St. Joseph Mercy Hospital is located on a large campus between Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti. In addition to the hospital, programs and facilities here include the Reichert Health Building, the Senior Health Building, the McAuley Family Birth Place, the McAuley Rehabilitation Institute, the Huron Oaks Building, and three recently opened facilities, the Robert H. and Judy Dow Alexander Cancer Care Center (which also houses the Michigan Pain Institute), the Michigan Heart and Vascular Institute, and the Michigan Orthopedic Center

HEALTH CARE

Mercy Health Services and the Daughters of Charity National Health System, Inc. As a Catholic organization, Mission Health has policies that prohibit its staff from dispensing and prescribing contraceptives and from performing vasectomies, female sterilizations, and elective abortions.

Parking and shuttle service: Parking at the Reichert Health Building and other patient facilities is free. All lots have reserved senior and handicapped spaces. Free shuttle buses circle the complex throughout the day, stopping at parking lots, shelters, and building entrances to pick up pedestrians. If you are inside one of the buildings and want to expedite transportation, dial extension 3344 on the inhouse phone and a bus will be dispatched. Buses run Mon.—Fri. 8:30 a.m.—8 p.m. and Sat. & Sun. 9 a.m.—5 p.m.

MISSION HEALTH MAJOR FACILITIES AND PROGRAMS

Note: Facilities are located at the E. Huron River Drive location unless otherwise noted. See Health Services, below, for chemical dependency, mental illness, and other specialized treatment programs.

Robert H. and Judy Dow Alexander Cancer Care program. 712–5947. Outpatient facility of the McAuley Cancer Care Center. This new community-funded building houses treatment areas, a laboratory and pharmacy, physicians' offices, and support services. Also houses the Michigan Pain Institute, which diagnoses and treats chronic pain.

Ambulatory Surgery Facility. 712–5000. Performs surgery on an outpatient basis.

Amicare Home Health Care, 806 Airport. 741–5700. See Hospice and Home Health Care, below.

Business Health Services, 3075 Clark (Washtenaw Medical Arts Bldg.), Suite 200. 712–2376. Formerly the Occupational Medicine Department, Business Health Services treats work-related injuries and illnesses, Mon.–Fri. 8 a.m.–4:30 p.m. Another office is located at the St. Joseph Health Building–Maple (see below).

Huron Oaks Building, 5401 McAuley. Houses mental health services, including adult and adolescent partial hospitalization (712–5750), and an adult crisis residential unit.

St. Joseph Mercy Health Building-Maple (Formerly Maple Health Building), 501 N. Maple at Dexter. 662–5222. Houses an urgent care clinic, physicians' offices, and an office of Mission Health's Business Health Services (occupational medicine).

McAuley Family Birth Place, St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. 712–5400 or (800) 231–2211. Call to arrange for obstetrical tours and prenatal classes. Includes 17 labor-delivery-recovery rooms (8 available for postpartum care), a mother-baby unit with a nursery, and a 15-bed special care nursery. The center also offers prenatal and postpartum exercise classes; call 712–3094.

McAuley Rehabilitation Institute. 712–4162. Inpatient and outpatient services include traumatic brain injury day treatment, occupational and physical therapy, speech/language pathology, therapeutic recreation, work capacity services, and rehabilitation psychology.

McAuley Urgent Care and McAuley Pediatric Urgent Care. See Urgent Care Clinics, p. 99.

Michigan Heart & Vascular Institute. 712–5205. This physician-owned cardiac care and research facility provides education, diagnosis, outpatient catheterization laboratory, rehabilitation, and support services to cardiovascular patients and their families. It is closely linked with the cardiac services of St. Joe's, which performs more open heart surgeries than any other hospital in the county.

Michigan Orthopedic Center. 5315 Elliott. Opened in early 1995, this is one of the first facilities in the nation to combine under one roof comprehensive orthopedic services, from diagnosis to treatment to rehabilitation. Orthopedic physicians and neurosurgeons offer highly specialized orthopedic services, including total joint replacement, arthroscopy, hand surgery, spine surgery, and sports medicine.

Office of Health Promotion. 712-3675. Offers stop-smoking and other health education programs. Speakers on various health issues available by arrangement. Promotes a variety of workplace and corporate wellness services.

Reichert Health Building. 712–5300. St. Joe's main outpatient center, the Reichert Building combines the offices of several hundred private physicians with a lab, pharmacy, radiology services, nutrition services, a health information library (open to the public), and the Arbory restaurant. The county's only outpatient diabetes program certified by the Department of Health and recognized by the American Diabetes Association is located at the Reichert building as is McAuley Breast Care (see Women's Health, p. 104).

St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. 712–3456. This 665-bed acute care hospital is the center of the Mission Health Ann Arbor campus and offers complete medical and surgical inpatient and outpatient care. The hospital discharged 28,162 patients and recorded 340,167 outpatient visits and 38,307 emergency center visits in fiscal 1995.

and edic ent. Towsley Senior Health Building, Geriatric Health Services. 712–5189. Houses the new Huron Woods residential care program for people with Alzheimer's and other dementia-related illness, Geriatric Health Services, Lifeline, and the Office of Health Promotions. St. Joe's also donates space to house several community agencies of particular interest to seniors, including Neighborhood Senior Services, Elderwise, the Washtenaw County Council on Aging, Catholic Social Services senior program and the Arthritis Foundation. The nonprofit Institute for Preventative Sports Medicine (434–3390) is also located here.

Travelers' Health Services and Immunization Clinic. 712-2798. This clinic maintains up-to-date information on necessary immunizations and health precautions for travel overseas.

Women's Health Services. 712–4952. Includes an inpatient women's unit, breast health services, obstetrics and gynecology, a women's cardiac program, and women's health education programs, including an annual women's conference.

Visiting hours: General: 11 a.m.-8 p.m. daily. Mother-Baby Unit: 2-3 p.m. & 7-8 p.m.; grandparents, 2-8 p.m.; fathers, all day. Check with individual units for specific hours.

Selecting a personal physician is an important decision and there are many questions to which you will want answers:

- Where is the closest Health Center with the services I need?
- What are the office hours, and are there evening hours?
- · Are the physicians Board Certified?
- Does the Health Center have X-ray and laboratory services on site?
- Will I have access to the specialty services at the U-M Medical Center if I need them?

Get answers to these questions by calling the free U-M Primary Care Referral Service.

Professional staff will answer your questions while they help you select a health care provider and schedule your first appointment.

campus area direct drivers to the UMMC via Observatory Street and Zina Pitcher Place.

Description: The UMMC includes the U-M Medical School, whose faculty serves as the hospitals' medical staff. The hospitals in turn provide educational and research facilities for students and faculty. UMMC researchers receive more than $200 million in research grants each year. As a research institution, the UMMC can offer new and experimental treatments not available elsewhere. However, patients at a research hospital may also find themselves being scrutinized and discussed by medical students and faculty.

The UMMC comprises a network of specialty hospitals and the adult general hospital; the Taubman Health Care Center, housing over 110 specialty outpatient clinics; several other outpatient clinics; the Taubman Medical Library; and many research facilities. There are over 1,600 physicians, including residents and interns, and more than 1,300 nurses on the UMMC's medical staff. They handle more than 800,000 patient visits each year. In addition to the UMMC, the University of Michigan Health System also includes an HMO, M-Care, and numerous clinics located throughout Ann Arbor and surrounding communities.

Parking and shuttle service: The Patient/Visitor Parking Deck is next to the Taubman Center and the main entrance to University Hospital, off the semicircular Medical Center Drive. You can also enter the deck through the underground tunnel in front of the Maternal and Child Health Center. The deck is staffed from 5:45 a.m. to 1:30 a.m. daily. Parking costs 60¢ for each of the first three hours, 25¢ for each of the next three hours, and higher charges after that, with a maximum daily charge of $4.50. Parking decks are free to individuals with state (not city) handicapped permits. Valet parking is available at the main entrance of University Hospital from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m. Cost for valet parking is $6 a day or fraction ($2.50 with handicapped sticker).

Free shuttle buses run between the many medical campus buildings. The North Ingalls Building-Mott/ Women's shuttle runs every 20 minutes, 6:45 a.m.-5:15 p.m. The Riverview-Kellogg Eye-Taubman shuttle runs every 30 minutes, 7 a.m.-7:30 p.m. The Main Entrance-VA Hospital shuttle runs approximately every 30 minutes, 8:20 a.m.-5:15 p.m. All U-M buses running between North Campus and Central Campus make stops at the Kresge Medical Research Complex near University Hospital.

Comprehensive Cancer Center, 936–9583. Diagnosis, consultation, treatment, and research for a variety of cancers. Multidisciplinary clinics throughout the Medical Center treat breast cancer, prostate cancer, skin cancer, head and neck cancers, and lymphoma, among others. Plans call for consolidation of all cancer clinics in the Cancer Geriatrics Center building by February of 1997.

Kellogg Eye Center, 1000 Wall St. 763–8122. Provides outpatient eye care, as well as education and research. Patients typically are referred here by community ophthalmologists; nonreferred patients may make appointments in the eye clinic.

Maternal and Child Health Center. This center-which comprises four of the Medical Center's seven hospitals (in adjacent buildings), provides specialty care for women, infants, children, and adolescents. Child and Adolescent Psychiatric Hospital (764–7269) provides short-term treatment for mood and developmental disorders, autism, and depression. It also offers an infant and early childhood care program and an early adolescence clinic. (See also Mental Illness, p. 103.) Holden Perinatal Hospital (936–4000) provides care for newborns and infants. Mott Children's Hospital (936–4000) treats childhood diseases and illnesses. And Women's Hospital (936–4000) offers obstetrical care for normal and high-risk pregnancies.

How to get there: The VA Hospital is located at 2215 Fuller, on the edge of the U-M's North Campus, about a mile east of the University of Michigan Medical Center. Take US-23 to the Geddes Road exit (exit 39). Travel Geddes west, which runs into Fuller. Fuller will lead to the entrance of the patient and visitor parking structure, located at the intersection of Fuller and Glazier Way. Patient and visitor parking is available on the first two levels of the medical center's east parking structure, located at the intersection of Fuller and Glazier Way.

Description: The VAMC provides inpatient and outpatient health care to veterans residing in southeast Michigan and northwest Ohio. A variety of specialty services and rehabilitation programs attract VA referrals from all over the lower peninsula of Michigan. The VAMC also serves as a teaching hospital associated with the U-M and more than 40 other institutions. About 160 ongoing research projects involve studies on subjects ranging from aging to substance abuse.

In recent years, the center has been shifting its focus from inpatient care to outpatient services to keep up with the changing needs of its patients. An ongoing expansion project has already added a new power plant, research facility and parking structure. A second parking structure and a 300,000-square-foot clinical building are currently under construction, scheduled to be completed in 1998.

The VAMC offers special treatment programs to meet the health care needs of women veterans, Persian Gulf veterans, spinal cord-injured patients, former prisoners of war, and other veteran populations with specific health care needs.

You plan this birthday celebration.

For women, every birth is a once in a lifetime experience. Every new family member is special . . . every woman and every birth unique. For this unique exceptional experience, consider the care of a Certified Nurse-Midwife. Certified Nurse-Midwives focus on the physical, as well as the educational, emotional, cultural, socio-economic and other needs of individual women and their families. We work closely with women and their partners to achieve the birth experience they want. In addition, our services are comprehensive and include family planning; preconception counseling; service during pregnancy, labor and birth; referral to physicians and other health care providers as needed; wellwomen gynecological care; and care during the perimenopause.

Patients may be seen in Ann Arbor at the A. Alfred Taubman Health Care Center and the East Ann Arbor Health Center, U-M Brighton and Plymouth Health Centers and in Ypsilanti. Most types of insurance are accepted.

For more information, please call the Nurse-Midwifery Service at (313) 763-2311.

HMO's, PPO's, AND HEALTH INSURANCE

Health Maintenance Organizations (HMO's) and Preferred Provider Organizations (PPO's) are alternatives to traditional health care insurance. Both offer health care from a network of physicians and hospitals. PPO members may seek care from outside the network, but must pay more if they do. HMO's are more restrictive: a patient is assigned to a primary care physician who coordinates care and must authorize referrals to specialists. On behalf of employers, HMO's and PPO's contract with physicians, inospitals, and other health care providers to supply health care for their employees. In Michigan, each HMO must accept some individual subscribers; see listings below for information on enrollment pended.

Care Choices, 34605 12 Mile, Farmington Hills 48331. 971–7667. This HMO, offered by Mercy Health Plans, is affiliated locally with the Mission Health Corporation and with Chelsea Hospital. Over 2,600 participating physicians and 39 hospitals serve nearly 17,000 members. Open enrollment for individual subscribers takes place the last two weeks in November; call 971–7667 in early October for information. Businesses interested in information on Care Choices membership for their employees can call 971–7667

Individuals who are already Care Choices members, or who are being offered membership through their employers, can call (800) 852–9780, Mon.–Fri. 8:30 a.m.–4:30 p.m., for information.

Community Health Partners (CHP), 2000 Hogback Rd., Suite 9. 677–6790. Owned by the Allesiance, L.L.C., a company jointly owned by the Huron Valley Physicians Association and Mission Health Corporation, this PPO currently offers coverage only to businesses and insurance carriers. Coverage includes all of Washtenaw and Livingston counties and parts of neighboring counties.

M-Care, 2301 Commonwealth Blvd., AA 48105. 747-8700. A managed-care organization affiliated with the University of Michigan, M-Care offers an HMO, a Point of Service Plan (allowing visits to providers outside the HMO for higher co-payments), and a PPO to businesses in southeastern Michigan and in the Flint, Lansing, Jackson and Saginaw areas. It is affiliated with more than 40 hospitals and has more than 3,000 doctors in its physician network. Approximately 95,000 people are covered under an M-Care plan. Individual enrollment in M-Care's HMO takes place during an annual monthlong open enrollment period, usually in May. Enrollment information for businesses varies by number of employees. For more information, call 747–8700, Mon.-Fri. 8 a.m.-5 p.m.

Preferred Choices, 34605 12 Mile, Farmington Hills 48331. (800) 585–8455. This PPO, administered by Mercy Health Plans, is affiliated locally with the Mission Health Corporation and the Huron Valley Physicians Association. Over 3,600 participating physicians and 47 hospitals serve over 67,000 members. Preferred Choices Options, a PPO in which care is coordinated by a primary care physician, is also available.

The Ann Arbor Area Chamber of Commerce (211 E. Huron, 665–4433) offers group health insurance to its members, including individuals. Some unions and nonprofit organizations also offer insurance, but in general, accessible group policies are much harder to find in Washtenaw County than they were even a few years ago.

Don't keep stress bottled up

Life is stressful, but if you're drinking to deal with the pressure, you may need to cut back. Take this test:

Do you have more than 12 drinks per week (male) or more than 9 per week (female)?

Do you drink during most of your leisure time? Do you drink to deal with depression or loneliness?

If you do, the DrinkWise education program can help. It is an alcohol management program that is effective, brief, professional, flexible and completely confidential.

DrinkWise is not for individuals with severe drinking problems, but for those people who simply want to make better choices about drinking.

Call our Ann Arbor office for a free, no-obligation, private orientation or access us on the internet.

SEXUALLY TRANSMITTED DISEASES

AIDS/STD Clinic (Washtenaw County Human Services Group, Health Services Group), 555 Towner, Suite 110, Ypsilanti. 484-6760. Open three times a week, this clinic provides free (donations accepted) diagnosis and treatment of sexually transmitted diseases and anonymous and confidential HIV/AIDS testing and counseling. A Wednesday evening STD clinic, staffed by U-M and Mission Health Corporation doctors, also offers HIV/AIDS counseling. HIV/AIDS counseling and testing is generally by appointment (walk-ins can't count on being seen). Appointments can be booked Mon.-Fri. 9 a.m.-5 p.m. (usually two weeks in advance). The STD clinic operates on a first-come, first-served walk-in basis Mon. & Thurs. 6:30-9 p.m. and Wed. 9-11:30 a.m. A one-hour marriage class is offered every Thurs., 6-7 p.m. The class offers the state-mandated counseling on HIV and STD's that Michigan couples must receive in order to obtain the health certificate required for a marriage license application. Call for an appointment; fees are $15/individual or $25/couple.

University Health Service, 207 Fletcher. 763-4511. The U-M Health Service conducts an HIV/AIDS counseling and testing program. Individuals wanting to be tested are encouraged to attend a one-hour HIV/AIDS Education Session. Sessions are held during the week in the 3rd-floor conference room, at times posted in the Nurse Clinic and included on the HIV testing information tape (763-6969). Those who are unable to attend one of the scheduled education sessions, or who are uncomfortable with a group format, can obtain an individual appointment with a counselor. Once the class is completed, patients can be tested anonymously (using an assumed name) and confidentially on a first-come, first-served walkin basis. There's no fee for enrolled U-M students or UHS prepaid health plan members. The fee for staff, faculty, and community residents is $35. Appointments are encouraged, since walk-in visits frequently require a lengthy wait. Hours: Mon., Tues., Wed., & Fri. 8 a.m.-4:30 p.m.; Thurs. 9 a.m.-4:30 p.m.;

HIV/AIDS Resource Center (HARC). (800) 578-2300. VOLUNTEERING

Many local community service organizations and civic institutions need volunteer help—from the Ann Arbor Summer Festival to the U-M's Matthaei Botanical Gardens. Whether you're a high school student or a retiree, you can find something useful and interesting to do as a volunteer. In the listings above, those organizations seeking volunteers are marked with the symbol V. In addition, several local volunteering directories and clearinghouses can help you find a way to help:

The Washtenaw United Way's Volunteer Action Center (VAC), 2301 Platt, links individual and group volunteers to area nonprofit organizations' needs for volunteers. Prepares a weekly volunteer column in the Ann Arbor News and offers education and consultation on volunteer issues. Publishes the Volunteer Opportunities Directory, updated monthly, and the Youth Volunteer Guide, which lists volunteer opportunities at 90 local agencies for young people ages 12–17. For a copy of either directory, or for assistance finding a place to volunteer, call the VAC at 971-5852.

Volunteers in Action (VIA), U-M Hillel, 1429 Hill. 769-0500. VIA Hillel links U-M students with the local community through volunteer activities, educational dialogues, and social events. Meetings and activities focus on aiding the homeless, children, the elderly, and the environment.

Project Serve (936-2437) is a U-M organization involved in bringing students and causes together. More than a database, Project Serve seeks to foster a movement that thoughtfully addresses the challenges faced by today's society. Community service and social action are the products. Leadership and empowerment are the tools.

The student community-service organization at Greenhills School published the Volunteers Resources Book. Funded by the Washtenaw United Way and the Ann Arbor Area Community Foundation Youth Council, the booklet is available from the United Way, 971-9191.

The Youth Volunteer Corps (Ann Arbor YMCA, 350 S. Fifth Ave. 663-0536.) is an organization in which area young people assist nonprofit organizations, working in ten-member teams. During the school year, projects last one to two days, and there are one- to four-week projects during the higher education defines Ann Arbor.

Economically and culturally,

University of Michigan

With its 36,687 students as of fall 1995, the University of Michigan is virtually a city unto itself and a pervasive influence in Ann Arbor. The university is the economic engine that drives the city, providing roughly one job for every three adults in Ann Arbor.

The university hosts a wide range of cultural events, featuring both local and visiting artists, musicians, writers, and public figures, and most events are open to the public. (For details, see Entertainment, p. 141, and the monthly Observer Events calendar.) The U-M's many museums and libraries, also accessible to outsiders, further enrich the city's cultural life. (For a detailed list, see Libraries, Museums, and Galleries, p. 119.)

ENROLLMENT

The U-M has 20 schools and colleges, 12 of which offer undergraduate degree programs. For information of the college of the co tion or application materials, call the Office of Undergraduate Admissions, 1220 Student Activities Building, 764–7433. The application fee is $40. Prospective first-year and transfer students face extremely competitive admission standards. Last year, there were over 19,000 applicants for only 5,000 openings. To enroll for a graduate degree in the liberal arts, contact the Horace H. Rackham Graduate School, 915 E. Washington, 764-4415. Professional schools, such as business, engineering, law, and medicine, handle their own admissions and should be contacted directly. School phone numbers are available through the university operator: 764-1817.

Call the Office of Undergraduate Admissions, 764-7433, for undergraduate nondegree course information and applications. Prospective visiting students in the College of Literature, Science, and the Arts should request a "nondegree" application Visiting undergraduate applicants to all other schools should request a "guest" application.

Contact the individual school or college to receive a catalog of course offerings. Time schedules for the entire university are available at 1419 Mason Hall (764–6810). For a catalog of course offerings for liberal arts courses, call the LS&A Academic Information and Publications Office in Mason Hall, 764-6810.

First- and second-year undergraduate (lower division) tuition and fees for the 1996-1997 academic year are $5,532 for Michigan residents and $17,738 for nonresidents. Third- and fourth-year (upper division) in-state students pay $6,260; out-of-state students pay $19,000. Current rates represent a 3.0 percent increase over 1995 tuition for lower division residents, a 5.0 percent increase for upper division residents, and a 5.0 percent increase for lowerand upper-division nonresidents. Questions regarding residency should be addressed to the Residency Status Office, 764-1400.

Current fees for graduate students in the Rackham School are $748 for the first credit hour (full year), $462 for each additional credit hour (for Michigan residents), and $1,257 for the first hour, $971 for each additional hour (nonresidents). Current rates represent a 6.8 percent increase over 1995 tuition for resident and nonresident graduate students. Other graduate programs have different fees.

Nondegree students should contact the office of their individual program directly. Fees for nondegree students are the same as for undergraduate degree students in the upper division classes.

Classes are available at half-cost to people age 65 and older (call 764-6280). Those who want to visit a single class are welcome at large lectures without prior permission. Visits to smaller classes, however, require the instructor's permission.

EMPLOYMENT

Including the Medical Center, the U-M Ann Arbor campus employs 28,655. Job openings are posted on seven campus job boards and are updated every Monday afternoon. Boards are located at the LS&A Building, 500 S. State St.; Administrative Services, 1009 Greene St.; 300 N. Ingalls Bldg. (eighth floor); U-M Main Hospital, near the cafeteria; North Campus Commons, 2101 Bonisteel Blvd.; Harlan Hatcher Graduate Library, 920 North University Ave., fourth floor, and Wolverine Tower, 3003 S. Eastern Michigan University lies between Washtenaw Ave. and Huron River Dr. in Ypsilanti, 487-1849. EMU offers undergraduate degrees in 180 fields of study within the colleges of arts and science, business, education, health and human services, and technology. EMU offers also 60 master's degrees, several specialist in arts degrees, as well as one doctoral degree, in educational leadership. Eastern's Three Year Baccalaureate Program allows highly directed students to accelerate their undergraduate work when meeting specific criteria. EMU's Continuing Education offers courses in 83 locations in Michigan and internationally. Last fall, EMU enrolled 23,557 students-17,228 undergraduate and 5,329 grad students.

Prospective students should contact either the Undergraduate Office of Admissions, 487-3060, or the Graduate Office of Admissions, 487-3400, for a course catalog and an application. The application fee is $25 for undergrads, $25 for grad students. Campus tours are offered Mon.-Fri. 10 a.m. & 2 p.m. Tours begin at Pierce Hall; parking is available in the McKenny Union parking lot. First- and second-year undergraduate tuition is $93.75 per credit hour for residents of Michigan and Ohio, and $245 per credit hour for nonresidents. Graduate tuition is $141 per credit hour for Michigan residents and $327 for non-

First-year students may apply a year in advance. Transfer students should call the Office of Admissions, 487-0200, for application procedures. Nondegree guest students should also contact the Office of Admissions; they are admitted (if space is available) without going through the regular admissions process. To audit a class, a student must enroll in the class using a special audit enrollment card signed by the head of the appropriate department. Tuition is the same as for graded course work.

EMU currently employs 1,024 full-time-equivalent faculty members and 1,129 staff members. For employment information, call 487-0016. Lists of job openings are also maintained at 16 locations around the EMU campus. Call for job board locations.

Washtenaw Community College, 4800 E. Huron River Dr., 973–3300, offers classes and associate's degrees in business, health and public services, humanities and social sciences, math and natural sciences, and technology. Students at WCC come from all age groups and all walks of life. Some seek practical job skills; others earn credits that will eventually be transferred to a four-year college or university. Many people attend WCC to develop basic skills in reading, writing, math, or computers. Businesses and organizations also turn to WCC for employee enrichment classes and seminars. Contact Business and Community Services at 677-5016.

In addition to its main campus, set amid woods and a former apple orchard across from St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, WCC has regional centers in Ypsilanti, Saline, Chelsea, and Brighton.

Prospective students should contact the Admissions Office, 973-3543, for a course catalog, a time schedule, and an application. The application fee is $15. Residents of Washtenaw County receive preferential enrollment if class space is limited. Tuition is $52 per credit hour for county residents and $75-$95 per credit hour for nonresidents. There is a $3 per credit hour instructional technology fee and a $23 nonrefundable registration fee per semester for all students. To audit a class, students must register and pay the regular tuition, but no grade or course credit is given. County residents over age 65 can take classes free through the Emeritus Program, 973-3543

LIBRARIES

PUBLIC AND SPECIAL LIBRARIES

Ann Arbor District Library, 343 S. Fifth Ave. 994-2333. This huge, busy library circulates books, periodicals, audio records and tapes, CD's, CD-ROM's, art prints, books on tape, and videocassettes. It also has a collection of large-print books for vision-impaired readers and an adult collection geared toward new readers of English. The library boasts a superb reference staff; youth programs; the Popular "Booked for Lunch" lecture series that brings in local authors and critics to speak; "Down-town Sounds," a free monthly series of music concerts; and much more. Computer services have been recently expanded. Access to the library's online catalog is available to Patrons with PC's through Dial-Up Access, 994-5301 (for information call, 994-8317). Free World Wide Web access is available in the main library and the branches, and the main library has computers available for word processing and other applications. "Inform" can be accessed on-line to locate information for local clubs and organizations. Fast and easy selfserve check-out station available. Main library hours: Mon. 10 a.m.-9 p.m.; Tues.-Fri. 9 a.m.-9 p.m.; Sat. 9 a.m.-6 p.m.; Sun. 1-5 p.m. (school year only). In addition to the main library, there are three branch libraries: Nellie Loving, 3042

U-M MUSEUM OF ART

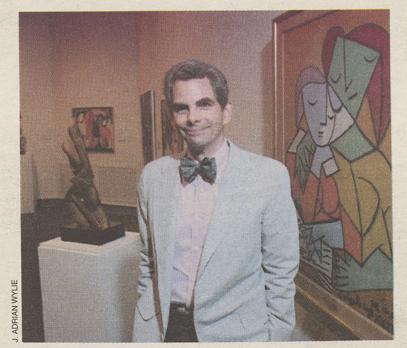

Bringing people and art together

Bill Hennessey reaches out

The University of Michigan Museum of Art is having a birthday, and everyone is invited. You get the impression that if director Bill Hennessey had his way, he'd personally escort each guest through the entire collection. There are 14,000 works in the museum's permanent collection, ranging from Han Dynasty tomb figures to a Tiffany chandelier, from Italian Renaissance panel paintings to contemporary photographs.

The museum hasn't always been so welcoming. Alumni Memorial Hall was conceived in 1865 as a monument to the U-M's Civil War dead; however, fund-raising went so slowly that the building wasn't finished until 1910. And it wasn't until 1946 that the university gathered art previously displayed in the library and other campus buildings to create the museum. Even then, it was initially seen as a pure lab for the visual arts, a teaching and research resource rather than a "Virtually all of us who work in museums were taught that our primary duties were to collect, preserve, display, and interpret works of art. We defined our jobs and our priorities in terms of objects," recalls Hennessey. "But a great collection of beautifully conserved and carefully studied objects does not make a great museum. People-an engaged, involved audience, excited and challenged by what they see-are

Since Hennessey arrived six years ago, he's been working to engage the museum's growing audience with intriguing exhibitions and a blossoming roster of public events. The museum's outreach efforts are culminating in a year-long fiftieth birthday celebration, beginning with a community birthday party on September 22. A series of family-oriented exhibits highlighted by themed parties will take place throughout the year. An exhibit of Venetian paintings from the sixteenth through eighteenth centuries is the occasion for "A Family Day in Venice," October 17, complete with workshops in improvisational comedy. A show of prints from the French town of Epinal is celebrated November 24, with a French country market featuring games, music, and refreshments.

Fully incorporating the use of the Internet is also part of the museum's outreach. Digitized images have been made of every piece in the collection, and though copyright issues restrict public access to some pieces, the majority are now available at http://www.umich.edu/~umma/ The entire Venice exhibit, which opens October 27, was made available on the Web months in advance, allowing teachers to prepare classes for museum visits. After the field trip, students can return to the Web to refresh their memories.

"Once a museum was the realm of the nine goddesses who presided over all creativity," notes Hennessey. Now he's out to show us the link between the creations the museum displays and the processes that brought them into being. "Today's Museum of Art," he says, "should be a modern home to those muses." -Chris Russo

Creek Dr., 994-2353; Northeast, 2713 Plymouth (in Plymouth Mall), 996-3180; and West, 2503 Jackson (in Westgate shopping center), 994-1674. MAIN U-M LIBRARIES

The U-M library system is one of the largest research collections in the country and probably one of the most accessible (see U-M map, p. 115, for locations). Although use of the library system is free to all, borrowing privileges, when available at all, come at a high price for outsiders.

Harlan Hatcher Graduate Library, on the Diag behind Angell Hall. 764-0400. This is the largest facility in the system, primarily meant for research, specifically in the humanities and social sciences. MIRLYN computer terminals on each floor list all publications in the university library system. MITS (Michigan Information Transfer Source) is the library's research and document delivery service. Information is located and delivered, for a fee. Call 763-5060. The Grad's stacks are open to the public for browsing. Hours Sept.-Apr.: Mon.-Thurs. 8 a.m.-midnight; Fri. till 10 p.m.; Sat. 10 a.m.-6 p.m.; Sun. 1 p.m.-midnight. Hours May-Aug.: Mon.-Fri. 8 a.m.-10 p.m.; Sat. 10 a.m.-6 p.m.; Sun. 2-10 p.m.

The Special Collections Library (764-9377), on the seventh floor of the Graduate Library, has rotating exhibits that usually feature works from the library's own collection of rare books and manuscripts, including the well-known Labadie Collection of social protest literature. Also houses the Papyrus Collection—the finest collection on the American continent of original papyri, including 30 leaves of the first known copy of the Epistles of St. Paul. The library sponsors guided tours of this collection, which attracts visitors and researchers from all over the world. Hours: Mon.-Fri. 10 a.m.-5 p.m., Sat. till noon.

The Map Library (764-0407), on the eighth floor of the Graduate Library, has an outstanding collection of contemporary and historical maps from all over the world. Hours: Mon.-Fri. 10 a.m.-5 p.m.

People who are not affiliated with the U-M who wish to check out books from the Graduate Library must purchase a user's pass for $250/year; less expensive group rates are available. The pass is also good at the U-M's many departmental libraries

Shapiro Undergraduate Library, 919 South University. 764-7490. The Shapiro Library (formerly known as the UGLI) offers books. periodicals, and a wide range of electronic resources, all listed on the MIRLYN computer system. These materials are geared toward the curricular needs of undergraduate students. There is also a small collection of leisure reading materials. The building recently underwent a two-year, $11 million renovation and expansion. A central campus science library on the third and fourth floors of the building now includes the following departmental libraries: Chemistry, 764-7337; Mathematics, 764-7219; Natural Science/Natural Resources, 764-1494; Physics-Astronomy, 764-3442.

Ceramics by Luna Garcia, at DeBoer Gallery in the Market Place building.

During the fall and winter semesters, the library is open daily 8 a.m.-5 a.m. from the third week to the end of each semester. Call for spring and summer hours.

The U-M Film and Video Library, room 2178, Shapiro Library. 764-5360. This library has a collection of over 11,000 titles on VHS cassettes, laser disc, 16 mm film, and CD-ROM, including foreign features and educational programs that aren't available elsewhere. Titles are listed on the MIRLYN computer system and in an in-house catalog. Collection is primarily intended for use by U-M faculty and staff for their classes and programs. A subset of the collection is available for rental through the Video Alternative (763-9760) for those with a U-M Library borrower's card. Fee is $2.50-$3. Hours: Mon.-Fri. 9 a.m.-noon & 1-5 p.m. (summer term: Mon.-Fri. 10 a.m.-noon & 1-5 p.m.).

Departmental Libraries. The following schools and departments have their own libraries. Call for locations and hours. Art and Architecture, 764-1303; Asia, 764-0406; Dentistry, 764-1526; Engineering, 764-5298; Fine Arts, 764-5405; Information and Library Studies, 764-9376; Museums, 764-0467; Music, 764-2512; Public Health, 936-1391; Social Work, 764-5169.

Some school and departmental libraries have more specialized collections and/or more limited public access. These include the Center for Afro-American and African Studies, 764-5518; the Kresge Business Administration Library, 764-9464; the Taubman Medical Library, 763-3071; Women's Studies Library, 747-0779; and the Law Library, 764-9322, a campus tour highlight by virtue of its magnificent pseudo-Oxbridge reading room and its remarkably hospitable contemporary underground addition.

U-M HISTORICAL LIBRARIES

Bentley Historical Library, 1150 Beal, North Campus. 764-3482. This library houses the Michigan Historical Collections of primary resource material pertaining to state and local history, as well as U-M archives. Archivists provide expert assistance with specific inquiries. Exhibits highlight material from the collections. Hours: Mon.-Fri. 8:30 a.m.-5 p.m.; Sat. 9 a.m.-12:30 p.m. (no Sat. hours May-Aug.). Visit the library's web site for further information about the library and its programs and to view Bentley's on-line historical exhibits: http://www.umich.

Artrain, NEW Center, 1100 N. Main, Suite 102. 747-8300. Headquartered in Ann Arbor, this roving art museum travels within and outside of Michigan. The train appears at least once a year in Ann Arbor and frequently in the Detroit area. It primarily visits towns in conjunction with local festivals, generally staying four days at each stop. The 1996–1998 national tour, "Art in Celebration!" begins August 23 in Ann Arbor. The exhibit features contemporary artworks commissioned by the Smithsonian Associates. This collection of mixed media and original prints celebrates events of national significance since 1972, including the opening of the National Air and Space Museum and the Persian Gulf War. Call for information regarding specific stops and admission prices (which vary among communities). Office hours: Mon.–Fri. 9 a.m.–5 p.m.

Cobblestone Farm, 2781 Packard. Call Kerry Adams, interpretive specialist, 994–2928, or Nancy Burghardt, facilities supervisor, 973–7267. This 1844 stone farmhouse is being restored by community volunteers to re-create the life of a farm family in the mid-nineteenth century. Frequent special events and living history demonstrations throughout the year. See Children, p. 71, for program information. Hours May–Sept.: Fri. & Sun. 1–4 p.m. Special arrangements can be made for schools and other groups. Barn available for rental. Admission: $1.50/adult; $1/youth and senior; $5/family. Children under 3, free.

Kelsey Museum of Archaeology (U-M), 434 S. State. 764–9304. This elegant Romanesque building houses an enormous collection of artifacts from ancient Greece, Rome, Egypt, and the Near East. This fall, the museum opens a new exhibition, "Images of Empire: Marble Fragments in Rome and Ann Arbor Rejoined." This show reunites marble fragments in the collections of the Kelsey and the Museo National Romano to reconstruct sculptures from the mausoleum of the ancient Roman Flavian emperors (A.D. 69–96). Tours available upon request. Hours: Mon.–Fri. 9 a.m.–4 p.m.; Sat. & Sun. 1–4 p.m. Admission is free.

Kempf House Center for Local History, 312 S. Division. 994–4898. This 1850's Greek Revival house has been lovingly refurbished with Victorian antiques and the mementos of the Kempf family, who lived in it from 1890 until 1953. The Kempfs were music teachers who played an important role in the local arts community. The house still contains their 1877

Matthaei Botanical Gardens (U-M), 1800 N. Dixboro. 998-7060. This spacious indoor conservatory, a favorite midwinter oasis, harbors a variety of tropical, warm-temperate, and desert plants. Visitors can wander from the lily pad-filled goldfish ponds at the entrance through the three rooms of the conservatory, which are divided by climatic regions. The first room is filled with tropical plants and trees and is home to a number of native Michigan birds, which fly in when the vents are open. The central greenhouse holds plants of warm temperate climates along with an orchid and bromeliad display area and an exhibit of insectivorous plants. A more austere collection of cacti and other desert plants fills the desert house at the rear of the building, which opens onto a formal outdoor perennial and rose garden. The conservatory is surrounded by 250 acres of land crisscrossed by four nature walking trails. Visitors can explore mature woodlands, wetlands, several ponds, and a native Michigan tall grass prairie. Brochures provide self-guided tours of the conservatory, but docent-guided tours can be arranged. Outdoor trail maps are available. The Gardens sponsors classes and workshops, family activities, and the Ann Arbor Flower and Garden Show, held each March; a Perennial Sale is held each April and September. Hours: daily 10 a.m.-4:30 p.m. (indoor conservatory and gift shop); 8 a.m.-sunset (outdoor gardens and trails). Conservatory admission $2; children of school age $1; free to all Mon. & Sat. 10 a.m.-1 p.m. No admission charge for outdoor gardens and trails.

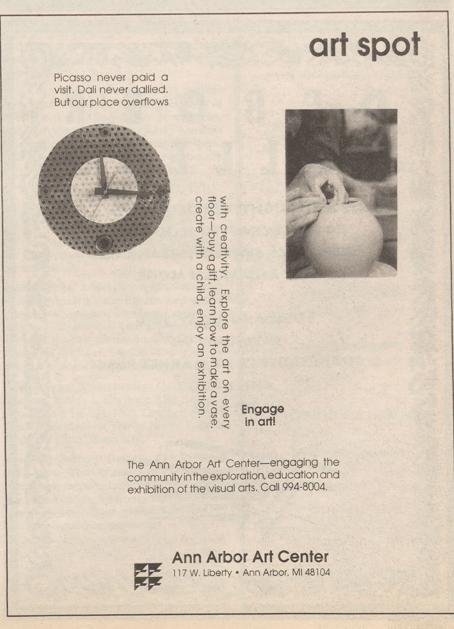

Parker Mill, on Fleming Creek, east of US-23 on Geddes. 971–6337. This restored nine-teenth-century gristmill is named for the family that built it in 1873. One of the county's few remaining log cabins is on the grounds. The completely functional mill is open on weekends in September and October (call for further information on exact dates and times). Programs for school groups and others available by arrangement. Picnic sites in the area. Admission is free. A new trail connects the mill with Geddes Dam.

Stearns Collection of Musical Instruments, U-M School of Music, south wing, 1100 Baits, North Campus. 763-4389. This collection of musical instruments from all over the world was begun in 1899 by Frederick Stearns, a pharmaceutical manufacturer and passionate musical instrument collector, who donated 1,400 instruments acquired in his travels. The museum now has over 2,000 instruments, including both exotic and antique pieces, a few of which can be tried by visitors or heard in a special audio-visual display. Lecture-demonstrations take place at 2 p.m. on the second Sunday of September, October, January, and February. Hours: Wed.-Sat. 10 a.m.-5 p.m.; Sun. 1-5 p.m. Admission is free; Around Town, Inc., 662-7790, offers guided tours by appointment for a fee.

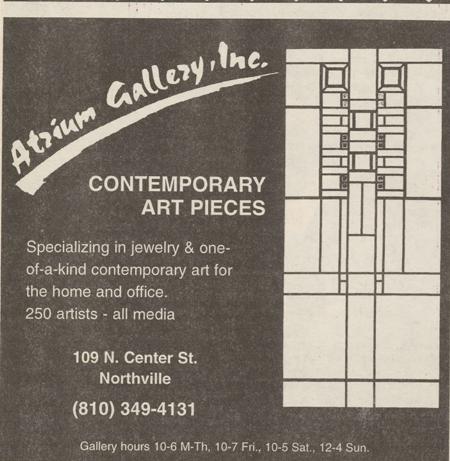

U-M Exhibit Museum, North University at Geddes Ave. 764–0478. This big, popular natural science museum, a favorite destination of local school groups and families, features an astounding variety of exhibits. The Hall of Evolution shows the development of prehistoric life, including a large collection of fossils and those perennial favorites, dinosaur and mastodon skeletons. The Michigan Wildlife Gallery has extensive collections of the plant and animal life of the state, plus exhibits that highlight current environmental issues. The museum also has displays of Native American life and culture and galleries focusing on such diverse fields as anthropology, geology, and human biology, which feature many interactive exhibits. Web: http://www.exhibits.lsa.umich.edu

The Planetarium within the Exhibit Museum has shows on weekends, some suitable for children. Museum hours: Mon.-Sat. 9 a.m.-5 p.m.; Sun. 1-5 p.m. Admission to the museum is free, but groups of more than ten must reserve two weeks in advance and pay a group fee of $1 per person; individual admission to the planetarium is $3; seniors and children 12 and under, $2.

U-M Museum of Art, 525 S. State. 764-0395. The permanent collections of this museum, considered to be among the finest in the country, encompass both Western and Asian art from early times through the present. There is also a wide range of special exhibitions, often several at a time. The museum is celebrating its fiftieth anniversary this year, so watch for special exhibits of works from all parts of the world, lent by private collectors with ties to Michigan. This year's exhibits include "Common Ground: African Art and its Affinities,' "Komar, Melamid, Renée the Elephant," and "Images d'Epinal." Exhibits are supplemented by family programs, tours, concerts, and lectures, as well as Midweek at the Museum, a lunchtime and Thursday night series of talks, lectures, and videos (see monthly Observer Events listings for schedules). Hours: Tues.-Sat. 10 a.m. (11 a.m. in summer)-5 p.m. (except Thurs. to 9 p.m.); Sun. noon-5 p.m. Admission to the museum is free; there is a fee for concerts and selected special events. ANN ARBOR ART FAIRS

The Ann Arbor Art Fairs put Ann Arbor on the visual arts map. The four-day event, founded in 1960, draws artists from across the country and visitors from throughout the Midwest. The fair is the biggest public event of the year in Ann Arbor, attracting an estimated half-million visitors.

There are actually three separate fairs: the original Ann Arbor Street Art Fair (994-5260) on South University, the State Street Area Art Fair (663-6511) in the State Street shopping area, and the Summer Art Fair (662-3382), with sections on State Street next to the U-M campus and on Main Street. In addition to displays by more than a thousand artists, the fairs feature a wide variety of outdoor entertainment and related events. See the annual Observer Art Fair Guide for complete listings. 1997 Art Fair dates: July 16-19.

GALLERIES

For the 361 days a year when the Art Fair isn't in town, Ann Arbor has a diverse and growing art scene. Galleries abound, offering fine art for every taste; but look closely, too, at exhibits in cafes and restaurants: the Del Rio, the Espresso Royale Caffes, and Sweetwaters Cafe, among others, all do a nice job of displaying works by up-and-coming local artists. Some change exhibits more often then others, so don't be surprised if the image of a reclining nude becomes forever mingled in your subconscious with the smell of espresso beans. The main branch of the Ann Arbor District Library also mounts art exhibits several times a year.

This section lists both private and nonprofit galleries in the Ann Arbor area.

Ann Arbor works hard, plays hard. Whether it's competitive fervor or a solitary stroll you're looking for, Ann Arbor offers a superb variety of recreational opportunities.

Ann Arbor's numerous off-street trails and lightly traveled neighborhood streets pulse with joggers throughout the year, and gently lit summer evenings find legions of cyclists gliding along the winding Huron River. Thousands of people take part in organized team sports—it's a rare Ann Arbor workplace that doesn't have a softball or basketball team—and hotly contested league games are rehashed in the city's taverns late into the night. The U-M's large, modern recreation buildings, along with various city structures, the county recreation building, and private health

BICYCLING

For more of a workout, you can extend this route two ways. You can stay on Huron River Drive at Dexter another four miles to North Territorial Road. Turn left, and then immediately left again into Hudson Mills Metropark, which offers refreshments, a terrific two-mile nature trail, and disc golf competitions for your enjoyment. Or, take Dexter-Chelsea Road from the west end of Dexter, and it's about eight miles to the pleasantly gentrified old village of Chelsea. Go south on M-52 out of Chelsea and turn left when you come to Scio Church Road. Follow it all the way back to Ann Arbor, and when you get home you've had yourself a good forty-mile ride.

Tours on two wheels

Washtenaw County for the weekend cyclist

For the pokey cyclist, Ann Arbor's a dream town. If you don't mind a few hills, the city is ideal for bicycle travel, compact and well supplied with bike lanes and curb cuts to protect you from our famously horrendous traffic. And when you feel the urge to get out of town, no more than five or ten minutes of pedaling from anywhere in the city will take you into open countryside.

Ann Arbor is home to lots of serious cyclists who think nothing of bombing halfway across the state, eating some kind of exotic meal, and then coming home. But here we list some well-loved local routes within the reach of families and the conditionally challenged.

Huron River Drive

Undoubtedly the most popular local ride runs along Huron River Drive northwest of the city. This road begins at the northern end of Main Street, just before Main joins M-14. It winds its leisurely way eleven miles to Dexter, following the river's twists and oxbows. Three riverfront parks make good stopping places. There's no bike lane, but the sheer density of bikers here, along with a speed limit of thirty-five miles per hour, enforces an unusual biker-auto equilibrium. If you leave Ann Arbor after work on a summer weeknight, you can return from Dexter just as the evening light comes into its subtlest tones. Either return the way you came, or take Ann Arbor Street, the main drag, east from Dexter. After about three miles, take Miller Road where it forks to the left

Ann Arbor to Ypsilanti

Many Ann Arborites don't know that there's a way to ride off-road virtually all the way to Ypsilanti. This too makes a nice summer evening ride, and you can reward yourself with a meal at one of Ypsilanti's ethnic eateries (perhaps La Fiesta Mexicana or the Vietnamese restaurant Dalat) before making the trip back. Here's how you do it:

Start at the U-M Medical Center. Head east on Fuller Road, and at the far end of the softball fields on your right, turn right onto the paved path that runs off toward the river. This path crosses the river, and then you're on the Gallup Park bike path, an ultra-smooth four miles of asphalt much favored by in-line skaters. Stay to the south of the river and follow the path all the way to Dixboro Road. The dammed, pondlike river makes a lovely backdrop for this stretch.

Turn right on Dixboro and left at the light on Huron River Drive. (Most of this few hundred yards of roadway sports a marked bike lane.) Pass the campus of Washtenaw Community College, and turn left into the Mission Health complex. This semicircular service drive has very little traffic and takes you around to the corner of Huron River Drive and Hewitt Road.

Go straight ahead on Hewitt, and another bike path (on the east side of the road) takes you past EMU's Rynearson Stadium. When a short stretch of woodland appears on your left, look for yet another bike path running into it. This path runs through a pretty corridor of woods and back fences to Cornell Road. From there, it's a short ride east through quiet neighborhood streets to EMU or downtown Ypsilanti.

For a quick if unspectacular return trip, Packard Road for a less-trafficked return to has marked sidewalk or street bike paths all the way back town. has marked sidewalk or street bike paths all the way back to Ann Arbor. The round trip is about eighteen miles.

Whitmore Lake

Heading north out of town, the US-23 superhighway absorbs most of the traffic, leaving its two-lane predecessor, Whitmore Lake Road, open for a peaceful bike ride except perhaps at rush hour. You can reach the foot of Whitmore Lake Road by heading west on Barton Drive. Pedal 600 yards up the hill and you're in the country—you'd never know there was a major urban center nearby.

Old St. Patrick's Catholic Church makes a good stopping place on the way to the lake. It's home to one of the oldest congregations in the state, and there's a shaded cemetery adjacent with many graves dating back to pioneer days. Continue north, crossing North Territorial Road, and turn right on Six Mile. Cross the freeway and turn left; this road becomes Main Street in the village of Whitmore Lake.

Where Main Street reaches the freeway interchange at the north end of town, bear left and cross the freeway on Eight Mile. Take the freeway's east service drive a mile north to Nine Mile and go right, crossing under the freeway this time. Turn right on East Shore Drive.

You can then follow East Shore Drive all the way around Whitmore Lake, back to Main Street. (Once upon a time, you could go off east on Seven Mile and follow it to Pontiac Trail, and this is still a nice Sunday morning ride. But these days Pontiac Trail is full of exurbanites, and it's dangerous to cross them when they're heading for their secluded homes at sixty miles per hour or more.) Unfortunately, there's no public access to the lake aside from a boat ramp. But the ride along the shore among simple old summer cottages is pleasant. Back in town, you can stop at Dee's Place (9876 N. Main, 449–4707) and enjoy an ice cream cone at a waterfront table. There are lots of other places to eat, too. Return to Ann Arbor the way you came for a total distance of a little over twenty miles.

Dirt excursions

A mountain bike brings even more of the county's peaceful countryside within reach. Start in Saline and explore the dirt roads in the county's rolling southwestern portion, or follow Island Lake Road northwest of Dexter into scenic wetland landscape crisscrossed by little-traveled dirt roads. About the only caveat is to avoid the major rural arteries—especially North Territorial Road, Pontiac Trail, and Ann Arbor—Saline Road. These small country roads now handle traffic volumes for which they were never designed, and are accordingly hazardous for bicyclists.

If you'd like to get in on a group bike tour, long or short, contact the Ann Arbor Bicycle Touring Society at 994-0044.

RECREATION

clubs, keep Ann Arborites in shape during the winter. And Ann Arbor is blessed with an abundance of parkland, intelligently acquired and evenly distributed all over the city—see map, p. 127. For information on children's recreation and sports, see Children, p. 71.

Fees, except as noted, are current as of July 1996.

S indicates special programs or prices for seniors.

Major Programs and Facilities

Ann Arbor Department of Parks and Recreation, sixth floor of City Hall, Huron at Fifth Ave. 994–2780. The department's recreational facilities hotline is 769–9140. Scholarships for low-income Ann Arborites are available from Rec & Ed (see below) or the Department of Parks and Recreation; both provide free or reduced-price passes to city pools, rinks, and classes.

Ann Arbor Public Schools Community Education and Recreation (Rec & Ed). Ann Arbor Public Schools Balas Bldg. III, 2765 Boardwalk Dr. 994–2300. A complete class and program catalog is printed seasonally and is distributed in the Ann Arbor News and at area libraries and schools. Information on the complicated automated answering system at the number above is often out of date; if you miss the booklet, you can also try stopping by the office in person, as handouts on current programs are usually available there.

The Ann Arbor YMCA, 350 S. Fifth Ave. 663–0536. The Y is a nonprofit, community-based membership organization. There are different membership plans available for different age groups, with a discount for seniors. Corporate memberships also available. Individuals who would like to take a class through the YMCA do not have to be members, although members receive significant discounts and priority enrollment. A catalog and time schedule that provides class fees, times, and locations is available each September. Schedules are also available prior to each new class sequence (five nine-week sequences per year). Call 663–0536 to be put on the mailing list. Building hours: Mon.–Fri. 6 a.m.–10 p.m.; Sat. 8 a.m.–6 p.m.; Sun. 11 a.m.–6 p.m. S U-M Facilities. Students, faculty, staff, and alumni can use facilities at the Central Campus Recreation Building (CCRB), 401 Washtenaw at Geddes (763–3084); the North Campus Recreation Building (NCRB), 2375 Hubbard (763–4560); and the Intramural Sports Building (IMSB), 606 E. Hoover (763–3562). Student fees are included in tuition charges. Department of Recreational Sports user passes are available to faculty and staff for $107 a year; passes for nonstudents sponsored by a currently enrolled student or currently employed staff member or alumnus are $162 a year; passes for U-M alumni and for spouses of U-M faculty, staff, and student passes are also $162 a year. Passes for retired U-M employees and for children (up to age 17) of U-M faculty, staff, alumni, and students are $54 a year; dependents over the age 17 are $102 a year. Day passes for sponsored nonstudents are $5.

U-Move Program. 764–1342. Offers over 70 classes, open to the public. Most of the classes are held at the CCRB, and their cost includes a facilities pass valid for the times your class meets. Class schedules are tied to the university calendar, 1996 fall classes begin September 9, and other series begin in January, May, and July.

U-M Sports Clubs. 763–4560. These clubs are free to U-M students. Nonstudents can often take part by buying a user pass (see above), or by paying $5 a day to participate in club activities. Each club determines its own membership rules; however, each club is required to have at least 50 percent student membership. Sports include: aikido, archery, boxing, cricket, cycling, dance team, fencing, figure skating, Frisbee (men's and women's), handball, ice hockey, kayaking, lacrosse (men's and women's), ninjutsu karate, rowing, rugby (men's and women's), sailing, shorin kan, shorin ryu karate, shotokan karate, skiing, soccer (men's and women's), suibukon, synchro-swim, table tennis, tae kwon do karate, volley-ball (men's and women's), water polo (men's and women's), water skiing, and wu shu.

The Washtenaw County Recreation Center al County Farm Park, 2960 Washtenaw at Platt 971–6337. A multitude of recreation facilities can be found here, including a walk-run track, gym, pool weight room, and cardiovascular room. Facility rates are $3 per day for users ages 18 to 62, and $1.50 per day for seniors and young people. Year-round passes are $125 for adults, $95 for seniors and youth, and $310 for families (up to four members). Hours: Mon.—Fri. 7 a.m.—10 p.m.; Sat. 8 a.m.—6 p.m.; Sunnoon—10 p.m. Individuals do not have to pay facility fees in order to register for classes, which are open to all residents of Washtenaw County. The Washtenaw County Department of Parks and Recreation also publishes The Recreationist, which provides information on the County Recreation Center and various Washtenaw County parks.

TEAM SPORTS

BASKETBALL

Rec & Ed (994–2300) organizes adult basketball leagues in the winter. Players must enter the league on already established teams; over 140 teams participate. The organizational meeting for the 1996–1997 season is October 16. Registration is November 4–6. Play begins in early December and ends in March

Play begins in early December and ends in March.

Indoor basketball courts are available at the Washtenaw County Recreation Center (971–6337) and at U-M facilities, including the CCRB (763–3084), the NCRB (763–4560), the IM Building (763–3562), and the Sports Coliseum at Hill St. and Fifth Ave. (763–5195), for pass holders and their guests. Basketball hours at the U-M buildings change each semester. Call the specific building for schedule information. The YMCA (663–0536) offers open basketball Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday noon–2 p.m., and some evenings (call for times). Use of the Y court is free to members; there is a small fee for nonmembers. Many city parks have outdoor courts available for public use; call 994–2780 for information.

The Ann Arbor Center for Independent Living sponsors the Ann Arbor Thunderbirds Wheelchair Basketball team. Pickup games are held every Thursday 8–10 p.m. at the Washtenaw County Recreation Center. League play lasts from October through March. Call Kevin at 677–1390 for more information.

FIELD HOCKEY

The Ann Arbor Field Hockey Club plays on Sundays, 1–3 p.m., in September and October at Greenhills School, 850 Greenhills Dr. Men and women (age 18 and up) of all skill levels are welcome. The team also travels to tournaments throughout the Midwest. Call Jane Nixon at 677–0633 for more information.

ICE HOCKEY

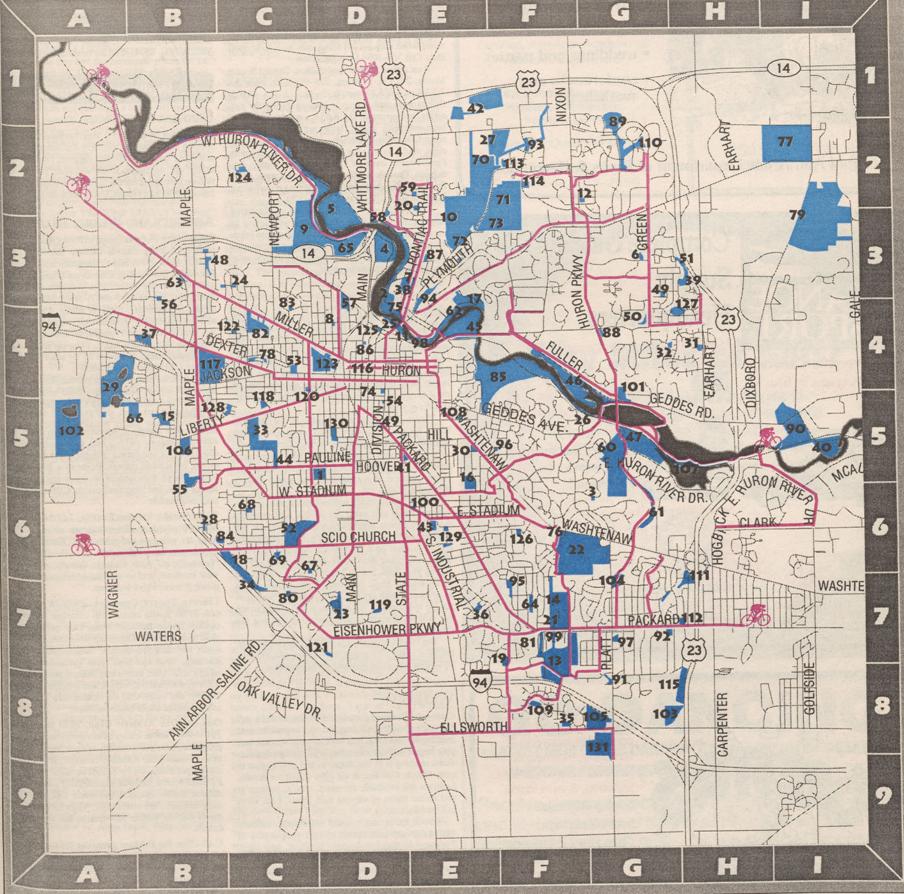

The Department of Parks and Recreation runs ice hockey leagues from mid-October through mid-March. About 40 teams participate. Leagues include the Masters 30-and-over draft, competitive adult men's programs at three different skill levels, and the Adult Never-Ever Program, a unique spring and winter league that stresses noncompetitive play and is designed for those who have never played organized adult hockey. Costs average $175 per person. Individuals who want to play organized hockey should call Veterans Memorial Park Ice Arena (761–7240) to receive a waiver releasing their names to team managers who need extra players.

The Department of Parks and Recreation also maintains a covered outdoor ice rink at Buhr Park (971–3228) that offers drop-in hockey for players age 15 and over on two afternoons per week from November through March, with Saturday night drop-in hockey for players age 18 and over. Call for fees. Drop-in hockey is available for players over age 30 on Sunday mornings at Buhr and on Wednesday evenings at Veterans Ice Arena (761–7240), in October and November only. Players must be preregistered to participate. On a more informal basis, the Burns Park rink (1620 Wells) also offers drop-in play during the winter if weather permits. Call the Department of Parks and Recreation (994–2780) for more information.

RUGBY

Ann Arbor Piranhas Women's Rugby Football Club. Contact Katie Page, 995–8827. The club practices once or twice a week and travels to local and regional tournaments on Saturdays from September through May. No experience is necessary and players of all ages (over 18) and skill levels are welcome. E-mail: kpage@umich.edu

Soccer can be played on U-M's Elbel, Palmer, and Mitchell fields. Supervised fields require a current U-M user pass. Mitchell and Elbel are available for rental when they are not being used by a U-M sport club. Call 763–3084 for information.

Ann Arbor Soccer Association. Contact Soccer Mania, 2414 E. Stadium, 973–9960, or write the AASA at 1756 Plymouth, Suite 313, AA 48105. Offers open and women's leagues during the fall, spring, and summer. The AASA assembles teams of balanced ability levels. Games are played on a half-sized field using half-sized goals. Each season lasts eight weeks; teams play two nights a week at Fuller Park. Twenty teams of 12 players each usually participate. There is a $43 fee. A co-rec league plays Friday nights during the summer on a full-sized field; the fee for this league is only $30.

The AASA also sponsors adult competitive leagues. Participants organize their own teams to enter league play. Contact the AASA for more information or visit the web site to obtain a registration form. Web: http://www-personal.umich.edu/~leekatt/AASAregistration.html

SOFTBALL

Softball draws more participants than any other program offered by Rec & Ed (994–2300). Approximately 300 teams play in the summer season (organizational meetings held in February; play begins early May). 110 teams play in the fall season (organizational meetings held in early July; play begins early September). Watch the sports section of the Ann Arbor News or contact Rec & Ed for specific dates of registration.

Teams are divided into leagues of varying skill levels for men's, women's, and co-rec slow-pitch softball. All teams must pay sponsor fees and individual player fees. Softball players who are not on a team can have Rec & Ed release their names and phone numbers to managers or can join a Players Without a Team team.

Rec & Ed provides softball diamonds at Ann Arbor schools and parks for people who organize their own games. Approximately 60 diamonds are available to the public from early May through the end of August on a first-come, first-served basis. These and other diamonds may be reserved by calling 994–2300, ext. 212, from April 1 till the end of the season. Make reservations one or two weeks in advance. Fields are rented on an hourly basis; call for fee information. An additional $35 maintenance fee will be charged to organizations that use the fields intensively.

The U-M's Mitchell and Elbel fields can be rent-

The U-M's Mitchell and Elbel fields can be rented for a variety of sports, including softball. Call 763–3084 for availability and fee information.

VOLLEYBALL

Close to 300 teams participate in Rec & Ed's fall and spring volleyball leagues. An organizational meeting for fall 1996 was held in early August, and play begins in September; the 1997 spring organizational meeting is in late January, and play begins in early March. Call Rec & Ed (994–2300) for details. Leagues are available for open, men's, women's, and co-rec teams of varying skill levels. Fees vary; call for information.

Rec & Ed sponsors sand volleyball outdoors during the summer. Teams of four people play at Forsythe or Slauson Middle Schools' new sand courts one evening per week. Registration is in early June, and play begins later that month. Call for rules, fees, and scheduling information.

The Department of Parks and Recreation sponsors sand volleyball leagues at Fuller Park (994–4263) during the summer. Organized teams of women's doubles ($40), men's doubles ($40), and coed fours ($50) begin play in mid-June. (Prices are for the entire team.) Games are held one evening per week; tournaments are also offered. Call for rules and scheduling information.

The Washtenaw County Recreation Center (971–6337) organizes volleyball leagues. Two-, four-, and six-person teams at all skill levels participate in a number of different leagues. Teams play one night a week at the County Recreation Center. Players must form their own teams; limited space is available. Players without teams can have their names released to managers needing more players by calling the rec center at the number above.

Volleyball courts are also available for pickup games. Interested players can use U-M courts at the CCRB, NCRB, and IMSB if they have a user pass or are guests of a student. A sand court is available for public use at Elbel Field (U-M), located at Division St. and Hill St., and outside the NCRB. Indoor volleyball space is also available at the County Recreation Center. In addition, the Ann Arbor YMCA (663-0536) hosts pickup games each Wednesday 12:30-2 p.m.

The U-Move program (764–1342) offers volley-ball instruction for adults, students, and nonstudents in the fall and winter semesters. Call for more information. There's also volleyball instruction for adults and youth fall, winter, and spring at the YMCA (663–0536). Call for times and registration.

INDIVIDUAL SPORTS

GENERAL RESOURCES

Safety Net Works is a free service that helps women find exercise partners for outdoor fitness activities such as walking, jogging, cross-country skiing, etc. All fitness levels welcome. For information on how to access the Safety Net Works database call Body Works Fitness Studio (668–8681).

AEROBICS AND WEIGHT TRAINING

Community organizations offering aerobics and weight training classes include the Ann Arbor YMCA (663–0536) and Community Education and Recreation (994–2300). Classes are offered throughout the year for a fee. The Washtenaw County Recreation Center (971–6337) offers daily aerobics classes on a quarterly basis for adults of all ages and abilities, including aqua-aerobics, studio aerobics, and senior aerobics. Registration fees vary by the class and times that it meets. Drop-ins are available on a limited basis; the cost is $3 for adults, $1.50 for seniors. Call ahead for availability.

Ann Arbor also has many private fitness centers. Some full-service facilities are listed below; see the Yellow Pages under "Health Clubs" for complete area listings.

Bally's Vic Tanny. Two centers open every day: 4860 Washtenaw (434–5000), 615 Briarwood Cir. (769–6600). Coed fitness club open 364 days a year. Offers 60 aerobic classes. Features a 25-meter lap pool, a large selection of workout equipment, an indoor track, and raquetball courts. Call for membership information.

Body Works Fitness Studio, 117 N. First St. 668–8681. Features fitness courses where "all body types are welcome and celebrated." Courses offered include aerobics, with names like "Fat Burner" and "Power Hour." Also, massage therapy, an exercise-wear boutique, and an eclectic selection of workout music. Nonmembers welcome.

Liberty Sports Complex, 2975 W. Liberty. 665–3738. Sports center with complete indoor and outdoor fitness facilities, many kids' programs and child care provided. Offers 30–40 aerobic classes per week, including low-impact, "stretch-n-tone," aquatics, step, "lean and low," and "cardiofunk." Coed weight area. Also, indoor and outdoor pools, personal trainers, nutrition and weight loss programs, massage therapy, and more. Call for membership information and to arrange a tour of the facilities.

One-On-One Athletic Club, 2875 Boardwalk. 761–4440. Fitness center offers personalized fitness programs, personal trainers, weight room, and fitness evaluations. Aerobic center offers over 35 classes per week, led by A.C.E. certified instructors. Facilities also include racquetball courts, self-defense studio, saunas, kids' center with gym, massage therapy, aromatherapy, yoga, fencing, and more. Call for further information and membership details.

U-M offers the U-Move program (764–1342) each semester, open to students and community members. Aerobics, weight training, and a special Fitness Over Fifty program are offered most semesters. Call, or stop by the CCRB for a current schedule. The CCRB, the NCRB, and the IMSB also have weight training and conditioning facilities open to students and user pass holders (see Major Programs and Facilities, above, for information).

BICYCLING

Besides being an enjoyable form of recreation and exercise, bicycling in Ann Arbor is a recognized alternative means of transportation. The city has a well-marked network of bike routes and bike paths and—since 1970—a bicycle program within the Department of Parks and Recreation (971–5471). The office publishes a map of bike paths and recommended street routes in Ann Arbor and Washtenaw County (the city portion is summarized on the parks map, p. 127), and offers cycling courses, safety workshops, and maintenance clinics.

Bicycle registration (a onetime fee of $2.50) is required of all city cyclists over age 12. It can be done through most local bike shops or at the city clerk's office (994–2725) on the second floor of City Hall. Bring your bike or its serial number.

For a pleasant evening ride, many local cyclists head for Huron River Drive, which maintains a 35-m.p.h. speed limit all the way to Dexter. The subdivisions that have sprouted along this road have increased its traffic volume significantly, but it's still relatively friendly to cyclists.

There are seven bike shops in Ann Arbor and three active cycling clubs. The Ann Arbor Bicycle Touring Society (AABTS) organizes group day this around the city and the surrounding area for its 500-plus members; see monthly Observer Events. Istings for details. Rides are for both road and mountain bike enthusiasts. The AABTS also plans out-of-state tours and publishes a bimonthly ride calcular and a monthly newsletter, both free to members. Annual dues are $11 (individual) and $14 (family) and include discounts at area bike shops and mileage recognition patches; there's no charge for nonmembers to participate in individual rides. For more information, write AABTS, P.O. Box 1585, AA 48106, or call the AABTS hotline at 994-0044. Web: http://www.hvcn.org/info/aabts

The Ann Arbor Velo Club (AAVC) has over 100 members, with sponsorship from six local companies. Promotes ten or more races a year including the Ann Arbor Festival of Cycling/Tour de Kids, and schedules four training rides each week from March through November. The emphasis of these rides is on bike handling skills, fitness training, and racing factics. The AAVC also has a Junior Development Program (call Doug Heady, 761-6431 or Brad Chick, 662-1701) and a Women's Team (call Karen Kerry, 662-1701 or Diane Dudley, 998-0632). For more information, call, write, or visit the AAVC web site. AAVC Information Hotline: 913-9783. Sponsor: Cycle Cellar, 220 Felch, AA 48104, 169-1115. The Potawatomi Mountain Bike Chapter of the Michigan Mountain Bike Association (MMBA) is an organization dedicated to safe and responsible mountain biking in local recreation areas. This group also works to develop and maintain mountain biking trails. Weekend trips and community service activities are planned. For monthly meeting information, call Emil Sims, 663–3113 or the hotline at 663–9940. For MMBA information, E-mail: go_mmba@aol.com Single and tandem bicycles are available for hourly rental at the Gallup Park Livery, 3000 Fuller Rd. 662–9319. Cost for one hour is $5 (single) or $6 (tandem). Add 50¢ for each additional half hour. A $10 cash deposit ($15 after 5 p.m.) and a driver's license are necessary.

BOATING, SAILING, AND ROWING

Ann Arbor Power Squadron (information: 662-9138; class registration: 994-2300) is a social and educational group for powerboaters and sailboaters that offers beginning and advanced classes three times a year. Would-be members should start by taking the basic seven-week boating class; classes start October 9, February 12, and April 9, at Clague School, 2616 Nixon. Rec & Ed fees: $15 facility fee (members), $18 (nonmembers); $25 fee for materials.

Ann Arbor Rowing Club, P.O. Box 3128, AA 48106. 930–6462. This not-for-profit organization provides a safe and affordable rowing opportunity to all those interested, regardless of age, gender, physical ability, or experience. Learn to Row classes for all ages, as well as programs for competitive and adaptive rowers. Members at all levels compete in sponsored regattas. Four-week sessions held May through September on Argo Pond. Write for dues and fees.

Great Lakes Paddlers. 481–1883. Club sponsors social events, offers paddling classes, and promotes safety education and conservation. Meets Sept.—May, second Tues. Annual dues: $20. Call for location and further information.

U-M Sailing Club, 8010 Strawberry Lake Rd., Base Line Lake, north of Dexter. 426–4299. Provides a fleet of boats and sailboards for members, who include both U-M students and the general public. General meeting every Thursday (April-November), 7:45 p.m., rm. 120, U-M Dennison Bldg. Also sponsors intra-club racing. Lessons available on Saturdays. Annual membership (April through Thanksgiving) is $90 for students and $125 for nonstudents. Summer membership (May through August) is $55 for students and $95 for nonstudents. CANOEING

There are three canoe liveries along the Huron River. Argo Park and Gallup Park liveries are run by the city, while Skip's, a private livery, operates out of Delhi Metropark. A canoe auction, a canoe show, and several instructional clinics are held every May and June at Gallup Park; call 662–9319 for more information.

Argo Park Canoe Livery, 1055 Longshore. 668–7411. Canoes, rowboats, fishing poles and supplies, long-term and overnight canoe rental, cartop carriers, canoe package trips, and concessions. To rent a canoe or a rowboat, a $10 cash deposit ($15 after 5 p.m.) and a driver's license are required. Rental fees are graduated by the hour: for two hours, the cost is $8 (weekdays) and $12 (weekends & holidays). The maximum charge, for seven hours of canoeing, is $14 (weekdays) and $16.25 (weekends & holidays). Long-term canoe rental: $14/day (for first two days), $10/each additional day, plus overnight charge of $5/night. Scenie package trips, which allow you to travel downstream and return the canoe at a second facility, are also available by reservation. Cartop carrier rental: $5 (single), $7 (double). Hours: Sept. 5–Oct. 29, Sat. & Sun. only, 9 a.m.—7 p.m.; Apr. 6–May 19, Sat. & Sun. only, 9 a.m.—8 p.m.; May 20–Sept. 2, Mon.—Fri. 11 a.m.—8 p.m., weekends & holidays 8 a.m.—9 p.m. Note: rentals halt one hour before listed closing time.

Gallup Park Canoe Livery, 3000 Fuller. 662–9319. Canoes, paddleboats, bikes, fishing supplies, and concessions. Paddleboat rental is $4.50 per half hour (weekdays) or $6 (weekends & holidays). Deposit, rental, and discount information is the same as for Argo Park (see above). Gallup Park also offers special 50 percent discount off the second item rented, on Tues. (for students with ID) and Thurs. (for families). Hours: Sept. 5–Oct. 29, 11 a.m.–7 p.m. (opens at 9 a.m. Sat., Sun., & holidays); April 6–May 23, 11 a.m.–7 p.m. (opens at 9 a.m. Sat., Sun., & holidays). FISHING

On its journey through the city, the Huron River is repeatedly dammed, forming serene ponds that make for great fishing. But authorities recommend eating no more than one meal a week of fish from inland Michigan waters (one meal a month for children and women of childbearing age) because of widespread mercury contamination. The Huron contains a variety of fish: largemouth and smallmouth bass, rock bass, crappie, bluegill, carp, pike, catfish, and even some walleye. Popular fishing spots include Barton Dam (off Huron River Dr. at Barton Pond), Gallup Park, and Argo Dam, with its adjacent spillway complex. Those who want to get away from civilization can rent canoes from either the Argo Park of Gallup Park liveries and fish upstream. Live bait is available at both facilities. Gallup Park offers a free youth fishing pond.

All anglers are advised to consult the state Department of Natural Resources' fishing regulations; a copy is available at the Gallup canoe livery (662–9319). Anyone age 17 or older must have a fishing license. Licenses cost $10.50 per year (a trout and salmon stamp costs an additional $10.50) and are sold at Meijer, Kmart, and Dunham's Sports Outfitters.

Numerous small lakes, many only a short drive from Ann Arbor, offer good fishing. Call the Huron-Clinton Metroparks Authority at (800) 47-PARKS.

or the Waterloo Recreation Area, 475-8307.
For guaranteed successful fishing without a check out Spring Valley Trout Farm (12190 Island Lake Rd., four miles west of Dexter). Popular with families and school and church groups, this fish farm offers natural artesian-spring ponds, well stocked with trout and catfish. Spring Valley offers nine ponds total, each home to only one type of fish. They'll clean the fish you catch for you, and they have grills right on site (bring your own charcoal). Poles and bait provided. Call 426-4772 for Trout Unlimited (761-9200) is a local chapter of a national organization based in Virginia that works to develop and protect cold-water fisheries, including projects that benefit fly and trout fishing streams in northern Michigan. The local chapter meets the third Wednesday of every month, October-May, at 7 p.m. at the Gallup Park pavilion.

Washtenaw County Bassmasters (662-9319) is a bass fishing club that promotes fishing educa-tion, conservation, and tournaments. Meets first Wed., 7 p.m., Gallup Park. Annual dues: $20.

GOLF—PUBLIC COURSES

Golfers have several challenging and well-maintained courses to choose from in Ann Arbor. The city and the U-M each own two courses, and there are nationally known private courses in the area as well. For city courses, resident cards are available at no charge for Ann Arbor residents (bring a driver's license); the card entitles its holder to first priority in making Monday-morning tee-time reservations and to certain youth and senior discounts. Public courses include:

Huron Hills Golf Course, 3465 E. Huron River Dr. 971–6840. 18 holes, par 68. Overlooking the Huron River and Gallup Park, the city-owned Huron Hills

ICE AND FIGURE SKATING

One of Ann Arbor's most popular recreational facilities is Veterans Memorial Park Ice Arena, the city's indoor skating rink. The city also runs an outdoor artificial rink at Buhr Park, and the public can use the U-M's Yost Ice Arena, giving ice skaters a wide choice of places to skate.

Natural ice rinks: When conditions permit, you can skate on the river at Gallup Park or on First Sister Lake at Dolph Park, though these activities are not sponsored or monitored by the city. In December the Department of Parks and Recreation (994–2780) offers a demonstration of how to build and maintain a backyard ice rink; assistance is also available for neighborhood groups wanting to construct a commu-

IN-LINE SKATING

In-line skating (also called Rollerblading) has many devotees in Ann Arbor. A favorite skating spot is Gallup Park, with its miles of off-road, smooth-surfaced bike trails. Buhr Park's rink is open during the summer months for in-line skating. Unlike skate-boarding, in-line skating is not prohibited or restricted, except by a few local businesses. For those who do not own their own blades or who would like to try out this exercise option, two downtown spof shops rent in-line skates: Ann Arbor Cyclery, 1224 Packard (761–2749); and State Street Sports, 330 S. State (761–7615).

MARTIAL ARTS

Martial arts classes are offered by the Ann Arbof YMCA (663–0536) year-round in Tai Chi, Judo. Aikido, Karate, Choi Kwang Do for families, and self-defense classes. The YMCA also offers a Karate Club and a Judo Club. Rec & Ed (994–2300) provides instruction in Aikido, Tae Kwon Do, and Tai Chi throughout the year. The U-Move program (764–1342) sponsors beginning and advanced Tae Kwon Do classes for students and nonstudents at the CCRB. See "Karate and other Martial Arts" in the Yellow Pages for a listing of private studios.

ORIENTEERING

Orienteering is a sport in which participants navigate through unfamiliar landscapes, stopping at prescribed "control points." The Southern Michigan Orienteering Club (2677 Wayside Dr., AA 48103; or call Bill Luitje at 769–7820) stages ten to 12 orienteering meets a year. The club meets infrequently: "We'd rather do orienteering than hold meetings," says its president. Annual dues are $7 ($10/family) but nonmembers are welcome at meets and pay only a small event fee that varies depending on the course.

RACQUETBALL

Racquetball/handball courts are available at several public facilities. The Ann Arbor YMCA (663–0536) has two courts open to members and their guests. The U-M's CCRB (936–0627) has 13 courts; the IMSB (763–3562) has 12 courts; and the NCRB (764–2117) has five courts. Hours vary with the semester, and courts are in high demand. Reservations are usually necessary except on challenge or open courts, which change players on the hour. Most private health clubs have racquetball courts for member use. (See Aerobics and Weight Training, p. 128.)

RUNNING/JOGGING

The city's plentiful parkland, including long stretches of scenic riverfront pathway, yields miles of off-road running. Many Ann Arborites don't even have to leave their own neighborhoods to find prime jogging space: the city abounds in residential nooks and crannies secluded from traffic, including a surprising number of zealously preserved dirt roads.

Ann Arbor offers a variety of running clubs, stores, and events for both advanced and beginning runners. The Ann Arbor Track Club (AATC) has become the major cohesive force for Ann Arbor's running population. AATC events include a weekly Track Workout on Tuesday evenings throughout the year, held at Huron High School in good weather and at the U-M Track and Tennis Building during the winter. During the summer, the AATC holds many All-Comers Meets for runners of all ages and skills. For meet schedules and locations, call the AATC holtine at 663–9740 or pick up flyers at local running shops. The AATC also sponsors beginning runners groups, race walking, and a youth program, and offers training sessions during the fall, spring, and summer.

AATC membership also entitles runners to a yearly picnic, seasonal meetings, a newsletter, and discounts at area running events and sports stores. Membership costs $20 a year ($30/family). For more information, write to the Ann Arbor Track Club. P.O. Box 7551, AA 48107, or call the hotline, 663–9740.

The Ann Arbor YMCA (663–0536) has an informal walking club with a variety of routes and times to meet. Call for information.

The Ann Arbor Hash House Harriers is a group that emphasizes creatively planned running events that runners of all abilities can enjoy. Harriers model their runs after British fox or rabbit hunts, with a "hare" marking the trail (usually in white or colored flour) that the other members ("hounds") follow. "Turtle checks" are waiting points, often supplied with beer and refreshments, which allow slower runners to catch up. For information, call the Hash Hotline, (313) 885–8490.

For more information on area running events and organizations, contact the Ann Arbor Track Club or one of Ann Arbor's two complete running centers: Tortoise and Hare, 213 E. Liberty, 769–9510; or Running Fit, 123 E. Liberty, 769–5016.

For indoor running in the winter or during inclement weather, the U-M has indoor tracks at the CCRB (763–3084) and the NCRB (763–4560). The Washtenaw County Recreation Center (971–6337) has a two-lane indoor track available on a daily, all-day basis, except for a half-hour cleaning period. Call for current cleaning schedule. Fees: $3 adults, $1.50 seniors and children (ages 3–18).

Ann Arbor has several scenic cross-country ski trails. There is no charge to ski the ungroomed trails at Bird Hills Park, Gallup Park, Buhr Park, Dolph Park, Saginaw Forest, Leslie Park Golf Course, and Fuller Park. See the map on p. 127 for park locations. For downhill skiing, the Ann Arbor Ski Club (see below) plans outings near and far.

Huron Hills Cross-Country Ski Center, 3465 E. Huron River Dr. 971-6840. Open December through early March, weather permitting, this ski area (a city golf course in summer) has groomed trails of varying skill levels, equipment rentals, ski classes, a clubhouse, and a snack bar. Entry fee is $2.50 on weekdays, $3 on weekends and holidays for those with their own skis. Season passes are available. Ski rental (includes admission) costs $6 on weekdays, $7 on weekends. Youths under 17 and seniors over 60 pay $3.75 on weekdays and $4.75 on weekends and holidays. Hours: Mon.-Fri. 10 a.m.-6 p.m.; weekends and holidays 9 a.m.-7 p.m. S The Ann Arbor Ski Club (P.O. Box 3258, AA 48106 (hotline info: 761-3419). Plans Michigan and western U.S. ski trips for cross-country and downhill skiers over age 21. The club also provides lesson information and hosts social, athletic, and recreational events throughout the year, including summer. Regular meetings are held September through May. Call the hotline for times, location, and dues.

SLEDDING AND TOBOGGANING

For a metropolis of the flat Midwest, Ann Arbor has great sledding hills. Bundle up (the layering method is highly recommended) and head out (but don't go head first, it's dangerous). Sledding can be done wherever there is a worthy hill, but the Department of Parks and Recreation recommends these sites: Buhr Park, Burns Park, Huron Hills Golf Course (please stay off golf greens and tees), Leslie Park, Leslie Park Golf Course, and Veterans Memorial Park. All sites are unsupervised. Individuals sled at their own risk. Sledding in the U-M Arboretum is prohibited.

SWIMMING

Ann Arbor's public swimming pools are crowded during the summer. The three outdoor pools, all built in 1967, are open from Memorial Day to Labor Day. Mack Pool, the only city-run indoor pool, is open year-round. For Buhr, and for Mack from mid-June to early September, adults pay $2 to enter; youths 17 and under and seniors 60 and over pay $1,25. There is no charge for children under three. For Fuller, and for Mack from early September to mid-June, adults pay $2.50; youths and seniors pay $1,50. At Veterans Pool and water slide, admission is $3 for adults, $2.50 for youths and seniors. Reduced rates for families are available at each pool at specific times. Season passes are available at the Department of Parks and Recreation on City Hall's fifth floor, at Mack Pool, and at other pools over Memorial Day weekend. The city pools are:

Buhr Pool, 2751 Packard. 971–3228. Buhr is a 25-yard pool with five training lanes, a wading pool, a sunning deck, locker rooms, and a snack bar. Pool hours: From Memorial Day weekend to the end of school and mid-Aug. to Labor Day: general public swim Mon.–Fri. 1–7 p.m.; weekends & holidays noon–7 p.m. From the end of school through mid-August: general public swim Mon.–Fri. 1–4:45 p.m. & 6:30–8 p.m.; weekends & holidays noon–8 p.m.; family swim Mon.–Fri. 5–6:30 p.m. Adult length swim: Mon.–Fri. noon–1 p.m. S

Fuller Pool, 1519 Fuller. 994–4263. Fuller is the area's only Olympic-sized (50 meters) pool open to the public. It has eight lanes, including several training lanes open at all times, a large wading pool and children's sand play area, a large eement sunning deck, two sand volleyball courts, locker rooms, and a snack bar. From Memorial Day through Labor Day: general public swim Mon.-Fri. 1–7 p.m.; weekends & holidays noon–7 p.m; hours extended to 8 p.m. mid-June to mid-Aug. Adult lap swim: Mon.-Fri. noon–1 p.m., weekends & holidays 11 a.m.-noon (at least one lane remains open for laps throughout the day). S training lanes. The pool has a handicapped access ramp and locker rooms. From September to the end of the school year, day-time hours are reserved for scheduled classes (no drop-in swimming). Open-swim hours vary, so call for current information. From the end of the school year to Labor Day:

Mack Pool, 715 Brooks (in Mack School). 994-2898. Mack is a 25-yard indoor pool with six

open swim 1-5:30 p.m. daily. Lap lanes available noon-1 p.m. and 5:30-6:30 p.m. daily. S

Veterans Memorial Park Pool, 2150 Jackson. 761–7240. Vets Park Pool has a 25-yard pool with six lanes, a sunning deck, a shaded deck area, an exercise room, locker rooms, a snack bar, a zero-depth pool and interactive water play area for children, as well as Ann Arbor's only water slide. The pool has a handicapped access ramp. From Memorial Day weekend through Labor Day: general public swim Mon.–Fri. 1–7 p.m. (until 9 p.m. July 1 through mid-Aug.); weekends & holidays noon–7 p.m. (until 9 p.m. July 1 through mid-Aug.); Adult lap swim Mon.–Fri. noon–1 p.m.; family swim Mon.–Fri. 5–6:30 p.m. S

Washtenaw County Recreation Center, 2960 Washtenaw at Platt. 971–6337. The center has a 25-yard indoor pool. It offers lane swimming, a wheelchair ramp into the water, and an underwater bench in the whirlpool area. Admission is $3 for adults (ages 18–62), $1.50 for youths and seniors. Swimming instruction and aquatic fitness classes available. Year-round facility passes are also available. S

The Ann Arbor YMCA, 350 S. Fifth Ave. 663–0536. 20-yard pool with four lanes, a shallow, warm training pool for kids and arthritic swimmers, locker rooms, and a snack bar. Open-swim hours vary daily. Members only. Nonmembers can take swim instruction, aquatic fitness, or older adult classes, offered year-round; $5 day passes are also available. S

The U-M has three pools open to students, faculty, staff, and user-pass holders. The CCRB's Margaret Bell Pool (763–3084) is 25 yards long with six training lanes and locker rooms. The NCRB pool (763–4560) is 25 yards long with at least four training lanes plus locker rooms and a sunning deck. The IMSB pool (763–3562) is 25 yards long, has six lanes (including four training lanes), plus locker rooms. Hours of each pool vary with the semester. The U-Move program (764–1342) sponsors swimming instruction and aquatic fitness classes.

Rec & Ed (994-2300) offers instructional classes in swimming year-round for all ages. Classes are offered weeknights and Saturdays.

TENNIS

The Ann Arbor city parks, public schools, and the U-M all have tennis courts available. The courts are free for public use when they are not in use for classes or tournaments. The courts operate on a first-come, first-served basis. Unless otherwise noted, courts are not lighted.

Three of the busiest and largest concentrations of courts are at Huron High, 2727 Fuller, 994–2076 (seven courts); Pioneer High, 601 W. Stadium, 994–2120 (ten courts); and the CCRB, 401 Washtenaw, 763–3084 (16 courts). The CCRB courts, which are just north of the building at Palmer Field, are open to U-M user pass holders and their guests.

The lighted courts in town include four at Fuller Park, two at Buhr Park, three at Vets Park, and two at South Maple Park. See the parks map on p. 127.

Rec & Ed (994–2300) offers instructional tennis for ages seven to adult during the fall and spring and for ages five to adult in the summer. Tennis leagues and adult and junior tournaments are also available during the summer months.

People who want to play tennis in the winter or year-round during inclement weather can join one of several indoor tennis clubs in the area. These clubs have rosters of tennis pros who can be hired for private and group lessons, and most also offer outdoor courts for summer play. Membership prices vary and change frequently, so call each club for details.

Tennis clubs include: the Huron Valley Tennis Club, 3235 Cherry Hill Rd. (662–5514); Liberty Sports Complex, 2975 W. Liberty Rd. (665–3738); Chippewa Racquet Club, 2525 Golfside Dr. (434–6100); Racquet Club of Ann Arbor, 3210 E. Huron River Dr. (971–5413); and Travis Pointe Country Club. 2829 Travis Pointe Rd. (665–8463).

YOGA

The yoga classes offered at the YMCA (663–0536) have made Ann Arbor something of a national center for the study of the B. K. S. Iyengar technique. In addition to Levels I, II, and III, there are classes in ageless yoga, yoga philosophy, yoga for pregnancy, and special workshops. Fees range from $16 for a nine-week session (members) to $70 (nonmembers). Rec & Ed (994–2300) also offers yoga classes yearround at Stone and Lakewood schools. Call for schedule and fees.

One-On-One Athletic Club (761–4440) offers a yoga class, as do many private instructors. For a complete listing of yoga classes in the area, contact the Crazy Wisdom Bookstore (665–2757) to obtain their seasonal calendar of course listings. The U-Move program (764–1342) offers a yoga class open to people of any age and physical condition that allows participants to progress at their own pace. Call for current class schedule and fees.

CLASS RESOURCES

Two groups, the Ann Arbor YMCA and the Community Education and Recreation Department of the Ann Arbor Public Schools, offer many adult classes.

Ann Arbor YMCA, 350 S. Fifth Ave. 663–0536. Classes in CPR, pre- and post-natal fitness, yoga, dance, and many other subjects. An annual catalog is published in September, and brochures specifying times and fees are mailed to members and anyone else on the mailing list before each nine-week session. Fees depend on number of class sessions per week and are lower for YMCA members.

Community Education and Recreation, 2675 Boardwalk. 994–2300. Classes in art, business and finance, computers, cooking, crafts, health, languages, juggling, dance, drama, music, martial arts, science and outdoors, swimming, tennis, yoga, and more. "Rec & Ed" schedule brochures are inserted into the Ann Arbor News in March for spring programs, mid-May for summer, late August for fall, and early January for winter; they are also available at the Ann Arbor District Library, City Hall, and at public schools. Fees vary.

Other classes are listed here under individual interest headings. Only a few exercise classes are listed; for additional exercise classes or recreational sports, see Recreation, p. 125. For information on public and private schools and children's activities, see Children, p. 71.

BUSINESS

American Business Women's Association. Nonprofit networking agency for working women. Offers seminars, scholarships, and social events. Two Ann Arbor chapters: Embers (contact Jodi Geeting, 741–5858) and Maia (contact Sharon Walker, 930–1935). Embers meets third Wed. 6

DANCE GROUPS

Troupe Habibat al-Fen

Creating a stir with beledi

Back in the early 1970's, a group of Ann Arbor women fell in love with Middle Eastern dance and decided to form a performing company. But what to call it?

Recalls member Grace Lehman, "We had the help of some Arab friends in selecting the name: Habibat al-Fen—it means 'lovers of the art'—which suited our feelings about what we were doing. But we also felt people would be able to say it. Which is more or less true!" More, because people remember the name's general sound; less, because many persistently misread it as "Habitat."

Lehman, dance and fitness coordinator at the Ann Arbor Y, and artistic director of Habibat al-Fen, has been fascinated with Arab dance and culture since she was a child. When "beledi" hit town about twenty-five years ago, it created quite a stir—and pulled her along.

"It was a big fad back then and people flocked to classes. I learned of a woman named Suheyla who was married to a professor of Middle Eastern studies. She taught at Artworlds [the long-gone performing arts center on Main Street] and when I went down there to take a class, I didn't know that decision was going to change my whole life. She put the music on and I could identify with it. I had no idea that it would lead to so many years of so much fun!"

Within a few years, Lehman was teaching beledi at the Y and the troupe, which has stayed at about seven members throughout the years, had been formed.

Beledi (often referred to as "belly dancing" by Westerners) comes from the Arabic word beled which means "country." It's also called "oriental dance."

"When you use that term [beled], it refers specifically to that very graceful means of expression which is part of this women's dance," says Lehman, "and it refers to the solo form. One of the things that developed frequently in the West is that you'll find the oriental dance technique adapted for group expression. But we still like to include some solos in the piece to keep the original intent."

Lehman, who choreographs all the troupe's dance works, adds, "This is not folk dancing. It's important to remember that the dance has its base in traditional movement—the traditional women's dance of the Middle East, particularly the Arab countries, Egypt, Lebanon, Palestine. The dances come a lot from the music itself."

The Habibat al-Fen dancers perform at schools, festivals, and fairs (they performed for thousands recently at the Art Fair), always bringing with them a love of Middle Eastern culture.

"You can't take the dance out of the culture from which it comes," says Lehman. "This is far more than just undulation!"

CLASSICAL MUSIC

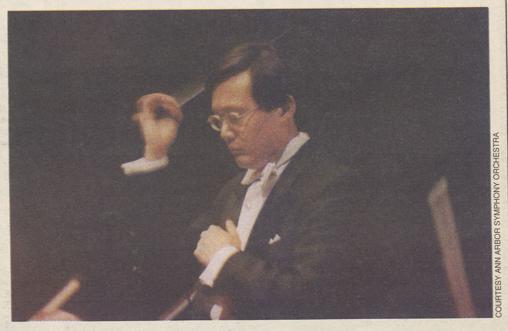

What hath Sam Wong wrought?

The amazing rise of the Ann Arbor Symphony

A decade ago, few local music lovers would have dreamed that the pleasant but amateurish Ann Arbor Symphony would achieve national recognition. Ever since its founding in 1928, the symphony had been more of a social club that gave regular concerts than a professional music organization. The symphony had never charged admission to its concerts, rarely paid its players, and the sum of its parts was mediocre by national standards.

Then, in 1986, the symphony hired Carl St. Clair, a member of the U-M School of Music conducting faculty. Under St. Clair, the musical quality increased immeasurably; for the first time, audiences were willing to pay to hear the symphony, and the symphony, in turn, paid its musicians. When St. Clair moved on to conduct the Pacific Symphony, Sam Wong took up the baton. According to local classical music critic Gerry Brennan, "Under the directorship of Sam Wong, the Ann Arbor Symphony took two quantum leaps forward-a sense of discipline and an esprit de corps."

A native of Toronto and assistant director of the New York Philharmonic, Wong

Mozart and Strauss.

These days, the symphony is recognized as one of the top forty orchestras in the nation by the American Symphony Orchestra League. Tickets for its six annual concerts at the Michigan Theater are in such popular demand that advance reservations are advised. In just ten years, the symphony has gone from being virtually superfluous, in a musical community that already boasts the University Musical Society and the U-M School of Music, to an integral part of the community's life.

-Jim Leonard

was a young man in need of an orchestra he could mold in his own image. He worked to change the sonority of the symphony from the plump and cushy sound of the St. Clair years to a leaner and cleaner sound, and his success has stunned the symphony's fans. In the 1995-1996 season, Wong programmed some of the most difficult works in the repertoire-works which some symphony patrons believed were far beyond the orchestra's abilities. But Wong and the symphony delivered a muchpraised performance of Mahler's Ninth, followed by equally strong deliveries of

ANN ARBOR FILM FESTIVAL

Ann Arbor Film Festival, P.O. Box 8232, AA 48107. 995–5356. This internationally recognized showcase of the newest in experimental, avantgarde, and independent 16 mm films is held annually at the Michigan Theater. 35th Ann Arbor Film Festival: Mar. 11–16, 1997.

COMMERCIAL THEATERS

Ann Arbor Theater, 210 S. Fifth Ave. (between Liberty and Washington streets). 761–9700, 761–9701. The Ann Arbor Theater offers a mix of first-run Hollywood releases and more esoteric fare. Its conversion from one screen to two left it with one theater that is unusually long and narrow with a very small screen. The library parking lot is a block away on Fifth Ave., and there are two public parking structures on Fourth Ave. within a few minutes' walk. Admission: adults, $5.75 (Mon.-Thurs.) and $6.25 (Fri.-Sun. & holidays); students with valid ID $4.75 at all times; children and seniors $4. Daily before 6 p.m. and all day Tues. $4.

Fox Village Theaters, 375 Maple, in the Maple Village Shopping Center. 994–8080. This first-rate "sub-run" theater shows a wide variety of recent releases, art films, and family fare on its four screens (the theater regularly offers "family film festivals," a family or children's movie to which all kids 14 and under get in free until capacity is reached). Plenty of vorites like "The Rocky Horror Picture Show. Programming is creative and unpredictable, featuring first-run features, foreign films, and occasional festivals of animation, Admission: $6 ($4 with student ID and seniors). There are $4 bargain matinees daily, plus special $1 showings periodically. Parking is available in two nearby public parking structures, on Maynard and E. Washington streets.

NONPROFIT FILM SOCIETIES

Ann Arbor Silent Film Society, 3001 Braeburn. 677-1359. Monthly showings of classic films include a feature and usually a couple of shorts. Admission: $3.50.

tures some contemporary films. This year's films, to be shown in the U-M's Natural Science Auditorium Fridays at 7 p.m., include a fall series of classical and new Japanese films and a winter series to be announced. Open to the public. Admission is free.

U-M Program in Film & Video Studies, 2512 Frieze Building (105 S. State). 764–0147. The Film Classics Series, featuring great movies from the silent era to modern times, offers several special film events throughout the year. Call for times and locations. Admission is free.

CAMPUS AUDITORIUMS

Angell Hall Auditorium A, concourse between Angell, Haven, and Mason halls. Enter the glassed-in "fishbowl" directly west of the U-M Grad Library front steps and proceed straight ahead into the concourse. Auditorium A is off a hallway to the left. This theater, which has approximately 385 comfortable theater-type seats, is equipped to show 35 mm films and CinemaScope. Parking in the U-M's structure on Thayer St.

Lorch Hall Auditorium, Tappan at Monroe. Entering Lorch Hall from Tappan Street, you will find the auditorium at the left rear corner of the building. Lorch, with about 350 seats, is the best film auditorium on campus, but the Economics Department, headquartered in Lorch Hall, discourages public film showings, so most films shown here require the cosponsorship of a U-M department. Parking in U-M structures at Hill near Tappan or at Church near South University.

MLB 3 & 4, Modern Languages Building, corner of Thayer and Washington. MLB 3 seats about 500 people in theater-type seats; MLB 4 seats 350. Parking in the U-M Thayer St. structure across the street.

Natural Science Building Auditorium, Natural Science Building, 830 North University at Thayer. The auditorium is at the back of the building, on the Diag. This steeply sloped lecture hall offers a good view from all seats, but minimal legroom. Parking at the U-M Thayer St. structure.

CONFERENCE CENTERS

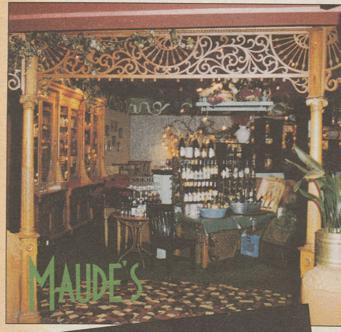

Ypsilanti Marriott Golf and Conference Center, 1275 S. Huron (at I-94), Ypsilanti. 487–2000. This is the only facility in the Ann Arbor area that can accommodate groups of 500 or more. The Lakeshore Ballroom, a flexible six-section banquet and meeting room, can hold conventions of up to 750 people. Also, eight suites for meetings; 236 guest rooms; restaurant and sports lounge; gift shop; glass-enclosed swimming pool; health club; tennis courts; 18-hole golf course.

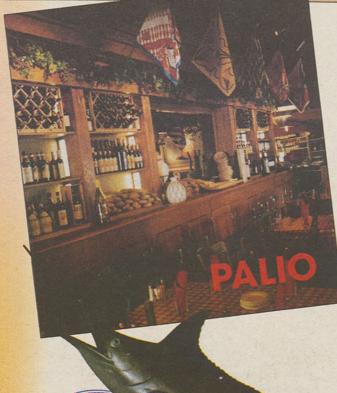

The Eastern Michigan University Corporate Education Center (487–0600) is adjacent to the Marriott Conference Center. Its meeting space includes 16 conference areas: two auditoriums, an executive boardroom, conference and seminar rooms, and a computer lab with state-of-the-art audio-visual facilities, including a language translation system and teleconferencing with satellite downlink capabilities.

Many places in Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti can accommodate meetings of 400–500 people (theater seating): Weber's Inn (769–2500); the Hoyt Conference Center on the EMU campus (487–4108); the Clarion Hotel (665–4444); the Crowne Plaza Ann Arbor (761–7800); the Michigan League on the U-M campus (764–0446); the Michigan Union (763–5911); and the Sheraton Ann Arbor (996–0600). The Barn at Cobblestone Farm (971–8789) and Domino's Farms Events and Conference Center (930–5032) are good choices for less formal meetings, especially if outdoor facilities are desirable.

For more information on conference and banquet facilities in the Ann Arbor area, call the Ann Arbor Area Convention and Visitors Bureau, 995–7281.

Coffeehouse culture

There are those who will happily spend hours debating who has the best cup of joe in town. Not me. I almost never drink the stuff. Nevertheless, I've whiled away many an hour in downtown cafes, because-let's face itcoffeehouses are not about coffee. They're about socializing. They're about seeing and being seen, meeting a friend or a first date, negotiating business or pleasure.

Some people even go to cafes to work. A writer friend of mine used to take his laptop to Espresso Royale Caffe on Main and spend the evenings writing fiction-and picking up dates. He eventually met the woman of his dreams (though not in a coffeehouse), and then his cafe days were over. Back when ERC's flagship cafe on State Street was still the only game in town, I knew a grad student who thought she could pass the summer working on her dissertation over espresso but had to abandon the idea because of the sheer volume of friends who passed through on any given morning or afternoon. (These days, she'd probably have better luck. Not only are there more places to hide out, but most cafes have created nooks and corners for the studious types who don't want to be disturbed.)

Cafe atmospheres differ widely from one end of town to the other. (For a full list, see the "Coffeehouses" head in this section.) Students, of course, dominate the hangouts on State and South University. The campus-area spots range from the tidy Espresso Royale (a busy hub for folks grabbing a coffee between classes) to the unpretentious Cava Java, distinguished mainly by its prime location at South U and East U. The cutely named Not Another Cafe, farther down South U, is a dark basement place that seems to model itself after the twentysomething hangout in the TV show "Friends," while Gratzi Cafe at State and Liberty is the last gasp for those who like a cigarette with their cappuccino.

Downtown, the chic date place these days is Sweetwaters, a light, airy space on West Washington with vaguely Asian decor, huge windows, warm brick walls, and great big comfy chairs you can curl up in. Across the street, the equally chic but more sultry Cafe Zola, with its dark wood furniture and pendulous ceiling lamps, serves the best crepes

For the feel of an authentic European cafe, try Amadeus on East Washington. While not technically a coffeehouse, it's owned by Polish immigrants and offers a serene atmosphere, terrific East European entrees and pastries, and its own Viennese coffee, served in enormous cups the size of soup bowls. Those who mourn the passing of Ann Arbor's counterculture may feel at home in the new Gypsy Cafe, an invitingly offbeat place squeezed into a long, narrow space between the People's Food Co-op and Wildflour Bakery on Fourth Avenue.

Barnes & Noble and Borders have installed coffee bars for bookworms, and a "cyber cafe"—where you can surf the Net while slurping a drink—is in the works on East Washington. Whether it's art on the walls, live music, social possibilities, or a quiet cup of coffee you want, you can probably find it in a local cafe. You may think you don't like the "cafe scene," but try out a few of them. There is bound to be a comfort zone just

"Ann Arbor? How does a midsized Midwestern university town make it onto the list of global culinary shrines? How does a store in such a town offer an unquestionably great selection of the world's finest cheeses, perhaps the finest teas sold in America, comed beef and pastrami so richly flavored as to make even New Yorkers jealous ... why is the service in this remarkable store the sort of utterly professional and knowledgeable service Americans expect to find in Europe—gently blended with the concern and warmth that Americans think of as American?"

Baked goods so good that people regularly drive hundreds of miles to buy them. Those that don't make the drive, have them shipped. Traditional Jewish rye and pumpernickel, French country breads, sumptuous scones, raisin pecan bread, and much, much more.

"In Zingerman's, I get the mighty reassurance that the world can't be totally bad if there's this much good food to eat, the same flowing emotions I get at Fauchon in Paris, Harrod's food department in London, Balducci's or Dean & Deluca in New York, only at Zingerman's there is a goodwill lacking in the others.

Palio

Palio sits on Main Street across from Gratzi. In some ways, it is overshadowed by its glitzier and more fashionable neighbor. But though the two Italian restaurants are both owned by the same group, Mainstreet Ventures, their styles and menus differ markedly.

Light-filled, expansive, and noisy, Gratzi leans toward designer pizzas and other trendy Italian fare. Palio, in contrast, is a cozy, dim haven, decorated with drawings of horses and colorful flags. Palio is the name of a centuries-old horse race in Siena, and as the waiter explained, the flags represent the different regions in Italy that compete in the race. The menu, too, tends more toward regional Italian cuisine.

My husband and I joined several friends at Palio on a cool summer evening. Our group included a couple Who often eat there with friends from the Parma region of Italy, and they Passed on their friends' approval of Palio's Chianti wine list and antipasti, especially the crostini ai funghi, a melange of sauteed wild mushrooms and fresh herbs served on Italian bread. Taking their suggestions in absentia, we ordered a bottle of Chianti, the mushrooms, and another antipasto, the bruschetta capriccio. The mushrooms Were delicious and intense. Palio's bruschetta are crunchy slices of Italian bread topped by a thick tomato sauce With lots of garlic and a hint of hotness. As is so often the case, we could have made a meal of the antipasti alone.

Salads were next. Both the verde (with radicchio for texture and color) and the Caesare were wonderful. Unforgivably bad Caesar salads abound in American restaurants: oversized chunks of romaine piled high with giant, indigestible croutons and dripping with thick bottled dressing and blobs of bad Parmesan. The Caesar at Palio was light and restrained, the essential anchovies present but not overwhelming.

The absent Italians also recommended Palio's excellent pastas. Two that stood out for us that evening were penne con gamberetti e prosciutto (shrimp, white beans, and prosciutto with a distinct lemony flavor) and the fettuccine Bolognese: wide and thick (and apparently homemade) noodles with a light tomato and ground veal sauce laced with herbs and cream. Two members of our group recommended dishes we did not order: the ravioli alla Palio (veal and spinach filled, covered with a wild mushroom tomato sauce) and the spiedini misti (a mixed grill of chicken breast, pork, and jumbo shrimp). Both, so they claim, are great. We did try a soup, the pasta e fagioli, a satisfying not-too-thick bowl of pasta, beans, and pancetta in a tomato broth.

For dessert, the panna cotta (Italian cream custard with fresh fruit and cappuccino sauce) is a yummy variation on Spanish flan or French creme caramel. Palio's version of the classic tiramisu is mascarpone-laced ladyfingers flavored with espresso—a recipe to ask for and try the next time I pull out a Marcella Hazen cookbook and invite friends over.

I noticed the festa di vitto on Palio's menu, a multicourse Italian feast for six or more. This may be an attempt to prepare for the imminent arrival of a third Italian restaurant on the block, Jimmy Schmidt's family-style Chianti on Main. I hope these Italian rivals can survive and thrive in such close proximity, because Palio is a good restaurant and a good value. Trust the menu and our mystery Italians-indulge in the antipasti, stick to the pastas among the main courses, and order a bottle of Chianti Classico from the wine list. Believe me, in a year, when the hype settles, Palio deserves to be around.

Cooker

Cooker opened quietly a couple of years ago, and people have been flocking there ever since. Is it just that there are so few places to eat on the north side, or does Cooker really live up to its stated objective: "100 percent satisfaction guaranteed"?

In Ann Arbor, that's a dangerous promise. To put it to the full test, six of us recently visited Cooker to find out how it measured up.

We started with Savannah spinach and artichoke dip. Most of us liked it, and even those who found it bland said the corn chips served as a good balance. The fireless—but not spineless—side of salsa was a hit with those who don't do hot. We sampled gazpacho, declared spicy even by the asbestostongued member of the group, and potato-cheese soup, a tangy blend with chunks of real potato. Both got thumbs up. The usually predictable bread basket surprised us with its tender, freshfrom-the-oven biscuits.

Meals come with a choice of two vegetables from a list of ten. Of those we tried, mashed potatoes with gravy, creamy coleslaw, baked yellow squash, and southern-style green beans were excellent, while the broccoli-cheese casserole was a little bland and as for the baked cinnamon apple . . . well, we doubted that anyone in the kitchen was peeling apples. You can substitute a salad for one of the vegetable options at no charge ($2.25 separately). It, too, was prepared with care, with a light sprinkling of real bacon crumbles, finely grated cheese, and tomatoes as flavorful as they should be in Michigan in Blackened-salmon Caesar salad ranked just hot enough to satisfy the Cajun fancier who ordered it, while the smokehouse ribs, though plentiful in quantity and tender enough, earned "ulcer safe" ratings for their lack of heat. "Skimpy on the fries, too," added that guest. Grilled salmon was a generous portion and properly cooked, but I was surprised to see it served with tartar sauce. Yes, it is fish, I know.

Pot roast is rarely seen on restaurant menus, but you can get it at Cooker. Ours was tender and flavorful, garnished with the mandatory carrot, celery, and onion trio. A melt-in-yourmouth Plantation steak, at ten ounces, left one light eater enough for lunch and dinner the next day.

The only startling exception to a really good meal was Pasta New Orleans, presented cold in the center. Our server quickly offered to put it in a saucepan. Reheated, this was tasty enough, but if the Cajun cops ever tasted it, Cooker would be in deep trouble. Why do so many restaurants slap the Creole, Cajun, or New Orleans label on dishes that clearly have never been south of Toledo? "A couple salad-sized shrimp and a few tidbits of Hillshire Farm kielbasa in a cream sauce," as one diner described it, is a far cry from the rouxbased, andouille-rich jambalaya of New Orleans.

Cooker's decor is not unlike Chili's or Bennigan's. The menu, on the other hand, more closely resembles Old Country Buffet. Some of our group felt Cooker's aim was to emulate Sunday dinner at Grandma's. One even noted, "Look, real plants, with brown-tipped edges!"

But I think this place most resembles Bill Knapp's. Knapp's remains popular with seniors and families because it has strict appearance codes for staff and makes service a top priority. Cooker starts there but updates the look and the menu for the 1990's.

The Red Hawk

When "mixed company" means a group of both vegetarians and meateaters, there can be much debate regarding where to dine. Hoping to find a restaurant that would cater to both omnivores and herbivores and provide a variety of culinary options for both, our party of five descended on the Red Hawk. Our ranks included one vegetarian, one fish-eater, one chicken-eater, and two die-hard carnivores.

After being seated at the center table in this beautifully woody bar and grill, we were pleased to find a "menu abstract by product" included in the condiments basket. This listed vegetarian dishes with and without dairy products, seafood dishes, and bird dishes without red meat. This handy abstract makes it easy for vegans, vegetarians, and cholesterol-watchers to find an appealing dish.

Three of us ordered the brewed iced tea. It was excellent, and though the menu claimed "one refill with meal," our glasses were topped off frequently. One of us started with the Pretty Nifty Little House Salad. It was fresh and tasty, and she declared the ranch dressing the best she'd ever had. Another tried the house-cured gravlax, a generous portion served with herbed goat cheese, a nice, coarse-textured black bread, and a light dilled cucumber salad. A third gambled on the seafood gumbo, enticed by its promise of "a traditional bayou stew with shrimp, oysters, fish chunks, gumbo filé and rice," and was surprised by the heavy doses of chili powder and cumin. "Must have taken a side trip to Albuquerque," was someone's explanation.

Our main courses spread across the spectrum: spinach pesto ravioli, Red Hawk fajitas, a sandwich called Roger's Revelation, seafood cannelloni, and beef tenderloin. The ravioli was unexceptional-the "creamy tomato sauce" was a bland brother of Campbell's tomato soup-but the pesto had good flavor, and the freshly grated Parmesan on top was fantastic. The small extras, a julienne of fresh vegetables and a wedge of focaccia, were more fun to look at than to eat. The Red Hawk fajitas, on the other hand, were remarkable. Ordering his fajitas shrimp-free, this guest was served skewered chicken grilled with onions and peppers inside the soft, flour tortillas, accompanied by the usual guacamole, salsa, sour cream, and tomatoes. Chile rice rounded out his platter.

Roger's Revelation, the sandwich, was solidly filled with smoked turkey and Canadian bacon, but light on the Cotswold cheese. The accompanying steakhouse fries were well worth the cholesterol hit. Seafood cannelloni, unfortunately topped with the aforementioned bland tomato sauce, were lushly filled with scallops, rock shrimp, and snow crab. One diner remarked, "Um, great! I can actually taste the seafood for a change," while another commented, "Tastes fishy."

The beef eater found the red offerings skimpy in number but not short on taste. Her beef tenderloin special was served with a blue cheese–pine nut sauce that managed to enhance without overwhelming. The accompanying roasted shallot mashed potatoes were a hit with everyone who tried them.

Red Hawk does not offer carryout sales. They also refrain from pushing you out on the sidewalk to eat. They have chosen their niche carefully and handle it reliably. Both meat- and non-meat-eaters find a variety of choices. Customizing dishes that don't quite fit the bill is also an option. It's a good step above simple burgers and fries, but relaxed enough not to distract from good conversation when you're out to encourage, maintain, or rekindle friendships.

Ann Arbor is a shopping draw for all of southeast Michigan and northwest Ohio. Downtown, campus, and Kerrytown area stores cater to exuberant students, their visiting parents, and campus and corporate visitors, as well as local residents. Add in the out-on-the-town high spirits of customers drawn by the area's many good restaurants (see p. 151), and you have the makings of an unusually festive shopping atmosphere—and one of the best people watching opportunities in the state.

DOWNTOWN AND CAMPUS

Some shoppers love malls, others hate them. Ann Arbor is one of the few towns where both types of shoppers can be happy. Here, "going downtown" is still a colorful, spirited adventure. New stores and restaurants seem to spring up daily, and on fair evenings, the streets are crowded until late in the night with shoppers diners, and strollers. Main Street and its eastwest allies, Liberty and Washington streets, host a commercial mosaic of the old and the new, the staid and the radical. Cafes and restaurants abound, catering to every taste and budget; see p. 151 for a full listing. Shopping can be as simple as picking up some aspirin at Lucky Drugs, or as enlivening as browsing for treasures while creaking around the Victorian storefronts of the Conservatory and West Side Book Shop

Book Shop.
Ashley Street, one block west of Main. features Hertler's, which has been offering nononsense hardware and gardening supplies since 1906, when Ann Arbor was a salt-of-theearth farming community. (You can still bring in a dirt clod from your garden for a $10 soil analysis). A few doors down from there, people still congregate for breakfast at 3 a.m. at the famed Fleetwood Diner and will probably do so forever. Across the street, Dream On Futons attracts apartment- and dorm-dwellers. Main Street hosts a variety of shops, including clothing stores, an antiques store, gift shops, and bookstores. Wilderness Outfitters has been decking us out in outdoor-wear for every season and sport for twenty years. Falling Water bookstore features items from hand-made jewelry to new-age recordings to artistic or funny greeting cards. Peaceable Kingdom has a delightful range of gifts, from teeny-tiny plastic toys to jewelry to embroidered pillows to crafts from around the world. Around the corner, Liberty Street Video offers a grand selection of titles, including foreign, classic, and cult sections. Of particular note is the bonus section of videos, hand-picked monthly by the staff to illustrate a common theme; they rent for just 96¢. The biggest change downtown in the past couple of years was the closing of Kline's Department Store on Main Street. Down came the white, 1960's-era siding to reveal intricate terra-cotta stone and brick work. As of this writing, the buildings, swiftly snapped up by developers, are being renovated and will soon be home to the Ark (Ann Arbor's premier folk club), a restaurant, and apartments.

350 S. Main anchors the south end of Main Street's restaurant row.

Other good news in recent years is the rebirth of Fourth Avenue between Liberty and Huron, which once had the distinction of being Ann Arbor's very own—albeit comparatively tame—red-light district. Today the street's offerings include several small restaurants, body piercing parlors, Antelope Antiques and Coins, Common Language gay, lesbian, and feminist bookstore, Aunt Agatha's mystery bookstore, and stores selling clothing, sewing supplies, and artistic rubber stamps. Art galleries flourish all around downtown: see p. 119 for a full listing.

Many of the traditional stores still keep traditional hours. But as downtown's restaurant renaissance has lured more and more evening visitors to the area, many stores are staying Open later to coax strollers inside for beforeor after-meal browsing. Certainly the cafe boom has aided in the revitalization of downtown. Espresso Royale, Sweetwaters, the new Cava Java on Main, and Cafe Zola have become late-night destinations for students cramming for exams and lovers engaged in htense conversations. Friday night "Midnight Madness," sponsored several times a year by the Main Street Area Association, provides block-party festivities while people shop late at special sales.

The Kerrytown Historic Market District, on North Fourth and Fifth avenues and Detroit Street, increasingly rivals downtown as a destination dining and shopping area. The two are close enough that as each grows bigger, they may eventually touch may eventually touch.

The Kerrytown Shopping Center was at the vanguard of the trend toward conversion of old urban warehouse and factory buildings into prime retail spaces. It first sprang up in the late 1960's to take advantage of crowds drawn to the Ann Arbor Farmers' Market next door. The Farmers' Market is a great place to wander through, any time of year, for people-watching, baked-good lusting, and conversation with the wise farmers. In the summer, the market's stalls are piled high with asparagus bundles and trays of herbs for drying or planting. In the fall and winter, pumpkins and Christmas wreaths fill the market with color and aroma. Local craftspeople sell everything from unique twig-covered birdhouses to Fimo clay jewelry to exotic scents and oils. The Farmers' Market is open from 7 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Saturdays year-round and on Wednesdays (same hours) from May to December. On Sundays from May to December, handmade arts and crafts are available at the Ann Arbor Artisan Market, which occupies the Farmers' Market space, from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

In the mid-1980's, amid much controversy, the matching old houses on Braun Court across Fourth Ave. from Kerrytown were converted from rental housing to restaurants. Subsequently, the former White Swan Laundry (built in 1853 as Moses Rogers's agricultural implement works) was renovated and expanded into Market Place, whose retail tenants include the popular Sweet Lorraine's restaurant, Of Gothic Proportions (a purveyor of gargoyles and stone statuary), Atys design shop, and the DeBoer Gallery.

Kerrytown Shopping Center itself consists of three buildings that together house nearly thirty shops, businesses, and restaurants selling everything from foodstuffs to cruises to plants, candles, and children's toys. The center's largest stores are Workbench furniture and Kitchen Port. Food shops that dot the ground level include a deluxe produce market, a gourmet carryout, a wine and cheese shop, a coffee and tea store, and meat and seafood markets. Lily's Garden, a floral shop, is the perfect neighbor for Zingerman's Practical Produce-its daisies and other flora stretch out into the walkway to draw your gaze over from the zucchini and peppers. Across the courtyard are shops with clothing, cards, and candles, and the Bruise Gallery houses folk art exhibits, including paintings, drums, and jewelry. Other shops present toys, women's wear, and handmade items for the paper lover. During the school year, students from Community High School, across the street, compete for spots at the counter of the tiny Kosmo Deli. Hours vary, but the shops are usually open 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday, and noon to 5 p.m. Sunday.

Fun and interesting shops and galleries continue to spring up in the Kerrytown area alongside stalwart urban-pioneer retailers who've been at it for decades. North Fourth Avenue boasts a spacious new People's Food Co-op, the packed-to-the-rafters Wooden Spoon used bookstore, and alternative book and shoe stores. A new addition to the neighborhood is the beautiful Gypsy Cafe, a large coffee shop with numerous tables and chairs, including soft, comfy chairs hidden in little alcoves decorated with small tapestries and antique tables. Be sure to stop in to check out the changing art exhibits and special performances on the stage in the back room. At the corner of Detroit Street and Kingsley resides 2 true Ann Arbor institution, Zingerman's Deli, and its next-door coffeehouse. Across the street, budget-minded Ann Arborites cruise the racks at the Tree, a venerable resale clothing store. Treasure Mart, a half-block north on Detroit, is a much-loved resale/antiques store; its three floors are packed to bulging with intriguing stuff.

Campus Area-State Street. The area just northwest of the main U-M campus (including South State Street, Maynard, and nearby cross streets) attracts throngs of shoppers, especially during holidays and on weekend afternoons. Students and townsfolk mingle in these shops, where the university meets Ann Arbor's down-

To many local minds, bookstores are part of the lifeblood of this city. In that respect, this area has a lot to offer. Borders attracts Ann Arborites and out-of-towners alike to peruse its two floors of books on almost every topic imaginable. Its 1994 expansion brought in a comprehensive music section, a wide selection of videos and new media (software and CD-ROM's), and an in-house espresso cafe. Despite the presence of this market giant, many smaller bookstores hold their own in this area, including the soothingly intellectual and architecturally beautiful Shaman Drum around the corner on State and the eclectic Kaleidoscope Books and Collectibles, where one can find old toys, collectors' editions of children's classics, Beatles cards, and used books on any subject. David's Books, at the corner of State and Liberty, specializes in used, rare, and out-of-print volumes. Back up Liberty beyond Borders, Dawn Treader has a vast selection of previously owned books including some rare and first editions. When the weather is fair (or at least not too stormy) racks of $1 hardcovers, placed outside on the sidewalk, draw you into the store.

The State Street area is home also to an astonishing collection of well-stocked recorded music outlets. Of note is Schoolkids', home of the Schoolkids' Records label, which specializes in rock, folk, jazz, world music, and just about every other form of popular music. It is joined by its siblings SKR Classical and Schoolkids' Annex, a store devoted to used tapes, CD's, and alternative and independent releases. Also, Encore on Liberty and Wazoo

First-rate men's and women's clothing stores are dotted throughout this area, including one of the three local Mast Shoe Stores. Here, too, the selection of retailers reflects Ann Arbor's wide cultural and stylistic diversity: Van Boven's Menswear has been an elegant, understated presence on State since 1922, while across the street and north a bit, on the ground floor of the old State Theater, Urban Outfitters mixes trendy retro-wear and T-shirts with fun housewares and gift items in a vaguely industrial setting for alternative-minded Youth. Down the block, Bivouac provides a large selection of fine outdoor gear and clothng. Don't forget to look up while cruising State; the stores on the upper floors of the State Street buildings are a funky enclave in themselves, selling vintage and alternative clothes, Grateful Dead paraphernalia, used CD's, tapes, and records, and old movie Posters. Two music stores, Oz's Music and Music Mart, sell a wide variety of instruments from their State Street aeries. Music Mart's drum selection is particularly comprehensive.

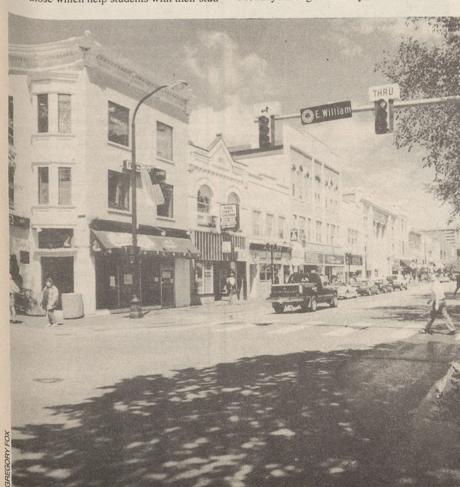

Nickels Arcade has been around since the early days of the century. This block-long (State Street to Maynard), glass-roofed assortment of shops, offices, and galleries has a quaint, European air; in bad weather it offers a respite from rain and snow. (It's the area's first enclosed mall.) Its charm is nicely reflected in the elegant art, clothing, and antiques sold there. Check out the aromatic Maison Edwards tobacconist, one of the oldest Arcade stores. Next door, Arcadian Antiques has furniture, quilts, and beautiful collections of jewelry. The Chris Triola gallery sells striking handknit Sweaters, the Clay Gallery exhibits beautiful ceramics, while at the Maynard Street end, the Caravan Shop continues as the local acme of curiosity shoppes.

Campus Area—South University Avenue. You have reached the eye of the hurricane of undergrad life when you set foot on South U. Be on the lookout for bikers, in-line skaters, exuberant young men shouting "Dude!", and Young women tottering precariously on absurdly high platform shoes. The shops range from those which help students with their studies (textbooks, etc.) to those which help students with their after-class activities (clothes, beer, etc.). Ulrich's, a long-established textbook, computer, and art supplies outlet, anchors the corner of South U and East U. The stroll up the next few blocks takes you past various jewelry, clothing, condom, greeting card, and gift shops, mixed in among convenience stores, restaurants, and bars. WhereHouse Records and Tower Records/ Video/Books lure many nonstudents to the area, as does Middle Earth (known for its inventive window displays), with its dazzlingly zany gift goods and knickknacks from around the world. Another popular South U shop is Splash, a women's and men's clothing store known for its outrageous T-shirts (ranging from 1970's cartoon characters to mildly offensive slogans) and unique accessories (including lava lamps and mirrored disco balls). Next to Splash is Stucchi's ice cream shop, a bright spot amidst this avenue of fast food and bar fare. Village Corner, at the corner of South U and S. Forest, is the king of all convenience stores; among its vast array of wares is a first-rate wine collection.

MAJOR MALLS

Arborland Mall, Washtenaw Avenue just west of US-23 (information: 971-1825). Ann Arbor's first genuine shopping mall is announced by a giant red "A" that towers over the entrance to its parking lot. The number of stores in the mall waxes and wanes as some stores go out of business or move and new stores come in to fill their spots. The biggest loss recently was F&M Distributors; at this writing the wing the large store had occupied was dark and abandoned. The mall's stores are mostly outlets of discount chains, including Marshall's, Service Merchandise, Burlington Coat Factory, and Toys R Us. The Sam Goody store stands out for its great selection of discounted videos. Pictures Plus offers custom framing, and smaller shops sell everything from jewelry to kitchen supplies to shoes. For a break from shopping, folks can visit the arcade and a food court that offers subs, Chinese, and Greek food. The mall is open Monday through Saturday from 10 a.m. to 9

Directly opposite the U-M Diag, the corner of State and William hums with activity.

Briarwood Mall, off State Street between Eisenhower Parkway and I-94 (information 761-9550), almost single-handedly triggered the suburbanization of Ann Arbor's south side. A 130-store giant, Briarwood draws shoppers from a forty-mile radius and from various demographic niches, although it tend toward more upscale offerings. Anchor stores Sears, J. C. Penney, Hudson's, and Jacobson's stand alongside such destination stores as Victoria's Secret, Suncoast Motion Picture Co., and Natural Wonders. Recent addition include a Disney store and the WTVS Store 0 Knowledge, a trove of intriguing items relating to learning and public television. A guide to thrift and resale shops

In spring and summer, fluorescent flags dot Ann Arbor roadsides proclaiming "Yard Sale." Frugality at its finest, shopping in neighbors' yards is fun and educational; but yard and garage sales are seasonal and die in the fall. Fortunately, Ann Arbor has a great selection of thrift and resale shops open year-round—and if money is no object, many shops have fabulous collections of higher-end vintage wear. The following thrift and resale stores sell everything from 8-track players to antique dishware to zoot suits and contemporary clothing items.

Thrift Shops

Ann Arbor PTO Thrift Shop, 1621 S. State. 996–9155. Clothes, household goods, appliances, and more. Hours: Tues. & Thurs. 1:30–6:30 p.m.; Fri. 12:30–4:30 p.m.; Sat. 9:30 a.m.–3:30 p.m.

Kiwanis Rummage Sale, 200 S. First. 665–0450. Go early—these three floors of thrift shop utopia are open only three hours. This place has everything: clothes, books, housewares, hardware, computers, art, furniture, sporting goods, etc. Hours: Sat. 9 a.m.—noon; also holds special weekend sales seasonally

St. Vincent de Paul Store, 1001 Broadway. 761–1400. Moderately priced clothes, books, and housewares. Some vintage wear; lots of dresses and suits. Hours: Tues.–Fri. 9 a.m.–4 p.m.; Sat. 10 a.m.–3 p.m.

Thrift Shop of Ann Arbor, 1149 Broadway. 662–6771. Large selection of women's wear; some men's and children's clothing; jewelry. Hours: Mon.–Fri. 10 a.m.–4 p.m.; Sat. till 1 p.m.

Value Village (Ypsilanti), 1410 E. Michigan. (313) 728–4568 (office in Westland). Everything (and a little bit more) can be found in this huge, inexpensive thrift supermarket. Hours: Mon.–Fri. 9 a.m.–9 p.m.; Sat. till 7 p.m.; Sun. 10 a.m.–6 p.m.

Resale Stores

Children's Orchard, 2244 S. Main (Woodland Plaza). 995–8889. Children's clothing, toys, and equipment. Hours: Mon.-Fri. 9:30 a.m.-8 p.m.; Sat. 9:30 a.m.-6 p.m.; Sun. noon-6 p.m.

STRIPS AND BOULEVARDS

Ann Arbor-Saline Road, which a decade ago Passed through old farm fields on the city's south side, is now densely lined with new offices, apartments, and shopping centers cluslered around the I-94 intersection. Busch's Valu Land is the huge but surprisingly manageable grocery store that anchors Woodland Plaza (Ann Arbor-Saline Road at South Main Street). Many smaller shops gather around it to make this plaza one of the most appealing in Ann Arbor. Around the corner to the left, Great Harvest Bread supplies hearty free samples of fresh, hot bread and cookies, tempting customers to buy the goods enticingly stacked behind the counter. It's joined by stores selling everything from videos, paint, and software to used children's requisites. The Pet Practice, Pet Supplies Plus, and Wild Birds Unlimited stores make this plaza a destination for animal lovers. Cranbrook Village (Ann Arbor-Saline at Fisenhouer) hosts a Martun's Pier Saline at Eisenhower) hosts a Mervyn's, Pier 1, an Office Depot, ABC Warehouse, Ethan Allen furniture store, and stores selling convertible sofas, shoes, gifts, blinds, women's and men's wear, and more. Though there's scarcely an ethnic dish on the menu, the Old Country Buffet here draws one of the most diverse clienteles in town with its all-you-caneat American cafeteria fare. puter outlet, Heslops tableware, gift shops, and various service-oriented outlets. At the Lone Star Steakhouse, line-dancing waitstaff entertain diners

The commercial growth south of I-94 has been particularly striking in the last six years. There's a vast Meijer superstore with an equally vast parking lot; to one side, a lonely McDonald's sits like a sentry on a hill. Waters Road, until recently a lovely dirt road that meandered through cornfields, now runs between the Oak Valley shopping center and the smaller Village Centre, to the south. Oak Valley is home to Target, OfficeMax and FurnitureMax, a massive Best Buy appliance store, Jo-Ann Fabrics, and many smaller food and discount clothing stores. You'll also find Crossroads Christian Music and Bookstore, a big MC Sporting Goods, Dragon's Lair Futons, and Michael's, a crafts and art supply store with a huge selection of artificial flora. The newer Village Centre is an international food destination. Notable is Sing Tong, a bright and well-stocked Asian food emporium. Diners can take their pick from a quietly beautiful Japanese restaurant, Godaiko, the familyrun Original 60's sub and pizza shop, and the Aussie-themed Outback Steakhouse. Other Centre-dwellers: an impressive Midwest Piano showroom, Homestead Furniture and Gallery, KSI kitchen cabinets, and Video Watch.

Carpenter Road from Washtenaw Avenue to Ellsworth Road used to be one of the perimeters of Ann Arbor, back when there was actually farmland to be passed through before reaching Ypsilanti. Now, it's a bona fide strip peppered with businesses. A Sam's Club discount warehouse looms at the corner of Michigan Avenue and Carpenter Road, while a Meijer hypermarket sprawls across the corner of Carpenter and Ellsworth. "Big" is the operative word at Carpenter Plaza (corner of Carpenter and Packard), where a huge Kroger supermarket opened last year next to Best Products and Minnesota Fabrics. Next door, a vast HQ (Home Quarters) superstore caters to the needs of local do-it-yourselfers (competing with Builders Square nearby on Washtenaw). Also in the plaza: Staples, Arbor Drugs, and Belle Tire. Miles of Golf, an audio store, and a florist are located across the street.

Jackson Road, bisecting fast-growing Scio Township from east to west, has sprouted a series of small strip centers in recent years. They cater mostly to the needs of residents of the new subdivisions leapfrogging their way westward and of city dwellers hunting for a shopping ambiance that's not quite mall, not quite downtown. A cruise down Jackson Road offers everything from fresh fish (from Mr. Dee's Seafood and Things) to hot tubs to tombstones. At Jackson Centre, one can find a well-stocked Futon Factory, Affordable Window, and Eagle Window and Door, as well as two restaurants-the Elite Bakeries and Uptown Coney Island-sharing a single large space. Parkland Plaza is home to Bryan Computers, the Smoker's Hub, and the interestingly titled Images Created by Van Buren's Salon, a full-service photo studio and beauty salon under one roof. A bit farther west, Independence Plaza offers Garage Sale Gallery, an Arthur Murray Dance Studio, Mr. Fireplace, and Huron Pet Supply. Down the road, Honey Creek Plaza houses Yesterday's Collection, a collectibles store for automobile and motorcycle enthusiasts paired with a 1960's-style ice-cream parlor. If you feel inspired, you can purchase a restored Cadillac, complete with tailfins, to go with your hotfudge sundae. Even before the strips' arrival, Jackson Road was lined with auto dealerships and garages, and with the addition of the Ann Arbor Auto Mall, their number is growing.

Plymouth Road is the main artery of Ann Arbor's north side. Its proximity to hospitals and student housing results in a higher-thanaverage percentage of shoppers wearing surgical scrubs. Near US-23, the Plymouth Green shopping center is anchored by Arbor Drugs and a Busch's Valu Land supermarket. Of note here is Carroll's Corner, manna for those who love tea and everything related to it; next door, Carroll's operates the Trellis Cafe and Tea Room. Several gift shops and restaurants also dot the plaza. Farther west, two impressive neighborhood shopping centers occupy opposite corners at the intersection of Plymouth and Nixon roads. Plymouth Road Mall is home to the bustling Merchant of Vino Warehouse, which draws customers with its unusual gourmet items plus first-rate produce, fresh meat, pasta, and baked goods from some of the area's finest purveyors, plus (of course) a large selection of wine and an eclectic selection of imported and microbrewery beers. The mall also houses the well-stocked and helpfully staffed Carpenter Bros. Hardware, Flim Flam Family Restaurant and Deli for unpretentious good eating, the Wine Seller for those intimidated by the vastness of the Merchant of Vino, and a mix of antiques and gift shops. Across Nixon Road, Traver Village boasts a massive Kroger, Webster's Books, a popular branch of Kerrytown's Kitchen Port, Crown House of Gifts, Letty's women's wear, White Rabbit Toys, Blockbuster Video, a host of other small businesses, and its very own police station.

Dennis Gala tends the salad bar at his South Main Market store, Gala Produce.

The health-conscious can drop in at the General Nutrition Center or stop in for a consultation at Jenny Craig. Animal lovers find everything they need at Pet Supplies Plus or the Wild Bird Center. For confirmation of the validity of the latter store's name, just look at their sign—the holes in the letters are filled with the nests of real-live birds.

Farther west, look for many changes to take place this year at the Courtyard Shops, off Plymouth at Murfin Drive; ownership changed hands in the summer of 1996. At this Writing, four shops and the Shops Above minimall had closed, and new shops will begin to fill their spaces this fall. Meanwhile, many shops are still going strong and are definitely worth a visit, including Looking Glass Quilt Shop, Cloth Encounters, and Angel Treasures. Magic Memories sells party stuff and delivers flowers; and New Adventures provides collectors of all ages with comics, cards, and collectibles. The courtyard hosts a variety of restaurants and food shops; look for new additions to this crowd during the upcoming year. Exotic Bakeries has been at the plaza since 1991. It's been joined by a Subway, Cafe Marie, Lucky Kitchen, Ayse's Courtyard Cafe, and Jerusalem International Market.

Washtenaw Avenue from Platt Road east to US-23 is an interesting strip peppered with some unusual businesses. The Pittsfield Village Shopping Center, at the corner of Washtenaw and Pittsfield (don't look for a sign; there isn't one) is home to a wide array of stores selling cowboy boots, oriental rugs, wedding gowns, scuba gear, honey-baked hams, and more. Look here for Once Upon a Child, quite possibly the largest and best-organized children's resale shop in town. Also in this this area: locally owned and chain restaurants and motels, car dealerships, and stores selling hardware, floor coverings, and other domestic merchandise. Just to the west, at Washtenaw and Huron Parkway, is a huge Barnes & Noble Superstore, complete with an attached software store and in-house coffee shop. To the east, Arborland anchors the strip from its spot at the top of the hill, just before US-23.

West Stadium Boulevard between Pauline Boulevard and Jackson Road is the west side counterpart of Washtenaw, displaying the mix typical of classic American arterial retailing. This area once marked the western edge of urban Ann Arbor, but there's little sense of that now. Businesses concerned with cars and food, including locally owned and chain restaurants, dominate a scene spotted with Sporting goods, appliance, photo, clothing, and hardware stores. (The knowledgeable staff at Stadium Hardware help fill the gap left by the closing of Schlenker's downtown, while Ace Barnes Hardware offers a remarkable range of Well-selected housewares.) Stadium merges with Maple Road just south of Jackson Road, the street that separates the two major shopping centers of the strip: Westgate and Maple Village. Maple Village houses Kmart, Dunham's Sporting Goods, Minnesota Fabrics, Radio Shack, Fashion Bug, Fox Village Theater (see Entertainment, p. 141), an assortment of smaller businesses, and pair of restaurants at opposite ends of its parking lot, the Golden Chef Chinese restaurant and the Village Kitchen. Westgate is one of the area's most user-friendly plazas. You can pick out a new wardrobe at Marti Walker or T J Maxx, complete the outfits with shoes from Mast's, pick up a travel book at the Little Professor bookstore, and book a trip at the travel agency. The West Branch of the Ann Arbor Public Library is nestled in one corner, next to Pictures Plus, a print and frame store. Those in need of cards or cleats can find them at Happy House Hallmark and Play It Again Sports, respectively. Westgate's Kroger supermarket attracts throngs of shoppers; an even bigger one is under construction just south of the center on Maple Rd., next door to Maple Ridge Antiques. On Stadium just north of Liberty you'll find Arbor Farms, Ann Arbor's original natural foods supermarket.

Finally, Ann Arbor's neighborhood shopping strips run the gamut from funky to fashionable. The assortment of stores at the foot of Broadway boasts two thrift shops, a comparatively cozy Kroger store, Big City Bakery on Broadway, and a local landmark-Broadway Gifts, a Hallmark store housed in an old church and sporting a giant gift box on what was once the steeple. The intersection of Packard and Platt roads, once the center of the independent town of East Ann Arbor, features many shops that have served loyal clienteles for decades, including Buster's Food Mart, Craft Appliance, and East Ann Arbor Hardware. Lamp Post Plaza, where East Stadium and Washtenaw merge, attracts shoppers from throughout Ann Arbor to the popular Whole Foods grocery store; Merkel's Floors; Charlotte's Corner, a children's book and toy store with its own play area; Findings, which sells everything needed for beadwork and jewelry making; a jeweler and a florist; Soccer Mania; the Klothes Kloset resale shop; and several service businesses. South Main Market, on Main Street just south of Madison, is home to six excellent small food stores including a Dough Boys bakery and the Back Alley Gourmet. A Chinese restaurant, a tanning salon, and Rite Aid Drugs round out the plaza. The Georgetown Mall on Packard is a neighborhood strip with a Kroger, a drugstore, a gift shop that houses a post office substation with Saturday morning hours, and several service stores. The Maple-Miller Shopping Center, though small, has an upbeat set of stores. Its most recent addition, Kowalski Kowality Market, is a prototype for the Detroit sausage-maker's next generation of retailing.

CABLE RADIO SERVICE

Digital Music Express, 2505 South Industrial. 973-2266. Ann Arbor's cable TV provider also offers a music service. Subscribers can rent receivers which, attached to their own stereos, give them access to 30 channels of commercial-free, disc jockey-free, CD-quality music. The receiver comes with temote control and a digital display that shows the channel, song currently playing, artist, album, and composer, if applicable. Cost: $7.95/month for residential service plus $20.75 for the initial hookup.

TELEVISION

CARLE

Continental Cablevision, 2505 South Industrial. 973-2266. This company supplies cable television to almost all of Ann Arbor and surrounding areas. Continental Cable has two options for flat-rate monthly service: Lifeline offers the local broadcast stations; community access channels; WTBS, an Atlanta superstation; WGN, Chicago's superstation; CNN Headline News; and message generator bulletin board services. Cost: $9.30/month. Continental Cable Basic service adds additional channels, including CNN, ESPN, C-Span, and the Black Entertainment Network-63 channels in all. Cost: $22.30/month (10 percent discount on Basic for heads of households who are disabled or age 65 or older). Premium channels include HBO, Cinemax, Disney, PASS, the Movie Channel, Showtime, Encore and Starz, and FXM. Cost: $7.95-$9.95/month each. Discounts are available for two or more premium channels. Continental Cable also has three pay-per-view channels; movies are $3-$4 each, and special events are individually priced. Initial hookup for all cable services costs $25. Simple cable activation costs $20.75. Add $1.90/month for a converter box if your TV is not cable-ready, and 40¢/month for remote control rental, if desired.

COMMUNITY TELEVISION NETWORK (CTN)

Cable Channels 8, 9, 10, 11 (on Continental Cablevision), 425 S. Main, Suite LL 114. 769–7422. With the motto "Real People, Real Television," Ann Arbor's CTN makes all facets of television production available to the residents of Ann Arbor. Local citizens and nonprofit organizations produce the programs; CTN provides the training and equipment free of charge. Monthly preview sessions offer instruction on use of the studio, camcorders, and editing equipment. Program schedules are listed on each channel and in the Ann Arbor News. Program hours: Mon.–Fri. 10 a.m.–midnight; Sat. 9 a.m.–5 p.m.; Sun. 2–10 p.m. Public service announcements are posted during offhours. Ann Arbor nonprofit organizations are invited to submit announcements. CTN also provides "Access Soapbox" and "Access Ann Arbor" for anyone interested in airing views or making announcements. No preview necessary. Call to schedule an appearance. E-mail: aacat@chamber. ann-arbor.mi.us

Channel 8. Educational and informational programs featuring local children in presentations sponsored by the Ann Arbor Public Schools, local authors on the Ann Arbor Public Library's "Booked for Lunch" program, and televised college courses from Washtenaw Community College.

Channel 9. Citizens and community groups share opinions and ideas and display creative work in various programs.

Channel 10. Live, gavel-to-gavel coverage of Ann Arbor City Council, the Board of Education, and many other government meetings. Public information programs include "For Your Information" and "At Issue."

Channel 11. A free interactive electronic bulletin board available Mon.–Fri. 6 a.m.–10 p.m. and 24 hours a day on weekends. To participate, tune in, pick up your Touch-Tone phone, and follow the instructions on your TV. Information on school lunch menus, City Hall, and community events information through AALINC, Ann Arbor's Local Information Channel.

CTN Online. A free computer bulletin board system accessed with a modem by dialing 994–1743. Users chat with one another, post and receive private Email, check city job postings, retrieve city council agendas, and take advantage of shareware files.

EMERGENGYISERVICES

EMERGENCY 911

For emergencies in Ann Arbor and all of Washtenaw County, dial 911. This emergency number connects callers with the nearest police communications center or Washtenaw Central Dispatch. These centers are linked directly to Huron Valley Ambulance and to local fire departments. After dialing 911, give the dispatcher your name and the phone number and address at which emergency aid is needed. Do not hang up until after the dispatcher does. Coins are not needed for 911 calls from pay phones.

ANIMALS

Animal Control (City of Ann Arbor). 994–2865 (Mon.-Fri. 8 a.m.-2:30 p.m.; after hours, 994–2911). Responds to complaints about loose dogs and follows up on dog bites.

Animal Emergency Clinic of Washtenaw County, 4126 Packard. 971–8774. After-hours emergency veterinary care for dogs and cats. (No routine veterinary care.) Hours: weekdays 6 p.m.–8 a.m.; Sat. noon–Mon. 8 a.m.; holidays 24 hours.

S.O.S. Community Crisis Center, 114 N. River, Ypsilanti. 485–3222 (24 hours). Free phone and walk-in crisis counseling for any Washtenaw County resident. Volunteer (nonclinical) counseling. Assistance available for emergency food, transportation, health care, or legal needs.

U-M Hospitals Psychiatric Emergency Services. 996–4747 (24 hours). Suicide and emotional-crisis counseling by phone or walk-in. Psychiatric emergency room for immediate crisis counseling (go to U-M Hospitals emergency department). Emergency outreach service sends crisis team to psychiatric emergencies within Washtenaw County.

Washtenaw County Protective Services (Family Independence Agency). 481–9110 (24 hours). Emergency investigative response for people in neglect or abuse situations, either physical or emotional, including children, the frail elderly, those with physical or developmental disabilities, or those suffering from mental illness.

DISASTERS

American Red Cross Disaster Line. 971–5300 (Mon.–Fri. 8:30 a.m.–5 p.m.; after-hours answering machine directs messages to on-duty staff). Information on the following emergency services: the Michigan Consolidated Gas heat bank program (preventing winter utility shutoff and assistance with other utilities) and the Ann Arbor assistance fund (preventing housing eviction). Food, clothing, and shelter relief for victims of natural disasters, and information to families with relatives in disaster areas. Emergency worldwide communication and financial assistance for families with members in the military.

Disaster Preparedness. 994–4171 (Mon.–Fri., 8 a.m.–4:30 p.m.). Provides information about severe storm systems, industrial disasters, and hazardous material spills or leaks within Ann Arbor. The Washtenaw County Office of Emergency Management (971–1152) handles the same concerns for areas outside the Ann Arbor city limits (within Washtenaw County) and also fields questions about the 911 surcharge on phone bills.

DOMESTIC VIOLENCE/ FAMILY CRISES

Domestic Violence Project/SAFE House. 995–5444 (24 hours). Free crisis counseling for domestic violence victims. Emergency shelter for survivors of domestic violence available 24 hours, seven days.

National Child Abuse Hotline. (800) 422–4453 (24 hours). National service provides crisis counseling for children in abuse situations and adult survivors of abuse. Provides referrals to local services. Also handles calls from people who suspect child abuse or neglect, or those who want information on related issues. (Note for children calling this number: once the hotline picks up, press "1" if you are under sixteen; press "2" if you are over sixteen.) English- and Spanish-speaking respondents.

No Abuse Line. (800) 996–6228 (24 hours). Statewide hotline for domestic violence situations. Provides crisis counseling to both victims and batterers. Provides referrals to shelters, support groups, and appropriate social service agencies.

HEALTH EMERGENCIES

Regional Poison Control Center. (800) POI-SON-1, or 764-7661 (24 hours). Give poison emergency staff the patient's name and phone number, patient's symptoms, any available information on the toxic agent ingested or inhaled, and time elapsed. If possible, have the poisonous product with you when you call. Poison emergency staff will make referrals and follow-up calls if necessary. The center urges all households to have syrup of ipecac on hand in case the center advises its use.

St. Joseph Mercy Hospital General Emergency-712-3000.

U-M Hospitals General Emergency. 936-6666.

LAW ENFORCEMENT

Ann Arbor Police Department, 100 N. Fifth Ave. Nonemergency calls and towed vehicles: 994–2875.

U-M Campus Emergency Telephones. There are eighty-six freestanding, blue-light emergency telephones around the U-M campus. They connect the caller directly to the U-M Department of Public Safety (24 hours), which in turn calls police, fire, or ambulance services. To use, just pick up the handset; no coin or dialing is necessary. Simply lifting the handset gives DPS the location of the phone. There will be onsite response within five minutes. In addition, there are approximately 255 emergency telephones spread through campus parking structures and in the elevators of newer campus buildings. These phones require the push of one button; no coin or dialing is necessary.

SUBSTANCE ABUSE

Alcoholics Anonymous (AA). 482–5700 (24 hours). Calls to this answering service are returned every two hours during business hours (9 a.m.–11 p.m.). Service provides information on AA support group meetings, and contacts medical help if necessary. Phone counseling also available.
